GREAT BATTLE NEAR CONSTANTINOPLE

THE WEATHER

Fair today; Tuesday fair with rising temperature; moderate northwest to north winds, becoming variable.

Sun rises 6:39 a. m., sets 4:26 p. m. Moon sets 12:04 a. m. High tide 6:15 a. m., 6:30 p. m.

Temperature: Boston 38, Chicago 42, Denver 50, New Orleans 50.6

BOSTON AMERICAN

VOL. 9—No. 241. BOSTON, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1912. Registered in U. S. Patent Office. PRICE ONE CENT.

SECOND EDITION

MOTHER SEES SON'S SLAYER IN DREAM

4 CHILD MURDERS LAID TO SLAYER

BIG FINAL BATTLE IS RAGING

From the Special War Correspondent of the Boston American and London Daily Chronicle at Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 18.—The great, and in all probability, the final battle of the war, is raging before Constantinople.

There is a continuous and terrifying cannonade which shakes the air.

The firing of heavy guns began Saturday evening, lasted all night, with a short cessation before dawn, and began again at five yesterday morning. Every available roof in the capital is crowded with frightened groups listening to the roar of artillery and watching the flashes of the dull fire.

A courier who has just arrived from the front reports that a terrific engagement is going on all along the lines at the Tchataldja forts.

Turkish warships in the Black Sea and Sea of Marmora are co-operating with the land forces, keeping up a bombardment on both ends of the line in the hope of checking any turning movement by the Bulgarians.

The cannonade of the land and sea artillery is so intense that houses in the Constantinople suburb of Kerseer Burgna, a dozen miles from the front, are violently shaken.

Land to Guard Foreigners.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 18.—Detachments for the protection of foreign institutions have been landed and are kept concealed in the buildings and will only co-operate with the local Turkish forces should assistance be required.

The Sanitary Board urged that steps be taken to prevent the armies now facing each other at Tchataldja from entering the capital owing to the cholera epidemic.

Several more prominent Unionists, including Talaat Bey, ex-Cabinet Minister, have been arrested. A notorious member of the party, Djanpoulate Bey, resisted arrest, killing one officer and wounding another. He was then secured, court-martialed and sentenced to death.

American Marines Land.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 18.—A detachment of American marines was sent to the American Embassy from the station ship Scorpion, which then moved up the Bosporus to a position opposite Arnaut Keui to protect a girls' school.

Several American women in the girls' school at Scutari, Asia Minor, remain across the Bosphorus, aiding and encouraging the Turkish and other families.

The Scorpion will take care of the American women in Scutari if any danger arises. Turkish gendarmes are at present guarding them.

The American Ambassador, Mr. Rockhill, has received altogether about $27,000 from the American Red Cross and private American subscriptions. Mrs. Rockhill has other American women daily at the embassy to sew for the Turkish soldiers.

There are now over 1,000 cases of cholera daily in and around Constantinople and the death rate has reached 50 per cent. The authorities are quite powerless. On Thursday last 3,000 cholera patients arrived by train at San Stefano.

Mrs. A. G. Vanderbilt Gives Beauty Crown to American Women

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—"It was a wonderfully brilliant night—up to and more than I had expected."

That is how the beautiful young wife of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt described in her apartments of the Hotel Vanderbilt her impressions of the first night of the Horse Show. It is the first big fashionable function in this country at which she has appeared since she became the wife of the millionaire.

"I have seen many wonderful aggregations of women in London and on the Continent since I left America, but American women need envy no woman for they are of incomparable beauty and taste. The array of women in the boxes at Madison square would not be challenged for beauty," added Mrs. Vanderbilt.

Asked if the baby which has blessed their home looks like her, Mrs. Vanderbilt laughingly said: "Oh, it's such a tiny lamb that we couldn't tell when we came over here. It has eyes that some days are the color of mine and on other days Mr. Vanderbilt says are just like his. I want them to be like his father's and he is anxious for the day thing to look like me."

RALPH THOMPSON WEDS THIRD TIME

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Ralph O. Thompson, sportsman, one time Yale coxswain and former husband of Mrs. Norman Selby, Kid McCoy's second wife, is in New York with his third wife. He is going to settle down and make his home here, he says.

Mrs. Thompson, the third, was Mrs. Maud Grey. She says the marriage is her second. They were married at New Haven by the same justice of the peace who performed the ceremony wedding Thompson to Mrs. Kid McCoy. The same license clerk who issued Thompson his license six years ago gave him the license for his third elopement.

SNOWS THIS WEEK, WEATHER MAN SAYS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—"Rains or snows will set in early over the north Pacific States and the far Northwest, continuing during much of the week," according to the weather bureau's weekly bulletin, "and extending eastward over the northern portion, reach the upper lake region about the middle of the week and the northeastern districts toward the end. There are no present prospects of unusually cold weather.

THINKS DYING BOY WAS HIT BY AUTO

BROCKTON, Nov. 18.—The manner in which seven-year-old Charles Hunter received a fracture of the skull, which will probably result in his death despite a delicate operation, is still a mystery today. The police incline to the theory that the lad, who was found in the middle of Pleasant street, was struck by the automobile owned by Mrs. Elisabeth J. Atwood of Norwood. Mrs. Atwood denies that her machine struck the boy.

FEAR SCHOONER AND FOUR ABOARD LOST

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 18.—It was feared here that the schooner E. B. Marvin, formerly the Gloucester fishing schooner Mollie Adams, has been lost with all on board while bound from Perth Amboy, N. J., to Halifax. The Marvin carried three men besides Captain Cox, and left Perth Amboy October 31 and has not been heard from since.

ORGANIZE NORTH END IMPROVEMENT BODY

The North End Improvement Association was organized last evening by a score of enthusiastic young men at the Civic Service House on Salem street. The first step will be taken at a mass meeting next Sunday evening, at which Judge Levering, Mayor Bloomfield and Donald Wilhelm will speak.

600 PAY HONOR TO CARDINAL TONIGHT

Six hundred prominent Catholics will greet Cardinal O'Connell in the state suite at the Copley-Plaza tonight, at a reception tendered almost a year from the time when he was elevated to the cardinalate. President Joseph H. O'Neil of the Catholic Union will deliver an address of welcome to the Cardinal.

"GAINED 19 Lbs.—FR. JOHN'S Medicine built me up." Dr. D. Wash., 1744 20th St., Washington, D. C. Pure tonic.

ARRAIGN THREE AS SLAYERS OF HOOD EMPLOYE

Three men will be arraigned in the Waltham court today charged with the murder of Frank Cirillo, an employe of the Hood Rubber Company, whose death was a result of a wrangle over the question of going back to work when the mill opened today.

Cirillo was shot through the neck and died instantly. Francesco Farbo, seriously cut about the face and neck during a fracas at about the same time, is at the hospital in a serious condition.

The men to be arraigned today are:

Tomaso Filiardi, twenty-three, of No. 87 Arlington street, East Watertown.

Gabriel Lepora, twenty-eight, of the same address.

Vincenzo Ristogono of No. 8 Berkeley street, East Watertown.

Luigi Ligaro, Francesco Carelli, Carmine Gigliotte and Giovannilli Pugliero are held as witnesses in the case.

The police have secured the stories of two or more of the witnesses.

Stories of Two Prisoners.

Francesco Carelli told them that he and Cirillo were walking together, when suddenly a group of men ran up behind them and fired three shots. He, Carelli, took to his heels, leaving Cirillo dead in the road.

Luigi Ligaro told the police that he and others were in the boarding house at No. 86 Arlington street, and that they had been discussing the trouble at the Hood mills. Francesco Farbo came in and said there were five men outside threatening to kill him. Ligaro and the three men now charged with murder, went out together.

Hood Factory Reopens.

The Hood factory was expected to reopen today, and a heavy guard of police was on hand to check disorder. Cirillo is said by the police to have been a "loyal" employe, who insisted on going back to work today, and a quarrel over this is believed to have led to his death.

Cirillo lived at No. 817 Mt. Auburn street.

EDISON TO DIRECT BUSINESS IN PERSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Thomas A. Edison, while holding financial control of the many corporations that have been built around his inventions has always permitted others to conduct his business methods, is now to become active commander in chief of the whole corporate machinery. This became public with the first announcement of the resignation of Frank L. Dyer, as president of the Edison Company and allied interests.

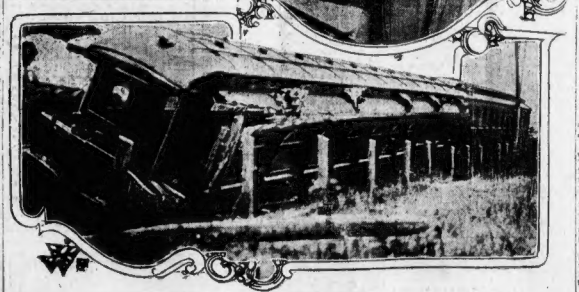
RAYNER GAINS TODAY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The condition of Senator Isidor Rayner of Maryland, who is seriously ill with neuritis, was slightly improved today.

Government Wreck Inquiry May Prosecute N. H. Heads

3d Disaster in Two Days; 1 Dead

THE WRECK OF THE MERCHANTS' LIMITED



Agents of the Interstate Commerce Commission today began an investigation of the wreck of the Merchants' Limited at Green's Farms, Ct., and of the fatal freight wreck at Putnam yesterday, when one man was killed.

Persons who visited the scene of the Green's Farm's wreck declared they had pulled spikes out of the rotten ties with their hands, the wood was so rotten. It was also asserted that pieces could be plucked out of the ties here handed.

A mass meeting of protest against the New Haven's wreck record is planned for next Wednesday at Norwalk, Ct.

Eastern railroad heads are to meet in Boston soon, at the request of the Interstate Commerce Commission to discuss measures of wreck prevention.

The Merchants' Limited wreck is laid to rotten ties, just as in the case of the Westport disaster on October 2, which killed seven persons, when the train took a short crossover. The short crossover was also blamed for the Federal Express wreck, more than a year ago, in which fourteen were killed.

Spikes Pulled Out.

An effort has been made to show that the wreck of the Merchants' Limited was due to the dropping of a brake shoe in the switch as the train passed over. The fact is, however, that the ties in the road bed were so rotten that the spikes were ripped from the wood.

No one but the wood that persons who visited the wreck res-

Continued on Page 12, Column 1

Continued on Page 12, Column 2

GRAND TRUNK PROBE ON HERE

The Grand Trunk-New Haven "deal," by which Boston's hopes for a new railroad were shattered, will be investigated by the attorneys conducting the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing which reopens today in the Federal Building.

John T. Marchand, counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission, will question the New Haven representatives.

He says that the essential facts in relation to the "deal" will be brought out. While admitting that the Interstate Commerce Commission has no authority to prevent agreements between railroads unless existing rates are disturbed, he says that the investigation into the general railroad situation in New England will be so widened in its scope that the public may know who owns the New Haven system and the general terms of the proposed traffic arrangement between the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Grand Trunk, which is being made as a result of the cessation of work on the Southern New England Railroad.

The hearing will be conducted by Ward Prouty, son of Commissioner Charles A. Prouty of Vermont, who has conducted the previous hearings. The younger Mr. Prouty has also attended some of the hearings, and is an inspector of the commission, with authority to take testimony.

The Commission will devote much of its inquiry into the question of the pro-

MAN HELD AS POST CARD SLAYER SAYS HE LIVES IN HUB

The "post card slayer," who is being sought by Boston and New York police, may have a murder record even larger than that to which he has confessed.

Investigations in New York today indicated that he may have been the murderer of Robert Lomas and Arthur Shipley, shot down in a New York park in 1910, by a man who was never arrested.

The slayer of these two boys was well dressed. The New York police believe the man whose postal cards have cleared up two mysteries and resulted in finding one boy's body, is a member of a well known New York family.

BOY'S MOTHER D REAMS OF SLAYER.

At the time of the murder of Martin Kruck, a New York newsboy, in 1902, this name was suggested. The "post card slayer" has confessed to killing Kruck.

Mrs. Kruck declared to the police today that she has dreamed of her boy's murderer as attacking herself. She described the man as seen in her dreams.

Every police officer in Boston and every postoffice employe is watching today for the adult Jesse Pomeroy, the nameless slayer of small boys, whose existence has been revealed by the series of postal cards and letters received by the police of Lackawanna, N. Y., confessing to three murders and threatening another.

One postal card mailed from Boston read in part:

Shall kill some kid before I leave here.

A card mailed last Saturday morning at the Essex street postal station revealed the fact that the slayer was still in the city at that time.

Hold Suspect in Rochester, N. Y.

The police of Rochester, N. Y., have arrested a man who is held under suspicion of being the "Postal Card Murderer." This man attracted attention to himself by entering a saloon with a small boy, twelve years old. The Lackawanna police have sent officers to Rochester, and an investigation is afoot to establish whether the suspect is in fact the writer of the sinister messages.

The New York police say that three boys have been killed there in the last ten years when positive identification of the murderer was not made. One was the murder of the Kruck boy and the other two the double murder of Robert Lomas and

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

3 AUTOS CRASH; THREE INJURED

Three prominent people were hurt and others had narrow escapes in an accident in which three automobiles crashed together early today at Lynnfield. Those injured were:

DR. JAMES L. KOCK of the Westminster; bruised and possible fracture of leg.

MRS. JAMES L. KOCK, wife of the doctor; injury to spine; condition serious.

CHESTER KNIGHT, an actor appearing in Boston; broken collar bone.

Others in the wreck who were badly shaken up were Manager Thomas D. Lothian of the Colonial Theatre, Mrs. Lothian and another woman in their car and the mother of Mrs. Kock.

The Lothian and Kock cars were on their way toward Boston from the Fernecroft Inn. They were run into, head on, by a big touring car run by Loren Southwick, a leather manufacturer of Peabody. The three cars were wrecked.

The Lothians and Knight were in the forward car, followed closely by the Kock's car. The Lothians and Kocks are friends. The Southwick car hit the Lothian car, knocked it out of the way and then bumped into the Kock car.

The injured people were taken to the Suntaug Inn, where their hurts were attended to temporarily by Dr. Benjamin F. Sturgis of Salem and Dr. Foster of Peabody.

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

RAISE BARRE SMALLPOX QUARANTINE.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 18.—The smallpox quarantine has been raised at Barre after two months. Public gatherings will be resumed today. There have been thirty-one cases. Several hours' snowfall last night will greatly aid deer hunters. Number shot far below last year, but deer are averaging heavier.

CHIMAY'S HUSBAND IN OREGON JAIL.

PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 18.—Fourteen men, a number of them prominent in business and professional life, are under arrest following the confession by a boy arraigned in the delinquency court. Among those in jail is "Gypsy" Rigo, the violinist, who eloped some years ago with the Princess Chimay.

RAID RITZ-CARLTON IN SUNDAY CRUSADE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Hotel circles were stirred today by the police invasion of the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton and the arrest of carpenters and decorators in respect to the Sunday laws.

POLCE STOP FIGHT IN GREEK CHURCH

HAVERHILL, Nov. 18.—A squad of police were called to the Greek Orthodox Church to quell a fight among 500 men of the congregation, who were belaboring each other with long strips of flooring in the heat of a religious discussion.

(WANT HELP?) Ask for The Ad Taker

Main 5180

AMERICAN WANT ADS Received before 11 a. m. go in all later big editions—get help same day.

SEES BOY'S SLAYER IN DREAM

Continued from First Page.

Arthur Shipley, in Highbridge Park, Washington Heights, January 15, 1910. In the former case the police were unable to obtain a clew of any sort and in the latter a man named Herbert Dennison was arrested, and after being found insane was sent to the State Insane Asylum at Matteawan, N. Y.

Slayer Never Found.

There were no indictments for murder found against Dennison, and, while he is confined in the asylum, there is not and never was any proof produced to bring the charge of murder against him.

The case of Michael Kruck caused a sensation throughout the city in December, 1902, when his body was found near a bridle path in Central Park. One of the post cards received in Lackawanna from the maniac who has confessed four murders contains the name of Michael Kruck and declares the writer committed the crime. It read:

Double Shooting.

Wednesday night, December 10, 1902, I enticed Michael Rieae Kruck, a newsboy at Eighty-Sixth street and Central Park West, New York city, into the park opposite the entrance to the Arsenal Police station. I strangled him and just escaped the officer, who found him as I came back. Three times have I taken life. Twelve times have I tried, and I cannot help it.

The boy was found by Policeman Richard Koestger, and at first was thought that the boy had died of starvation and exposure.

The other two boys were shot and killed while coasting in Highbridge Park, Washington Heights, January 15, 1910. The police were unable to get a description of the double murder because the Lomas boy was instantly killed, two bullets passing through his heart, and the Salsbey boy became unconscious soon after the shooting and died five days later in the Washington Heights Hospital.

Several little children, who were several hundred yards away when the boys were fired upon, said that the man who fired the shots was well dressed and did not look like a bad character. He advanced upon the two little boys without warning, drew a revolver from his back pocket and fired. It was said that he walked leisurely away after the shooting and disappeared.

On the following evening Harry Kolsch was arrested in Astoria. He was able to prove an alibi and was released. Two days later Herbert Dennison, who said he was an actor, was arrested for the crime, but nothing was ever proved to convict him with it.

The New York police departments in vestigation of the Kruck murder, according to dispatches today, indicates that the "pen and silver" is an insane member of a well-known New York family.

At the time of the murder in New York, December 10, 1902, Detectives McCafferty and Price ascertained that a certain man often living on the West Side was the most likely person to have fired the boy to his death. They were developing clues when they learned that the family of the suspect had rallied to his defense and removed him from the city.

Then, it was said at police headquarters, the first definite clue regarding this man's guilt was received. It was in the form of a letter. A local inquiries official said today:

Police Received Letter.

The letter, strange to relate, was dated Buffalo, the city to which this present series of postal cards is being directed. It stated that the murderer of little Michael Kruck was not the flower peddler or jealous newsboys, as McCafferty and Price were quoted in the newspapers as suspecting, but a man who, when insane from drink, was possessed with an unconquerable desire to kill young boys.

The inspector in charge of the detective bureau at that time alone assigned certain men to run down the writer of this letter. They were unsuccessful. Every clew, small only in appearance, was followed up, and keep the man from giving himself up.

McCafferty, who was later promoted to inspector in charge of the detective bureau, is dead. Price has charge of the Bronx Detective Bureau, and is later as the man killed investigator in the department. He said yesterday that he has valuable information regarding the Kruck murder and intends turning it over to his superiors. Beyond this he refused to talk on the case.

Police Busy Again.

The police have renewed activity in the matter. One of the detectives sent out, Lieutenant Mulligan, of the West Side district, visited the present home of the Krucks at No. 120 West Sixty-first street. All facts regarding the murder of the young boy were detailed to him.

The Kruck family consists of Henry D. Kruck, a tailor, with his shop at No. 119 West Forty-third street, his wife Rose and four children—Camille, seventeen years old; James, Harry and John. Mrs. Kruck held special services every Saturday night, invoking aid in finding the murderer of her son. She feels assured the slayer will soon be given his due.

Mrs. Kruck said to the detective:

Dreams of Slayer.

I dream of my dead boy almost nightly. I see him as he was when he last left home, and I see the vile animal who killed him. He was a dark man, muscular and about five feet ten inches in height. I always see the same man. He appears to be an artist and is always before a canvas painting.

Only Friday night I dreamed of him. I saw vivid dream in which I thought he stepped down from a ladder on which he stood, and drawing a knife, plunged it into my body several times. After he had stabbed me he crept like a child and begged my forgiveness. Somehow I could not blame him when I beheld his misery. I am sure the guilty man bore the face that I see in my dreams and I now feel sure that he will be caught.

Filled often with horrible and detailed scenes of cards and letters have been received by the Lackawanna police. The post card confessed to the murder of Joseph Josephs, a Lackawanna boy. A later letter told of the killing of Michael Kruck.

Directions were followed, the body was found, and then for the first time, the Lackawanna police put credence in the missives.

The first of the letters was received September 11. Some are clear, some written in something resembling Sanskrit. The writer often says he is under the influence of drink. He declares that he has a homicidal mania—that he is a "fiendish man," a man of wealth and family, and in one communication he gave as his reason for not surrendering to the Boston police the fact that he is known to him too.

God's Reaper.

No signatures has appeared on any of the letters. One has the phrase signifying "God's Reaper," and indicating the terrible mental catastrophe which has overtaken the man.

A letter was received by the father of the Josephs boy, describing how the lad was slain, revealing his abnormal mind.

Lackawanna people are so incensed over the mystery that it is feared the man's capture will result in an attempted lynching.

The letter mailed in Boston last Saturday was written on the stationery of the Tremont Hotel, No. 207 Tremont street.

The manager of this house said that few visiting parties or has not lost any stationery, and that the letter paper used must have been obtained a considerable time ago.

This hotel is close to the Boston News Bureau, at No. 377 Tremont street. In circumstances of possible importance in view of the fact that the whisky will then have soothed the nerves of the murderer, it is stated that the scene of the murder, within twenty-five minutes after the crime was committed, and that, because of her physical condition, she could not have walked the distance in the time questioned.

It is learned that among the 100 witnesses called will be Miss E. A. Drake of Boston, a detective employed by Big Blake. She was "arrested" June 20, last, on the "charge" of passing a worthless check on a Waterville hotelkeeper, and was confined in the same cell as Mrs. Raymond.

This method of securing information is termed "roping" by the police and will be explained when Mrs. Raymond is formally charged with tying a cord around Mattie Hackett's neck and strangling her.

Woman Detective Called.

Miss Drake's story will be of the life of Mrs. Raymond in jail up to the time she was bailed. Her report to the government, it is said, covers confidential conversations with the accused woman. Tales of friendly little games of cribbage between Mrs. Raymond and the jail commissioner, and of the turnkeys' visits also figure. On Sundays Raymond visited his wife and brought her fruit, butter and meat. She was furnished a plat of milk daily.

An extra retire of ninety-eight tablets has been added to the October panel. Among the witnesses is Miss Annie Hicker of No. 142 West Canton street, Boston, who will be used in rebuttal.

The prosecution claims that Raymond said to his wife in the presence of his ten-year-old daughter Gertrude, on the morning after the murder:

"Well, Elsie, you had better be sure to keep your mouth pop wors last night."

Conspicuous among the arrivals are Misses Nettie and Ethel Hackett, sisters of the murdered girl. They came from Boston, accompanied by Detective Fred J. Burns.

Today Mr and Mrs. Levi Hackett, the parents of Mattie, will reach here in company with other witnesses for the government.

Several of the most important exhibits in the case have disappeared in the large safe in the vault. Besides the cord with which, it is alleged, the girl was strangled, the shoes of the horse drives, it is alleged, the shoes of the horse drive, it is alleged, by Bert Raymond the night of the murder, and the original affidavits of the foot tracks which were imbedded in the snowy ground outside the window.

Mrs. Raymond declares that her acquittal stretched away inside the cord, where the body of the girl was found.

Battle of Counsel Due.

The most noted legal talent of the State will meet and battle over the lamp of the woman's guilt or innocence.

Ever since the night of August 17, 1905, the countryside has clamored for a probe of the baffling case. It has even been made the issue of two political contests. A new administration last April, entered on indictment from the Kennebec County Grand Jury.

Ethel Hackett is the sister who rode with Mattie from the Elmwood Hotel to their home two days before Mattie fell victim to the mysterious assassin. Bert Raymond, husband of the woman charged with the crime, it is alleged, drove the team on this occasion. It is also alleged a woman appeared in the path of the vehicle before it had reached the Hackett home.

"I want to see Mrs. Raymond convicted if she did it, but if she did not then I want to see her name cleared," declared Nettie Hackett today.

"We are both sorry we had to be called into the case," said Ethel Hackett. "We want the person found out, but we do not like the constant publicity which it has caused."

The government has in its possession, it is alleged, evidence to show that the shoes Mrs. Raymond is alleged to have worn on the night of the murder were burned. The defence will claim, it is stated, that these shoes were burned prior to the night Mattie was killed. The conflict over this evidence tends to be one of the most sensational features. To combat it the defence it is said, has several important witnesses.

Post Cards in Sinister Mystery

To Superintendent Michael Regan of the Buffalo Police Department:

I am sick of trying to fool myself. I am a homicidal maniac. I killed Joey Josephs of Lackawanna, N. Y., because I did others. Please advertise the fact. Post it or write for the information. Come to—(ink smudges make the balance of the card illegible.

To Chief Ray Gilson of the Lackawanna police force:

Boston, Mass., Sept. 17, 1912. If you only knew the remorse in my heart on account of the murders I have committed as the result of my homicidal mania, even you and George Josephs would pity me. I am writing this from Boston, and cannot forget the date I killed, but like Bunquo's ghost it will not down. I am fast going to pieces, mentally and spiritually.

Boston, Oct. 23, 1912. Am so sick of this business that I shall go to Buffalo next Sunday and will call you on the phone. My brain is worse and all I think of is murder and I love to kill. Shall kill some kid before I leave here Sunday.

Boston, Oct. 30. Joseph Josephs will be found in the bottom of outhouse back of saloon near Doyle's on Ridge road. A drunk-crowned fetish done the deed and remorse and sorrow for the parents is bringing the results which will soon come to the end. The demon whiskey will then have one more victim, making four in all. The next morning I tried to kill a little newsy, an Italian who always stands on the morning at Seneca street and the hotel called. I forgot, but about 120 Seneca street. The boy knows me well. Ask him. I wish to pay the price, but will not let the Boston police get me for my family's sake.

New York, Nov. 12, 1912. I will be in Buffalo Wednesday, November 13, and will call at the police office, at 11 a. m. So shall I expect you to be in your office.

This was the letter signed in Latin, "God's Reaper."

READY TO OPEN HACKETT TRIAL

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 18.—Witnesses, counsel and a venire of jurymen are gathering here today for the opening of the trial tomorrow of Mrs. Elsie Hobbs Raymond, charged with slaying eighteen-year-old Mattie Hackett. The entire State is watching the unfolding of this drama, seven years after the mysterious death of the girl.

Mrs. Raymond declares she will go free. The State alleges the accused was jealous of the Hackett girl. For Mrs. Raymond, counsel will set up an alibi defence. They will endeavor to show that Mrs. Raymond was at her own home, two miles from the scene of the murder, within twenty-five minutes after the crime was committed, and that, because of her physical condition, she could not have walked the distance in the time questioned.

It is learned that among the 100 witnesses called will be Miss E. A. Drake of Boston, a detective employed by Big Blake. She was "arrested" June 20, last, on the "charge" of passing a worthless check on a Waterville hotelkeeper, and was confined in the same cell as Mrs. Raymond.

This method of securing information is termed "roping" by the police and will be explained when Mrs. Raymond is formally charged with tying a cord around Mattie Hackett's neck and strangling her.

Woman Detective Called.

Miss Drake's story will be of the life of Mrs. Raymond in jail up to the time she was bailed. Her report to the government, it is said, covers confidential conversations with the accused woman. Tales of friendly little games of cribbage between Mrs. Raymond and the jail commissioner, and of the turnkeys' visits also figure. On Sundays Raymond visited his wife and brought her fruit, butter and meat. She was furnished a plat of milk daily.

An extra retire of ninety-eight tablets has been added to the October panel. Among the witnesses is Miss Annie Hicker of No. 142 West Canton street, Boston, who will be used in rebuttal.

The prosecution claims that Raymond said to his wife in the presence of his ten-year-old daughter Gertrude, on the morning after the murder:

"Well, Elsie, you had better be sure to keep your mouth pop wors last night."

Conspicuous among the arrivals are Misses Nettie and Ethel Hackett, sisters of the murdered girl. They came from Boston, accompanied by Detective Fred J. Burns.

Today Mr and Mrs. Levi Hackett, the parents of Mattie, will reach here in company with other witnesses for the government.

Several of the most important exhibits in the case have disappeared in the large safe in the vault. Besides the cord with which, it is alleged, the girl was strangled, the shoes of the horse drives, it is alleged, the shoes of the horse drive, it is alleged, by Bert Raymond the night of the murder, and the original affidavits of the foot tracks which were imbedded in the snowy ground outside the window.

Mrs. Raymond declares that her acquittal stretched away inside the cord, where the body of the girl was found.

Battle of Counsel Due.

The most noted legal talent of the State will meet and battle over the lamp of the woman's guilt or innocence.

Ever since the night of August 17, 1905, the countryside has clamored for a probe of the baffling case. It has even been made the issue of two political contests. A new administration last April, entered on indictment from the Kennebec County Grand Jury.

Ethel Hackett is the sister who rode with Mattie from the Elmwood Hotel to their home two days before Mattie fell victim to the mysterious assassin. Bert Raymond, husband of the woman charged with the crime, it is alleged, drove the team on this occasion. It is also alleged a woman appeared in the path of the vehicle before it had reached the Hackett home.

"I want to see Mrs. Raymond convicted if she did it, but if she did not then I want to see her name cleared," declared Nettie Hackett today.

"We are both sorry we had to be called into the case," said Ethel Hackett. "We want the person found out, but we do not like the constant publicity which it has caused."

The government has in its possession, it is alleged, evidence to show that the shoes Mrs. Raymond is alleged to have worn on the night of the murder were burned. The defence will claim, it is stated, that these shoes were burned prior to the night Mattie was killed. The conflict over this evidence tends to be one of the most sensational features. To combat it the defence it is said, has several important witnesses.

PRIMARY FIGHTS ON TOMORROW

Primary election day is tomorrow in many Massachusetts cities. It is not the old-time primary day with its bitter partisan and sectional fights.

Many Massachusetts cities have adopted the commission form of government, substituting for two legislative branches a single one. Outside Boston the Mayor is one member of a small governing board, with no more power than his colleagues.

Salem is the latest of Massachusetts municipalities to doff its old form of government and put on the new.

By a close vote, still in dispute, Salem has declared for no more Mayors, aldermen or common councilmen, and for a board of commissioners, a small one at that, to govern the city. One commissioner will be given the honorary title of "Mayor."

Party Lines Disregarded.

Many of the Massachusetts cities that have adopted the commission form of government have obliterated party lines. No political designation whatever is allowed. So the primaries in most cities resolve themselves into a choice among men. Party lines are to be almost entirely disregarded. Two-year terms have been allowed under the new commission form of government in many cities. Many cities will nominate only candidates for their City Councils and School Committees.

Boston will have no primaries at all. It does not elect a Mayor until next year and even then there are no primaries. The Mayor will be elected at the regular election in January, 1914, from the field of candidates presented on nomination papers.

Cambridge will have no primaries and no election until the second Tuesday of March.

First Time in Malden.

Malden holds it first primary election tomorrow, when the candidates receiving the two largest numbers of votes for each office will be the only ones having their names on the city election ballot next month. There are two mayoralty candidates, the present mayor, George L. Farrell, and Frank M. Sawtell, well known citizens of Malden. There had been great opposition among Malden voters since the passage of the direct primary act as less than half the voters took the trouble to vote on the question. There will probably be an attempt in the next Legislature to have the preferential primary act again amended to suit the voters.

In Chelsea the distribution of candidates with big ballot "One good term deserves another. Vote for James H. Malone for Mayor," is to the pupils, in the grammar schools has created a furore in the municipal campaign. Ex-Mayor Willard, who has been urging the voters to rid the schools of politics, compared the distribution of cards by Mayor Malone to the giving away of gumdrops by Dr. Cook to the Eskimos. Alfred L. Magel has withdrawn from the race for Mayor because of a death in his family. This makes a three-cornered fight, the third man being Alderman William S. Young. He claims that the fire and police departments under the present administration are in politics.

North Adams elects in December and so has its primaries late this year. But the nominating petitions have been out already had their little primary elections or are getting ready for them on Tuesday next.

Lowell has former Mayor George Brown and Citizen to get his own job under the new commission form of government adopted by the spindle city. He is running as a Republican, Mayor James E. O'Donnell, Democrat, is seeking re-nomination also. Brown was a policeman when elected Mayor. Last year he was elected an alderman.

Somerville preserves its party lines and scoffs at the commission form of government. So Tuesday next Democrats and Republicans will fight it out for nominations. Mayor Charles A. Burns, Republican, has no contest for re-nomination. Frederick J. White, an attorney, will receive the Democratic nomination for Mayor without opposition. Last heard from was that Arthur Gilson, Bull Mooser, who made an unsuccessful try for the State Senate, may enter the lists as a progressive candidate against Mayor Burns.

In Lawrence, under its new commission form of government, Mayor Scanlon has another year to serve. The terms of Aldermen Robert R. Maloney and Michael O'Brien expire. There is a field of twenty candidates for the four nominations to be made. Two aldermen for two-year terms will be elected in December.

MRS. ELKINS TO GIVE HOSPITAL $100,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—Mrs. George Widener Elkins, Jr., has intimated to her friends that the new Abington General Hospital is to be surprised with a gift of "not less than $100,000." She is one of the board of lady managers. The reason for this is that the widow of the banker who lost his life on the Titanic is waiting to see how much the other society women associated with her are able to raise.

SHOT FOR GRUDGE 42 YEARS OLD; DYING

DENVER, Nov. 18.—M. A. Root, a Denver business man, is dying as a result of being shot by a man whom he declares is James Devinney, who vowed vengeance on him he had him sent to jail forty-two years ago, and who, he declares, has attacked him several times during the past fifteen years. Once he says he shot him and unsuccessfully tried to kill him in his safe until he nearly suffocated.

STOCK TIP WRONG, CLERK A SUICIDE

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Secret stock exchange information regarding a stock on the New York Exchange resulted in the suicide of John A. Daniel, chief clerk in the Chicago branch of the American Smelting & Refining Company.

He took $8,500 in profit by his tip, but, it proved wrong and he lost.

BOSTON AMERICAN
$40,000 CONTEST
GOOD FOR ... VOTES
VALUELESS AFTER MONDAY, DEC. 2.
Name
Street
City or Town
Send votes in one bundle. Keep write coupons separate from 25-vote coupons. Write plainly or stamp on Outside wrapper candidate's name, address and district number, and total number of votes said to be contained in package. Write or stamp only top 3 or 4 coupons in each bundle. If possible, candidates should use rubber stamp with name, address and district number.

"Odol"
"The Malicious Microbe"
Never discriminates between man, woman or child, old or young, rich or poor.
Ever ready to attack, it is a deadly menace to health and even life itself.
The most dangerous of microbes which enter the system through the mouth can be rendered practically harmless by the constant use of "ODOL" as a mouthwash.
Pleasant to use and delightfully refreshing.
It will also keep your teeth in a healthy condition.
There is nothing "Just As Good" as "ODOL."
Price 50 Cents.
At all Druggists and Department stores.
GEO. BORGFELDT & CO.
NEW YORK CHICAGO SAN FRANCISCO

WILSON BROS
Watches
Prices Always the Lowes
Agts. for Waltham, Elgin, Hampden, Illinois, etc. Bentley No. 2, Broadway, 9, only entrance. Open Evenings.
Look for Our 5-Story Cor. Bldg.

12 and 16 Button
Gloves
Real Kid, White and Black
French Glace Lamb, White
Values 3.50 3.25 2.75
1.95
Fifteen hundred pairs and every pair just from Paris. The real kid gloves are in 16 and 12-button length. The French glace lamb gloves are in 16-button length.
Chandler & Co.
Tremont Street, Near West

Double Legal Stamps All Day Tuesday
Every time you get Legal Stamps with what you buy, you get something that acts as a discount on your purchase.
Because every filled book of Legal Stamps is worth $2.00 in cash or $2.50 in merchandise.
"Your Money Back If You Want It"
WOLF'S
ANY CLOTHIER
Hanover and Portland Streets.

Tomorrow—
Double Legal Stamps
Which Virtually Means Five Cents Saved On Every Dollar You Spend at—Gilchrist's

EVERY MAN
Can purchase a suit, overcoat or any other wearing apparel from us for one dollar per week as cheaply as he could buy elsewhere for cash. No Charge for alterations, no interest and no publicity. No payments demanded if sick or out of employment. Every garment is manufactured under our own supervision and guaranteed to give satisfaction to the wearer.
We carry a complete line of outer garments for men, women and children, consisting of suits, overcoats, furs, millinery, shoes, etc.
Hub Manufacturing Co. 311 Washington Street
Opp. Bowy Sloan, late director, 1 Flight.
Open Mon. and Saturday Evenings.

WEBBER GAMBLING FROM JAIL CELL
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Bridgie Webber is doing business again. From his cell the informer against Lieutenant Becker and the alleged assassins of Herman Rosenthal is operating a completely equipped gambling house in West Forty-fifth street. Every gambler along Broadway knows that "Bridgie" has set about the replenishing of his depleted bank roll. What the gamblers are eager to learn is the nature of the "pull" that enables a State's witness to do as he likes, so far as gambling is concerned.

"CASCARETS" MAKE YOU FEEL GREAT
A 10 cent box will keep your liver, stomach and bowels clean for months.
Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.
Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system, is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.
Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passageway for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.
Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.
A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels clean and regular for months.

First see sunny California
It's U.S.A.—Your own country
The Sierras outclass the Alps. Europe has no giant redwoods and no Yosemite. The shores of the blue Pacific rival the Mediterranean. And where can you find finer resort hotels than in California?
A Santa Fe train will take you there.
The California Limited—king of the limiteds—exclusively for first-class travel—runs every day—sleeper for Grand Canyon.
Santa Fe de-Luxe—the only extra-fare flyer, Chicago and Kansas City to Los Angeles—once a week this winter—America's finest train.
California Fast Mail—also the Los Angeles Express and San Francisco Express—three other daily trains—they carry standard Pullmans, tourist sleepers and chair cars—all classes of tickets honored.
Fred Harvey meals.
Visit Grand Canyon of Arizona en route.
Say which train you prefer. Will mail booklets.
S. W. Wanning, G. N. E. A.
328 Washington St., Boston, Mass.
Phone, Main 6500 and 6505.

ARRESTS NEAR IN GERACCI CASE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Carmelina Geracci, alleged to have been murdered in her apartment on East Fortieth street by her husband, Raffaella Geracci, for twenty-two-year-old son and Salvatore Lombardi, the suitor of her young daughter, Fortidi, was in reality none other than Grace Carbone, the close friend of Jennie Cavallert, a white slave informant who was murdered near Bridgeport, Ct., a few weeks ago. Arrests are expected today.

The new theory of New York detectives seeking on the case evolved following a conference with Norman C. Beers, prosecuting attorney of Danbury, Ct. Beers was "connected closely with the white slave investigation which followed the murder of the Cavallert woman.

The Carbone woman was known to have passed in different cities under various aliases. After the killing of her friend Jennie she was supposed to have come to New York.

A bottle supposed to have contained silver nitrate crystals, the poison believed to have been administered to Carmelina Geracci to produce unconsciousness before the nails were driven into her head, was discovered in the cellar of the apartment at No. 315 East Fortieth street where the body was stored for several days before shipment to Connecticut.

The police adhere to their theory the fifteen-year old daughter of Carmelina Geracci was murdered twenty-four hours following the death of her mother and the body shipped to Georgetown in the trunk which contained that of her mother.

The theory received additional support when Mrs. M. Lynch, a boarder in the apartment house at 315 East Fortieth street, said the night after the Geracci woman was killed she had heard screams from the Geracci apartment. It is believed the alleged murderers of the women have taken a new apartment only a few blocks from their old one. A citizen said he saw two of the suspects Friday night. Poison tests will be made on the body of the elder woman.

MOTHER OF FIVE AT 20 CHRISTS POISON

Mrs. Frances Consonzio, mother of five children, attempted to end her marital troubles by drinking a bottle of disinfectant at her home, No. 181 Endicott street, North End. She was removed to the Relief ollsptial and will recover. Mrs. Consonzio is but twenty years old.

MANOMET MAN HAS FALL STRAWBERRIES

MANOMET, Nov. 18.—Two full baskets of ripe strawberries were picked by Fred Bartlett of Brookroad, a bee breeder and strawberry culturist.

THE GINTER CO.

Thanksgiving Groceries

Butter 34c Lb. Finest Creamery, Fresh Made, Our Best

Eggs Strictly Fresh Laid Guaranteed at Your Value 31c Doz.

Flour "Golden Rose" Finest Made. Our Bbl. 6.19

COFFEE SALE

Better Coffee at 19c lb. Saving

Golden Rose, Lb. 27c Popular and pleasing. Worth 40c lb.

Pride of Aden, Lb. 36c A rich blend of the delicious Mocha and Java type. Regular 45c value.

Teas 60c Value Elsewhere Per Lb. 29c

Golden Rose, Spring Bud Pickings, English Breakfast, Mixed or Ceylon, 60c Qual

Prune Sale, 10 Lbs. 67c Lb. 9c 10,000 Lbs. New California Santa Clara Large, Meaty Prunes. Regular 12c value.

Rose Condensed Milk Can 10c
Cambell's Soups Kinds 8c
Quaker Oats Large Package Value Pkg. 8c
Soap Swift's Pride, 8 Bars 25c
Corn Tender, Creamy, Yeat Stock Can 9c
Shoulders Fancy Sugar Cured 5 Lb. Average 14c
Catsup Snider's, Tomato Flavor Pt. Bot. 18c
Spices All Kinds Pkg 7c
Bell's Season'ng Pkg 9c
Mince Meat "Nonesuch" Condensed Pkg 9c
Raisins Fancy 4 Crown Seeded Lb. Pkg 9c
Cranberries New Capes Qt. 10c

RYE, PORT Both 99c
Cambiesian Coats 12 At Other Stores
Banquet Rye Old Private Stock. Full 4 Full Bottle at Store 1.00
Port or Sherry Both Glasses, Prices 95c
2 Bots Special for 99c 1.35

Other Wines, Liquors
Whiskey "Monster" Pure 31.25 Value Qt. 73c
Hunter Rye Bottling Gr. Gr. 83c
Scotch, Black & White 1.03
Duffy's Malt Whiskey 79c
Rum Demerara Superior Ft. Qt. 73c
Gin, Gordon Dry, Bot. 89c
Calif Wines Port, Sherry, All Kinds, Gal. 23c
Duff Gordon Sherry 69c
Cooking Brandy Rich Pure Qt. 73c
M. & R. Vermouth Bot. 47c

Free Quick Delivery ★ Price List Free

Ginter Co

163 Summer ★ Union, Cor. Elm
495 Washington ★ 16 Canal
Specialty Shop Agents. 122 Tremont

Phone or Write If You Cannot Attend This Sale in Person

Do not miss the opportunity

Jordan Marsh Company

New England's Largest and Most Progressive Store

Be Sure to Read Every Item

You cannot afford to miss even one

Another of Our Great Height-of-the-Season Sales—

240 Groups of New Merchandise

INCLUDING GOODS FROM NEARLY EVERY SECTION OF OUR TWO GREAT BUILDINGS

To Be Sold at ¼ to ⅓ Under Regular Prices

Every article in this sale has been taken from our regular stocks—Every article fully measures up to our well known high standard of quality

Remember: All Are New Desirable Goods at Savings of 25% or More

BELOW ARE BUT A FEW OF THE MANY VERY SPECIAL VALUES IN THIS SALE

Women's Suits

25.00 SUITS OF DIAGONAL WORSTED, tailored models, cutaway coats. Sale price..21.50
40.00 SUITS OF HARD TWISTED DIAGONALS AND BEDFORD CORDS. Sale price.26.00
45.00 SUITS OF CHIFFON BROADCLOTH, new coat and draped skirt. Sale price..30.00
55.00 TO 75.00 IMPORTED AND HIGH-GRADE DOMESTIC SUITS, mostly one of a kind. Sale price 35.00

Women's Coats

15.00 AND 18.50 WHITE TOP COATS, lovely trimmed, 48 inches long. Sale price....10.00
28.50 AND 30.00 LONG MIXTURE AND TWEED COATS, loose and semi-fitted models. Sale price 18.50
27.50 AND 40.00 GENERAL UTILITY COATS, new Fall materials, delirable styles and colors. Sale price 25.00

Millinery

8.00 DRESS AND SEMI-DRESS HATS. Sale price 3.00
2.00 FULL NAPPED BEAVER HATS, first quality 1.75
5.00 LYONS SILK VELVET DRESS SHAPES 2.25
4.00 VELOUR DRESS SHAPES. Sale price 1.49
65c TO 1.00 FANCY FRENCH FEATHERS. Sale price....25c

Women's Waists

12.50 CHARMEUSE WAISTS, Robespierre collar; white vestee, embroidered and button trimmed. Sale price 7.95
2.95 AND 5.00 CHIFFON WAISTS, smart models, yokes of shadow lace. Sale price.2.95
7.50 CHIFFON WAISTS, dressy models, a splendid assortment of sizes and colors.....5.00

Women's Shoes

WOMEN'S 4.00 GUN-METAL BUTTON BOOTS, hobble toes, Cuban heels. Sale price....2.95
WOMEN'S 4.00 GUN-METAL BLUCHER BOOTS, hobble toes, Cuban heels. Sale price....2.65
WOMEN'S 4.50 GUN-METAL OXFORD BUTTON BOOTS, gray cloth tops, semi-dress toes, Cuban heels. Sale price 3.35

Women's Neckwear

12.50 TO 16.50 LARGE, REAL IRISH LACE COLLARS. Sale price 9.50
6.75 TO 8.50 REAL IRISH LACE COLLAR AND CUFF DUTCH SETS. Sale price.....4.95
1.00 JABOTS, of net and shadow lace. Sale price 59c
12.50 TO 15.00 IMPORTED STOLES AND SCARFS, of marabout and marabout and ostrich combinations. Sale price 7.95

Cotton Underwear

2.00 COMBINATIONS, GOWNS, SKIRTS, CHEMISES AND PRINCESS SLIPS 1.95
1.50 DOMESTIC GOWNS, COMBINATIONS, DRAWERS, CORSET COVERS AND PRINCESS SLIPS. Sale price 1.00
5.00 IMPORTED HAND MADE FRENCH COMBINATIONS AND GOWNS, embroidered lace trimmed. Sale price....2.95
2.50 IMPORTED HAND MADE GOWNS, COMBINATIONS, CHEMISES, DRAWERS AND CORSET COVERS 1.50

Women's Skirts

12.50 WALKING SKIRTS, an assortment of high-grade mixtures in new Fall colorings. Sale price 8.75
7.50 AND 8.75 MIXTURE AND BROADCLOTH WALKING SKIRTS, desirable tailoring in plain and plain broadcloths. Sale price.....5.00

Women's Sweaters

3.00 ALL-WOOL SWEATERS, in several styles and colors. Sale price 2.50
2.50 ALL-WOOL SHETLAND SPENCERS, in tan, gray and white, with and without sleeves. Sale price 1.50

Braids

27-yc FANCY BLACK BRAIDS. Sale price, yard.....25c
15c COLORED SILK GUIMPS. 10c

Women's Gloves

WOMEN'S 1.75 2-BUTTON MOUSQUETAIRE LAMSKIN GLOVES, in tan shades....98c
WOMEN'S 1.00 WASHABLE DUPLEX SUEDE GLOVES, in tan, gray, natural and mocha; Imperial Point embroidery 59c
WOMEN'S 1.50 2-CLASP PIQUE KID GLOVES, in tan, white, black; 5-row embroidery ..1.10

Women's Hosiery

WOMEN'S 25c AND 50c LISLE THREAD HOSE, regular and out sizes. Sale price, pair .25c
WOMEN'S 1.00 AND 1.25 BLACK AND COLORED HOSE (irregulars), of pure silk. Sale price, pair 69c
WOMEN'S 1.50 to 2.50 BLACK AND COLORED SILK HOSE (irregulars). Sale price, pr. 98c
WOMEN'S 2.00 AND 3.00 FANCY SILK HOSE (irregulars). Sale price, pair 1.50

Misses' Apparel

MISSES' AND JUNIORS' 22.50 AND 25.00 DRESSES, in serge, mousseline, voile, chiffon...15.50
MISSES' 29.50 DRESSES, in crepe de chine, charmeuse, brocade and corduroy; light, dark and medium shades. Sale price 18.50
MISSES' 22.50 SUITS, in solid color and two-toned diagonals, cheviot and serge 15.00
MISSES' 29.50 AND 32.50 SUITS, of corduroy and the new woolen fabrics. Sale price.....18.50
MISSES' AND JUNIORS' 12.50 MACKINAW COATS, of soft, warm woolen plaids; different coloring effects. Sale price 7.50
MISSES' AND JUNIORS' 25.00 AND 29.50 COATS, in chinchills, zibeline and mixtures; wide variety of models...18.50

Misses' Sweaters

MISSES' 5.00 ALL-WOOL CO-ED SWEATERS, colors of Oxford and cardinal, also white....3.50
MISSES' 7.50 LONG COAT SWEATERS, plain and fancy weaves, patent leather belt, roll collar; colors, Oxford and cardinal, also white.....5.00

Misses' Gloves

MISSES' 81.00 1-CLASP CAPE GLOVES, in tan shades; outseam sewn. Sale price.....65c

Misses' Millinery

MISSES' 4.00 AND 5.00 DRESS HATS 3.00
MISSES' 12.00 TO 18.00 IMPORTED MODELS HATS...7.00

Misses' Waists

MISSES' 2.95 CHIFFON AND SILK WAISTS, in latest colorings. Sale price 2.65
MISSES' 2.95 VOILE WAISTS, with colored linen Robespierre collars. Sale price 1.95

Girls' Clothing

(6 to 14 years.)

GIRLS' 18.50 VELVETY COATS, in all wool cheviot, in brown, navy and copper shades, contrasting trimmed. Sale price 12.50
GIRLS' 15.00 DRESSES, including serges, velvets, corduroys and cashmeres, semi-dressy and school models. Sale price..10.00
GIRLS' 7.50 CHALLIE AND STRIPE SERGE DRESSES, collarless models, for afternoon and school wear. Sale price.3.95

White Goods

85c FIGURED MUSLINS, 37-in.; very desirable for ladies' aprons. Sale price, yard 17c
1.00 IMPORTED AUSTRIAN PIQUES, 32-inch, striped with figures. Sale price, yard....50c

Handkerchiefs

MEN'S 25c to 35c PURE LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS 17c
MEN'S 50c to 75c PURE LINEN HEMSTITCHED HANDKERCHIEFS, extra fine quality. Sale price 25c

Smallwares

50c PLAIN AND FANCY FRILLED SATIN ELASTIC 25c
69c RAPID FLOW FOUNTAIN SYRINGES 49c
50c "STORK" EMBROIDERY SCISSORS 33c
25c EMBROIDERY SCISSORS, gilt handles 16c

Men's Clothing

MEN'S 45.00 WINTER OVERCOATS. Sale price.....30.00
MEN'S 25.00 WINTER OVERCOATS. Sale price 16.50
MEN'S 18.00 SUITS. Sale price 12.00
MEN'S 25.00 SUITS. Sale price 16.50
YOUNG MEN'S 18.00 SUITS. Sale price 12.00
YOUNG MEN'S 25.00 TO 30.00 OVERCOATS. Sale price.17.50
8.50 BATH ROBES. Sale price 5.50
10.00 SMOKING JACKETS. Price 6.50

Men's Furnishings

1.00 CAPE SKIN GLOVES, in new Fall shades of tan; spear point backs. Sale price.....65c
1.50 AND 2.00 PURE SILK ACCORDION FOUR-IN-HANDS, in popular two-tone color ideas, also with contrasting color club stripes and lace bobbin effects. Sale price 95c
50c PURE SILK ACCORDION FOUR-IN-HANDS, band frame made. Sale price 35c
45c ACCORDION KNIT TIES.25c

Men's Shirts

2.50 AND 2.00 EMERY AND CONGRESS BRANDS NEGLIGEE SHIRTS, coat style, with French cuffs. In the lot are laundered cheviots, percales, cotton with contrasting Russian cords, woven madras with self satin stripes. Sale price.....1.25
2.00 CHEVIOT PAJAMAS, of extra weight, in staple colorings. Sale price 1.35
1.50 MERCERIZED COTTON PAJAMAS, in all the popular plain colors; tailored in first-class manner. Sale price.....1.00

Men's Underwear

MEN'S 1.00 SHIRTS AND DRAWERS, in medium weight, velvet rib shirts and ankle drawers to match. Sale price.59c
MEN'S 1.00 WOOL WINTER-WEIGHT SHIRTS AND DRAWERS. Sale price.....65c

Men's Hosiery

MEN'S 45c SILK HOSE, full fashioned, in black and colors; double lisle thread sole and toe, high spliced heel. Sale price.29c
MEN'S 75c IMPORTED EMBROIDERED HOSE, black Isle thread, with self and colored clocks. Sale price 45c
MEN'S 1.00 AND 1.50 BLACK SILK HOSE, medium and heavy weights; double sole, heel and toe. Sale price.....65c

Men's Hats

2.00 AND 2.50 CLOTH HATS, good colorings. Sale price....1.35
2.00 SOFT AND DOMESTIC SCRATCH-UPS AND SMOOTH FELTS. Sale price 1.00

Men's Shoes

MEN'S 4.00 GUN-METAL BOOTS, Goodyear welt soles. Sale price 2.95
MEN'S 5.00 GUN-METAL CALF BAL BOOTS, with invisible eyelets. Sale price 3.75

Boys' Shoes

BOYS' 2.50 GUN-METAL CALF BLUCHER BOOTS, Goodyear welt soles; sizes 2½ to 6....1.85
BOYS' 3.00 GUN-METAL CALF BLUCHER BOOTS, Goodyear welt soles; nearly all sizes. Sale price 2.00

Boys' Hats

75c CAMELS HAIR INBAND RAH RAH HATS, in gray and tan. Sale price.....49c
50c CAMELS HAIR TAM-O'-SHANTERS, in gray, red and white. Sale price 25c

Children's Hosiery

CHILDREN'S 35c AND 50c COTTON HOSE in plain black; fine rib mercerized. Sale price 25c

Cottons

85c BLEACHED COTTON SHEETS, fine quality, size 90x98. Sale price, each.....69c
95c BLEACHED COTTON SHEETS, size 54x99. Sale price, each 72c
16c PILLOW CASES, 42x36½, to match above cotton. Sale price 12c
10c 36-INCH BLEACHED COTTON, fine standard make, free from filling. Sale price, yard..7c

Dressing Sacques, Kimonos and Negligees

75c FLANNELETTE SACQUES, several patterns. Sale price..45c
1.50 FLANNELETTE KIMONOS, satin trimmed. Sale price...95c
2.50 FIGURED CREPE KIMONOS, trimmed with messaline silk. Sale price 1.50
3.95 AND 4.50 SIDEBOWN'S AND BLANKET BATH ROBES, splendid assortment of patterns. Sale price 2.95
1.00 AND 1.50 BOUDOIR CAPS, an endless assortment of dainty patterns. Sale price..95c

Inexpensive Dresses

7.98 ALL-WOOL SERGE DRESSES, exceptionally well tailored. Sale price 5.00
1.98 GINGHAM, CHAMBRAY AND PERCALE DRESSES. Sale price 1.15

Infants' Wear

CHILDREN'S 3.95 WORUMBO CHINCHILLA COATS, in gray, navy and tan. Sale price..2.50
CHILDREN'S 7.50 FRIEZE CLOTH COATS, double-breasted, with belt of same material; 2 to 6 years. Sale price....5.00
CHILDREN'S 6.50 FELT AND CAMEL'S-HAIR HATS, band of ribbon around crown; 2 to 6 years. Sale price 2.98
CHILDREN'S 8.95 BEAVER AND VELVET HATS, trimmed with velvet ribbon and feather ornaments. Sale price.....5.95

Boys' Clothing

BOYS' 12.00 SCHOOL OVERCOATS, gray and brown Scotch effects (ages 11 to 16 years). Sale price 10.00
BOYS' 12.00 SCHOOL SUITS, Norfolk and double-breasted styles, in serviceable mixtures (ages 7 to 18 years). Sale price 8.00
BOYS' 10.00 SAILOR AND RUSSIAN SUITS, serges and fancy mixtures; with military collars (ages 3 to 8 years). Sale price 6.50

Boys' Furnishings

BOYS' 1.50 SHIRTS, attractive patterns, in laundered and negligee styles; sizes 12 to 14 collar. Sale price 1.00
BOYS' 1.50 PAJAMAS, woven madras, in neat stripe effects; sizes 4 to 18 years. Sale price 1.00
BOYS' 1.00 BLOUSES, in woven madras; (7 to 14 yrs.).....65c

Children's Shoes

INFANTS' 1.75 VICI KID LACE BOOTS, patent tip, Goodyear welt soles, spring heel; sizes, 6 to 8. Sale price 1.15
MISSES' 2.50 VICI KID LACE BOOTS, Goodyear welt soles, low heels; all sizes, 11½ to 2. Sale price 1.65

Children's Knit Underwear

BOYS' AND GIRLS' 1.00 AND 1.25 WINTER WEIGHT UNION SUITS, fleece lined. Sale price 69c

Misses' Cotton Underwear

MISSES' 2.50 CAMBRIC SKIRTS, with under drop flounce of fine embroidery; also with raised insertion and cluster tucking. Sale price 1.69
MISSES' 75c WHITE FLANNELETTE GOWNS, with double yoke, braid trimmed; round neck, without collar. Sale price .50c

Ribbons

79c AND 89c FANCY WIDE RIBBONS, beautiful colors. Sale price 25c
2.00 AND 2.50 WIDE FANCY RIBBONS, exquisite colorings. Sale price 1.95
3.00 TO 3.50 WIDE FANCY RIBBONS, very dainty colorings. Sale price 1.39

Umbrellas

WOMEN'S 3.00 SILK UMBRELLAS, plain and fancy handles. Sale price 1.95
MEN'S AND WOMEN'S 4.00 AND 5.00 UMBRELLAS, all-silk fancy handles. Sale price, 2.85

Silks

2.50 BROCADE SATINS, 21-inch, 12 colorings. Sale price 1.50
98c WHITE SATIN DUCHESSE, 20-inch. Sale price 65c
1.00 SATIN STRIPE VOILE, 42-inch, light and dark colors. Sale price 59c
2.50 TO 4.00 IMPORTED NOVELTY SILKS, very high grades. Sale price 1.98
3.00 BLACK SATIN, yard wide, double face. Sale price 1.63
1.25 BLACK TAFFETA (sold under a trade name at 1.25). Sale price 59c

Dress Goods

1.50 WORSTED SUITINGS, 54-inch serviceable fabrics in good colorings of gray, tan and brown mixtures. Sale price..79c
3.00 NOVELTY CUITINGS, 54x58 inch, all worsted, in a large variety of styles. Sale price 1.00
3.50 FRENCH EPONGE, 50 inch, very fashionable imported fabric, in twelve newest shades. Sale price 2.00
1.75 ALL-WOOL BROADCLOTH, 54 inch, in good staple colors, including navy; satin finish, superior quality. Sale price.1.15
2.00 BLACK WHIPCORD, 54 inch, all wool, English manufacture; permanent fast black. Sale price 1.35
1.50 BLACK OTTOMAN CLOTH, 44 inch, Priestley's manufacture, satin finish, warranted spotproof. Sale price 95c

Laces

1.00 TO 1.25 FINE SHADOW LACES, in white, cream and black, 6 to 12-in. Sale price, 69c
1.50 WHITE ORIENTAL FLOUNCINGS, 18 inches wide. Sale price 85c

Embroideries

MANUFACTURERS' 62c AND 75c IMPORTED SAMPLE WIDTHS of edges and insertions. Sale price, yard....37½c
1.50 27-INCH FLOUNCINGS, embroidered on fine Swiss and nainsook in lacey effects. Sale price, yard 1.00
2.00 27-INCH FLOUNCINGS, embroidered on fine Swiss. Sale price, yard 1.25
4.00 AND 5.00 45-INCH FLOUNCINGS, embroidered on fine valle and crepe; very desirable for party dresses. Price, yard 2.50

Buttons

75c TO 2.50 (DOZ.) CRYSTAL BUTTONS, in white and colors. Sale price, dozen...50c to 1.50

Women's Petticoats

3.00 MESSALINE AND TAFFETA SILK PETTICOATS, in newest styles and colorings 3.95
5.50 AND 6.50 SATEEN PETTICOATS, in assorted colors. Sale price 1.00

Knit Underwear

WOMEN'S 50c AND 62½c FLEECE LINED VESTS AND PANTS, also medium weight Vests and Tights. Some are slightly imperfect. Sale price 35c & 50c for 1.00
WOMEN'S 4.50 ITALIAN SILK VESTS, made with French band and handsome silk-embroidered flowers. Sale price 2.45
WOMEN'S 1.50 FINE RIBBED, LIGHTWEIGHT UNION SUITS, lace trimmed knee..98c
WOMEN'S 3.00 AND 3.50 "ERIC" LINEN MESH VESTS AND PANTS, fancy weaves 1.75
WOMEN'S 3.00 LINEN MESH UNION SUITS, heavy weight, lace trimmed or tight knee. Sale price 2.75
WOMEN'S 1.50 JERSEY SILK AND WORSTED VESTS AND PANTS. Sale price....98c

Flannels

85c WHITE FLANNEL, fine soft quality, 54 inches wide, a good value at 85c; special.....59c
75c GERMAN NOVELTY WAISTINGS, new goods, all colors. Sale price, a yard 49c
12½c SELVEDGE OUTING FLANNEL, full 32 inches wide, for shirts, night robes, etc. Sale price, 8½c, 10c, 12½c

Linings

49c ENGLISH VENETIAN, 32-inch; a full line of colors; black and white. Sale price..33c
1.00 TAFFETA SILK, 37-inch; a good assortment of colors. Sale price 55c
49c 36-INCH SATIN, in three shades of gray. Sale price....25c

Lace Curtains and Upholsteries

3.00 FINE ETAMINE CURTAINS, in a variety of styles, 2½ yards long, in white and Arabian. Sale price.....2.50
2.00 SCOTCH MADEIRA CURTAINS, 2½ yards long, assorted patterns. Sale price....2.00
75c 50-INCH FIGURED NETS, white and Arabian colors, for curtains. Sale price, each..50c
2.50 SOFA PILLOWS, covered in damask, tapestry and velvets; silk floss filled. Sale price, each 1.65
3.00 50-INCH FRENCH COTTON TAPESTRY, for furniture covering, assorted patterns....1.75

Domestic Rugs

ROYAL WILTON RUGS, 9x12. Formerly 42.00....28.00
8.3x10.6. Formerly 39.50....26.00
BODY BRUSSELS, 9x12. Formerly 32.00....21.25
SMYRNA RUGS, 9x12. Formerly 25.00....16.25
7.6x10.6. Formerly 18.75....12.50
ROYAL WILTONS, 36x63. Formerly 7.50....5.00
67x54. Formerly 5.00....3.25
IMPORTED SCOTCH AXMINSTER, 9x12. Formerly 35.00....23.25
7.6x10.6. Formerly 25.00....16.65

Furniture

58.00 60 INCHES WIDE CHINA CABINET, solid mahogany, 60 inches high with glass doors....45.00
68.00 DINING TABLE, Colonial, solid mahogany, 48-inch, round top 45.00
8.00 SOLID MAHOGANY ROCKER, shaped back, seat, large size 5.00
27.50 MAHOGANY BUREAU, 42 Colonial, with oval mirror.25.00
18.00 PARLOR TABLES, 30-inch, round top, mahogany....12.00

Trunks

14.00 HAT TRUNKS, large size, holding 6 hats. Sale price..9.50
14.00, 15.00, 16.00 DRESS TRUNKS, some extra strong, nainsook in lacey effects. Sale price, yard 1.00
2.00 27-INCH FLOUNCINGS, embroidered on fine Swiss. Sale price, yard 1.25
4.00 AND 5.00 45-INCH FLOUNCINGS, embroidered on fine valle and crepe; very desirable for party dresses. Price, yard 2.50

Linens

22c ALL PURE LINEN HUCK TOWELS, 16x36 inches, each..19c
2.50 SCARFS, 20x54 scalloped 1.25
18c PINE SOFT LINEN CRASH. Sale price, a yard 12½c

Wash Fabrics

59c TO 1.00 HALF SILK WASH FABRICS, 36 inches wide, fine range of designs and colorings. Sale price, yard.....29c
1.00 WAIST PATTERNS, of half silk, in dainty printings. Sale price, yard.....49c
29c SILK STRIPED VOILES, very fine quality, with self-colored silk stripe.....15c

Art Embroideries

3.75 STAMPED 72-INCH WHITE LINEN LUNCH CLOTHS, in solid and eyelet-designs....2.25
59c OBLONG BURLAP PILLOW SLIPS, braided designs in assorted colors. Sale price.....33c

Corsets

3.00 AND 5.00 AVONS AND BON TON CORSETS, up-to-date models, small sizes 3.50
4.00 AND 5.00 FLORITA AND AVON CORSETS, odd sizes, good models 2.95
A VARIETY OF STYLES IN CORSETS, comprising many popular, high-grade brands, regularly 3.00 .....1.95

Housefurnishings

59c ENAMEL KETTLES, size 08 of 4 quarts. Sale price..39c
79c ENAMEL KETTLES, size 012 of 10 quarts. Sale price..49c
49c ALUMINUM SAUCE PANS, tipped. Sale price 30c
20c FRENCH COOK KNIVES. Sale price 10c
1.20 (doz.) MEDIUM TABLE KNIVES, French steel. Sale price, dozen 75c
7.50 WORKSTAND BASKETS, covered. Sale price 5.00
1.25 NICKEL PLATED TEA KETTLES. Sale price.....59c
3.50 ASH BARRELS, heavy galvanized iron. Sale price....1.95

Linoleums

1.35 INLAID LINOLEUMS, colors running through to the back. Sale price (square yard)....99c
40c STRAW MATTING, close weaves in fancy patterns. Sale price 25c

JUDGE BOLSTER TELLS OF NEW DOMESTIC COURT

One of the main purposes of the new Boston Court of Domestic Relations, which will go into operation within a week, will be to prevent the too hasty breaking up of homes, according to Judge Bolster, who will be the first city court judge to take his turn as presiding justice. Advice and friendly counsel will be first attempted in cases of misunderstandings between husband and wife, but stronger measures will be taken if mild methods fail.

Everything will be open, but not everything said will be audible. Women and children will be placed in surroundings where they will not see any other offenders.

In discussing the new court, Justice Bolster said:

This court will be experimental at first. For some time the judges have been discussing this type of court and watching its success in other cities. You must remember that it is not my special work, but it is the work of all the judges. Such a court will largely do away with some of the surroundings of the Municipal Court where we have to put children who are witnesses in cases of domestic infelicities alongside those who have an unsavory reputation.

Not a Star Chamber.

The court will be associated with the Municipal Court and the judges will take turns in serving. There may come a time after the movement is fairly launched here in Boston, when we may specialize about the judge.

The court is not to be a star chamber. Every one can come in who so desires, but some of the conversation may be carried on in undertones. So that spectators may go where they want to see the spectacular.

There will be heart-to-heart talks with conflicting husband and wife. Often where there is a domestic disagreement, it can be settled with some simple but careful advice to the parties.

The court will not base its decisions upon any more sentiment. If the disturbing element does not heed the counsel given, he will be punished. The Court of Domestic Relations will have all the atmosphere of a court in the way of punishments, but advice and good common sense talks will be given.

Clash, Then Rush to Court.

Many family jars result from misunderstandings and then both parties rush into court. To talk the trouble over with the ones interested, will save the children from a court scene and often adjust difficulties in a way that will not be too public. Then, of course, we depend much upon the probation officer, whose part in this matter is so important.

We want to keep up the home influence. Don't break up your homes too hastily, is my advice. When every reasonable measure has been tried, then drastic means may be used.

There will come through this court, also, a more intelligent understanding of many of the details surrounding the conditions and environment of cases, and consequently a more just and sympathetic treatment of each offender.

The judge himself will come in such an intimate relation with the opposing elements in a family, that his influence cannot fail to be helpful in warding off many bitter feelings.

RETIREMENT Of Mr. Georges, Sr.

COMPELS A

REORGANIZATION SALE

Million-Dollar Stock of GEORGES Clothes Must Be Sacrificed for Ready CASH

THIRTY-THREE years of activity in one line, building up a business from one tiny store to five big handsome ones in the five great cities of the East. It is quite right, after such a strenuous career that Mr. Georges, Sr., should now wish to retire and enjoy some of the fruits of his hard-earned success.

But mine is the hard work now. It's up to me, the Junior partner, to turn stock into cash so that I can make settlement with the retiring member. I've made the most terrific price sacrifices of my career. I'm going to win out.

These are the Reductions Throughout the Stock

$15, $18 & $20 Suits & Overcoats	Now	$10
$20, $22.50 & $25 Suits & Overcoats	Now	$12
$25, $28 & $30 Suits & Overcoats	Now	$15
$30, $32.50 & $35 Suits & Overcoats	Now	$18

And so on upwards, including the aristocrats of my stocks, formerly $35 to $75—now in the Reorganization Sale, $20, $22.50, $25, $30 and $35—embracing silk-lined suits of the finest imported fabrics—up to luxurious Montagnac overcoats.

THIS MORNING

My Boston store just received 250 special

OVERCOATS

Heavyweight Velours, blanket plaid back, either box or belted back, warmth without weight, satin lined yoke, piped seams throughout. Intended to bring $18 this season, now in the reorganization.

$12

NO CHARGE FOR ALTERATIONS

Open Daily till 6:30. Saturdays Evenings till 10:30.

Georges

BOSTON

384 Washington

(CORNER FRANKLIN)

ALSO STORES AT PROVIDENCE 369 Westminster St. (Corner Aborn)

NEW YORK 42 West 34th Street Bet. Broadway and Fifth Ave.

PHILADELPHIA 45th and Chestnut — BUFFALO 357 Main

Auto News

By J. C. KERRISON.

J. F. Hartz, president of the J. F. Hartz Company and officer and director of various other leading Detroit business concerns, was chosen general manager and treasurer of the R-C-H Corporation at a meeting of the directors. Other officers for the company are: President, R. C. Hupp; vice-president, C. P. Sleder; secretary, L. G. Hupp; assistant general manager, F. R. Bump.

The directors are G. W. Rogers and J. G. Robertson of Akron; C. G. McCreticlin, of Jackson, Mich.; J. J. Hartz, John Kelley, C. P. Sleder, F. M. Randall, J. H. Clarke and R. C. Hupp, of Detroit. The active management rests with an executive committee of five, composed of Messrs. Hartz, Keiser, Randall, McCulchin and Hupp.

* * *

Thirty-seven hundred miles of publicity and a chain of working organizations, all promoting the big San Francisco fair, is the undertaking just begun by C. W. Armstrong, one of the officers of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, who has started on a tour from Boston to San Francisco in the interest of the big Pacific Coast exposition.

Armstrong has started across the continent in a Rambler Cross-Country and will visit all the principal cities, delivering addresses in the Chambers of Commerce and prominent business men's associations of the United States. The Rambler is of the 1915 model and is equipped with the new unit gasoline-and electric motor.

* * *

"Few people observe the correct position when riding in or driving an automobile," says General Manager Fred W. Haines of the Regal Motor Car Company. "The tendency among most motor car enthusiasts is toward one or two extremes. They either lean too far forward or allow their body to be tilted too far backward. Each of these positions is incorrect. Neither is a perfectly vertical position the best.

"To have a car under his control at all times the driver should assume a posture slightly inclined backward from the vertical position. If one leans too far forward there is a tendency to strain the eyes in watching the roads and the arms become too cramped to handle the steering wheel easily. The extreme backward or lounging position results in a loss of power over the pedals and prevents seeing the ruts and mud holes in the road. When the emergency presents itself the driver is not ready to command the situation.

"With the correct position, complete control of the pedals and steering wheel presents no difficulty. Furthermore the driver can make long trips into the country without tiring before his return."

$1,000,000 LINER HERE FOR SCRAP HEAP

The million dollar steamer Connecticut, pride of the Kaiser fleet a quarter of a century ago, anchored just outside of Castle Island. As soon as a berth can be found the big steamer will be stripped.

KIDNEY TROUBLE Is a deceptive disease. Thousands have it and don't know it. If you want good results you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. At druggists in fifty cent and dollar sizes. Sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling how to find out if you have kidney trouble. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

2nd Sale of Natio

A SALE THAT AFFECTS THESE THREE CITIES IS OF NATION-W

We've pictured the four great Seigel Stores here as forceful manner in which we can emphasize the tremendous buying we have—we print these pages of values to show what it means to you to hav largest stores in the country go into the market at one time with the determi curing the greatest values that you or any one else has ever known. We w measure our success by the importance of these savings to you.

4 Min. to Nearest Big Store to South Station

HENRY SIEGEL CO.

RESTAURANT—Special Tuesday Two Breaded Lamb Chops, with Peas, Tomato Sauce and Delmonico Potatoes 40c

Refined Cabaret — Restaurant 12 to 2 P.M.

Presto, Violinist and Xylophonist. Grant & McClennan, Grand Opera Burlesque. Jordan & Leightner, Popular and Entertaining Grace Layell—Singing and Chimes.

Wilton Velvet Rugs $13.15

200 Rugs—Every One Perfect

These are the famous Mohawk Valley Triple Extra Quality Wilton Velvet Rugs, known to thousands of New Englanders for their splendid wearing qualities and durability. Size 8.3x10.6 to fit that medium size room. A limited number of Oriental designs brings the price down to $13.15. A conservative estimate of the worth of these rugs is $19.50.

Mail Orders Filled—Third Floor

$16.50 Royal Axminster Rugs $7.15

Size 4.6x9. Just the rug you want for the bedroom or for the reception hall. Absolutely the best quality of Axminster Rugs. Almost one-half inch thick and wonderfully durable. Choice Oriental designs and colorings. This is an unusual special even in this Sale of National Importance, at.....

2000 Sq. Yds. 4-Yard Wide Linoleums 55c

An extra heavy quality made of pure cork and linseed oil. Linoleum of a grade that regularly sells at 90c a square yard, but owing to slight imperfections in the print, we mark them, at, a square yard.....

A Triumph in Wo

The Henry Siegel Company Sec
Factories of Cleveland, Ohio, m

ALL SIZES FOR MISSES AND WOMEN

Remember---You are offered $25,

Great Purchase of Dress Goods

20,000 yards of newest Suitings, Coatings etc.—Purchased from one of Boston's foremost garment makers—goes into the national sale at 1/3 Off Regular Prices

49c to 59c Dress Goods 28c

250 and 258 inches wide, including plain and fancy weavings, plain and fancy basketweaves, mohairs, checks, stripes, rough and smooth-finish weaves, etc.....

59c to 89c Suitings 38c

236 to 54 in. wide, including plain and stripe serges, plain and stripe Panamas, voiles, mohairs, mannish suitings, English effects, checks, stripes, plaids, etc.

Just the materials that most women are planning to buy at regular prices, can be bought from this Just-in-the-Nick-of-Time Sale at splendid savings.

Remnants Worth up to $2 at 48c

$1.25, $1.75 Broadcloth 78c

50 to 54 in. wide, foreign and domestic weights for outings, dresses and coats. Many are sponged and shrunk; included are golden brown, navy and black.....

$1.00 to $1.50 Suitings 58c

44 to 56 in. wide, including serges, cheviots, plain and fancy Panamas, voiles, English and Scotch mixtures, mannish effects, poplins, cords, diagonals, venetians.

The Kitchen Furnishing Sections

Offer Great Savings in the Sale of National Importance

75c Lindsay Light—Upright style, complete with burner, mantle and opal globe. 59c

Inverted Gas Mantles—The regular 15c kind, all first qualities. 4 for 25c

Gas Heater—Can be attached to any gas jet; requires no tubing. Heat is deflected downward and will heat an ordinary size room. 18c

$5.98 Coffee Machines and Chafing Dishes—Nickel or copper finish. Machines are 6 cup size and dishes are 2 pint size. Choice $4.18

$1.75 Enamel Savory Roaster—Oval in shape and seamless; self-basting style. The most sanitary roaster made. $1.38

The Best Turkey Roaster in Boston 29c

Self basting style, ensures no attention after placing in oven; will hold a 10 to 12 lb turkey.

Universal Gas Heaters—Can be used on any gas jet; requires no tubing. Heat is deflected downward and will heat an ordinary size room. Will also heat Chafing Dish. Attach to any gas light fixture. 35c

Coal Hod—Black finish, 12 inch size, regular 25c value. Special at 15c

Mail and Telephone Orders Filled—Basement.

75c Fruit and Nut Bowls—Highly polished nickel rims with beautiful floral design. 49c

Tuesday 4-Hour Specials, 9 A.M. to 1

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

Men's $4.00 All Wool ShakerKnit Sweaters $2.98

Men's sweaters, coat style, V neck, in dark mixtures and navy blue; sizes 36 to 46. $2.98

Third Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

$10.00 Rope Portieres $4.17

Choice of any rope portiere in stock, including chenille and velour braids..... $4.17

25c Lace Pillow Slips—Woven in several different patterns. Special each 10c

Up to $3.50 Yard Tapestry—Damask and velour remnants, suitable for chair seats and cushion tops, each.. 37c

$1.25 Striped Couch Covers—With fringe all around..... 83c

Third Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

89c Bleached Table Linen 69c

Heavy weight, Irish make, all pure linen, 66 inches wide.

$2.00 Pattern Table Cloths—Hemstitched ready for use, 12x4 linen, size 60x82 inches, each $1.55

85c Hemstitched Scarfs and Squares—With Japanese drawn-work and embroidered designs, size of scarfs 18x54; size of squares 20x20 inches, each 55c

$1.00 Crochet Bed Spreads—Full size, heavy, closely woven, hemmed ends, good patterns. Limit 2 to a customer, each 69c

12½c Turkish Bath Towels—Full bleached, good quality, hemmed ends, medium size, each 10c

18c Pillow Case Cotton—45 inches wide, bleached, extra good value, yd. 12½c

11c Unbleached Sheeting Cotton—36 inches wide, fine firm quality, in lengths from 5 to 25 yards, yd. 7c

Main Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

39c Bath Robe Flannel 29c

Heavy, warm, fleecy quality, good range of floral designs.

19c Mercerized Pongee—12½c 32 inches wide, plain colors, yd.

17c Shirting Flannels—22 inches wide, in neat stripe effects, 12½c yd.

Main Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

64 Men's and Youths' Raincoats $1.44

Positive Value $3.98

Manufacturer made a mistake by leaving off outside pockets on the coats. So they go at less than ½. Men's Store—2nd Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

$1.75 Imported China Cake Set 98c

7-piece set, very pretty border decoration; one large cake dish and 6 plates to match, set..... 98c

75c Thin Blown Table Tumblers—Good clear crystal glass in two very pretty patterns, dozen..... 45c

69c Japanese China Nut Sets—Consisting of 7 pieces..... 39c

The New Imported Consignment Sets—Of Japanese china

Main Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

Toilet Articles

1 Pebeco Tooth Paste—Value 35c.....
1 Kalsomo Tooth Brush—Value 25c..... } 39c

1 Kolynos Tooth Paste—Value 19c.....
1 Kolynos Toilet Soap—Value 10c..... } 19c

Main Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

Women's 25c Hosiery 15c

Fast Dye Cotton in all black and unbleached sole foot, garter tops, all sizes, pair 15c

Boys' and Girls' 19c Hosiery—Medium and finer rib cotton, fast black, double knee, all sizes, mill run, pair 10c

Men's 15c Hosiery, black cotton, medium weight, reinforced heels, toes and toes, elastic rib tops, all sizes, pair 9c

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

59c House Aprons, at 33c

Made of Lancaster gingham, square neck, kimono sleeves, trimmed with neat colors..... 33c

29c White Lawn and Gingham Skirt Aprons, made extra full and long..... 15c

25c Tea Aprons, made round with pocket, trimmed with lace edge..... 11c

Second Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

Remnants of Embroideries, yd 5c

Five and six-yard lengths.

Main Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1

$1.95 Fruit Dishes $1.25

Silver plated stand and handle with decorated glass bowl.

$2.00 Silver Crumb Sets—Silver plated scraper and crumb holder with pearly engraved..... $1.00

Main Floor

We Give S&H Green Trading Stamps

...ral Importance

...E INTEREST—THE SIEGEL CHAIN OF STORES NOW FORMS A NATIONAL SOURCE OF SUPPLY

...e most ...dvantage ...ur of the ...ion of se- ...y ou to

If these four stores could be combined and built on Washington Street, Boston would have the greatest store in all the world. No other store in Boston could compete with such a store, could it? Well, that's exactly what happened as far as values go. These four great stores went out to buy as though they were one mammoth establishment, and Chicago and New York are crowding in to get their share just as enthusiastically as are the biggest crowds that ever came to the Henry Siegel Store in Boston.

Help Us Distribute $5,000 to Charity
By Voting on your sales slip. Each 10c purchase counts as a vote. For full particulars, inquire at Charity Desk, Second Floor.

4 Minutes by Tunnel to North Sta. Nearest Big Store to South Station

HENRY SIEGEL CO.

RESTAURANT—Special Tuesday Two Breaded Lamb Chops, with Peas, Tomato Sauce and Delmonico Potatoes 40c

...nen's Coat Selling

...ed the Overproduction of the Prince-Biederman ... than a Thousand Coats at Half Price and Less

...ton Women Can ... $25, $30 and $35 ...NTZESS Coats for $14.75

...very Garment has the PRINTZESS LABEL

...re Than ...y Distinct Styles — Printzess Distinction in Dress Fashions — Every Wanted Color and Fabric

...intzess is a name to conjure with among styles for women, and these indentical coats are selling right now in the most exclusive stores at the prices ...ote as values—but the Siegel organization, with its chain ...t stores, keeps its ear close to the ground. We were, ...ore, among the few who heard of this opportunity, and

Here's the Story in a Nutshell

...nce-Biederman Company are among the largest makers of exclusive cloaks ...hole United States. This season they had a surplus of materials after their ...orders were filled. These fabrics they made up into coats in the same ...al with the same infinite care as the Printzess coat that you'll find ... store in the country catering to a high-class clientele.

They Sold Their Surplus in Quantity Lots to a Few of the Largest Retailers in the Country and We Are Among the Few Fortunate Ones to Offer $25, $30 & $35 Printzess Coats at $14.75

...Will appeal to women who like to wear garments that have not become common. ...S for the Prince-Biederman Company originate the women's coat styles of the ...Every wanted length is here in belted, plain and fancy coats—all distinctive styles.

...rials Are Chinchilla, Boucle Cloth, Scotch Mixtures, ...ar Fabrics, Cheviots, Polo Cloth, ...nd Handsome Plaid Back Materials.

Colors include navy, copenhagen, gray, brown, tan, black and mixed effects that will at once appeal to women of discriminating taste in dress.

...) and $35 Printzess Coats for $14.75

...ort Slippers—Tuesday

...tomorrow—only enough of these slippers to last through one busy day—so ...cannot afford to delay the purchase. Main Floor

...Women's Felt Slippers
...de from good quality felt, ...h heavy felt soles; ...ed in black only ... all women's ... Sale Price..... 59c

Women's Comfy Slippers
These slippers were made to sell for $1.00; colors are red, gray, brown and black; shown in all sizes. Sale Price..... 79c

...P.M., in the Sale of National Importance

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
...1 Boys' Suits ... B. and Norfolk $1.44
Values up to $2.98
Sizes 7 to 16 years. Remarkable! Astonishing! That's what you'll say when you see these suits! Come as early as possible. 3rd Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
...1.00 Southern ...leece Blankets 69c
Southern Fleece Blankets, in ... with pink or blue borders. 69c
... size, full 3 yards, slate.....
$2.25 Wedding Blankets—Extra ... in white or tan with colored borders, ... satin's width, size 72x90 $1.65
$1.50 Full Size Comforters—Cov... of both sides alike with figured sateen, ... filled with clean carded ... $1.15
Basement

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
246 Men's and Youths' Hats, worth up to $3.00 $1.00
Chiefly soft hats—smooth and rough felts—all colors; Trooper, Telescopes and Norfolks.
Men's Store—3rd Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
181 Men's and Youths' Suits $5.00
Worth up to $11.50
Probably 60 styles of fabrics as there are only a few suits of a pattern. Cassimeres, Cheviots and Serges included.
Men's Store—3rd Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
Up to 12c Laces, yd. 5c
Laces and insertions in all widths.
Main Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
Men's Up to 79c Underwear 29c
Odd lot of men's underwear and ... all sizes, limited quantity, not ... 29c
Boys' 50c Domet Night Shirts 29c
—All sizes, limited quantity.....
Main Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
Boys' 29c Underwear 19c
Silver Color Vests, Pants and Drawers, sizes 22 to 34, some have slight mill stains.....
Women's 39c and 59c Corset Covers—Pure white and cream color, high neck, long sleeves, Jumer ribbed, seconds of well known brand.
Second Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
Wall Papers
Small lots of odds and ends, enough to do 1 or 2 rooms, some have 9 or 18-inch borders to match, values up to 9c a roll; special..... 7½c
Third Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
49c Dressing Sacques, at 25c
Flannelette, round collar, finished with fancy stitched edge; stitched all seams. All sizes.....
Second Floor.

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
19c Little Beauty Pins 10c
Fine pins, gold plate, assorted patterns.
5c Card Slip Out Collar Stays, all the best all sizes, 4 yards for 10c
3c Paper Pins—400 count, needle point..... for the 10c
19c Four Strap Sew-On Hose Supporters.....
Main Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
$2.50 Princess Corsets $1.49
Coutil, extra long hip, medium and low bust, brass stayed with side steels, an heavy webbing hose supporters; sizes 18 to 30.
$1.00 Corsets—Made of heavy coutil, extra long hip, medium bust, hook in front and draw string.....
Second Floor

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
Reg. 79c Waists 45c
Many trimmed with lace and embroidery; others of mulins with striped Bobbinette collar and cuffs to match; all sizes; all fresh, new merchandise.....
Second Floor.

4-Hour Special—9 to 1
$1.00 Leather Covered Flasks 50c
½ pint and 1 pint sizes, flat shape, with double locker trimmed ... 50c
$1.00 Leather Vanity Purses and Bags, small, medium and large shapes, dull style, black and colors..... 69c
Main Floor

Mail Orders Promptly Filled. Telephone Oxford 2600, Mail Order Dept.

Any Trimmed Hat in the Store at 25% Off Regular Prices

These reductions will prevail tomorrow and throughout the week as a prominent feature of our Sale of National Importance

This means that you can choose any hat in our show rooms, whether it be an inexpensive hat at $5.98 or an imported creation for $85.00.

Take ¼ Off the Marked Price
This is a wonderful buying advantage, as our regular prices are lower than those offered elsewhere.

5.00, 6.50 and 7.50 2.98 Long Nap Plush Hats

1.98 Felt Hats 79c to clear and two ... at same price

Second Floor

Tuesday's Special Grocery Features

$1.88
for this year's Thanksgiving Day dinner. Notwithstanding the great increase in the cost of many things our price remains the same as for the past seven years.

Order Early
There will be only 2500 dozen sold this year and early ordering is advisable. The dinner includes:
2 Young Tender Roasting Fowl,
1 Can Poultry Dressing,
1 Can Cranberry Sauce,
1 Can Mince Meat Pie,
1 Can Maine Style Corn,
1 Pint Can Baked Beans,
1 Can Sweet Potatoes,
1 Can Kidney Beans,
1 lb. Pkg. Columbia Macaroni,
1 Pkg. Allenite Plum Pudding,
1 lb. Choice Mixed Nuts.
Name Sent C. O. D.

Educator Sale
We offer Hydrox, Graham, Animals, Tuxedettes, Square Wafers, Lemon and Ginger Snaps, 3 pkgs. 25c, 8½c
Each.....

Raisins
Table Raisins Halko brand, superior choice, ... 12c, extra fine at 25c, fine quality at 28c, 23c choice .....

Nuts Best sorting of ... very choice ... 18c
nuts, lb. 22c, choice mixed lb. 25c, 8½c

Gelatine Piermont ... Each, other coffee flavor or plain, 3 pkgs. 25c, each.....

Cider Real ... Cider ... 35c
by gallon jugs.....

Honey Pure ... honey ... Vermont comb honey, regular value 19c 25c, per section.....

Peanut Butter
Bellview brand, in full lb. cartons at 15c; 2 lbs. and Dixie brand, lb. .....

Eggs Warranted all ... fresh, per doz

Bulbs
Direct importation of the finest land bulbs from one of the most reliable growers. Hyacinths, all colors, 5c; 2 for 25c, 75c, 3 for 20c, each 12c; Tulips, double and single, 5c; Daffodils and Poeticus, each 5c, 6 for 25c, each 3c; Crocus, all colors, 6 for 25c, each 3c; 30c, each.....

Guava Jelly
Regular 25c tumblers, slightly stained. 3 for 25c, 8½c
Each .....

Pancake Flours
Choice of Rapid self-rising pancake or buckwheat flour, 2 for 15c; small, Maine Each .....

Syrup Pacific Log Cabin Syrup, bottle 15c and 25c; can, 60c; ½ gal. 60c; 1 gal. 90c.....

Sardines Red Mill brand, ½ oil, 3 cans 25c, each.....

Chili Sauce Hazel brand, the finest flavored and best ... on the market, large bottles.....

Ketchup Hazel brand, best made, full pint bottle 12c; ½ pint.....

Prunes Choicest Santa Clara ... assorting to size, lb. 15c, 12c, 10c.....

Corn Flakes Welcome brand regular lbs. 3 packages 20c, each.....

Olives Large, medium ... Queen olives or plain or Pepper Manzanillas, pickled in full brine, small, Maine ... 38c jar .....

Hazel Oats Pinhead rolled white oats, long cooking, 4 for 25c; lb. 8c
each.....

Kirkman's Soap Powder ... 4c

4 GREAT FURNITURE BARGAINS

For Tuesday in This Sale of National Importance

This Bed Outfit $9.95
Consisting of a white enamel bed, National spring and mattress.
Fourth Floor.

This $25.00 Mahogany Dresser $16.50
42-inch top, 7 drawers, ... bevel plate mirror, 22x28 ...

This $8.50 Rattan Rocker $3.75
Only 25 to sell, so more ... than one ... to a ... customer.
No Mail Orders.

This $15.00 Solid Oak Dining Table
Golden Oak finish, 42-inch top and will extend to 6 feet.....
$9.75
JOIN OUR FURNITURE CLUB NOW

List Vote Standing Sunday

Also First of Special Winners

Don't Sit Idle Waiting to See How You Stand; Every Day Counts in Competition For the Big Awards.

J. C. BUCKLEY

100 Active Contestants Will Find News of Interest to Them in Next Sunday's American.

By THE CONTEST EDITOR.

Next Sunday comes the first vote list. With the publication of the first standing new life, new hope and new energy will come to every candidate who has shown any effort in the AMERICAN'S All New England competition for $40,000.

Next Sunday will be a red-letter day because, in addition to the vote list, the winners of the $1,545 Special prizes will be announced.

It will be pay day for 100 active contestants who, by their energy and ambition, have succeeded in capturing the Special Prizes.

The first crisis in the race for the $10,000 has passed. Just one-third of the contest is over, and it is now only a matter of eighty odd days before the finish.

Exactly the same kind of energy, effort and hustle that won the $1,540 for 100 candidates will win $40,000 for 1,500 candidates in eighty odd days more.

So it is no time to wait, to hope, to wish. While waiting for next Sunday's vote list get ten subscriptions every day during the week. Don't sit idle for the next six days just to see how you stand next Sunday. Every day counts and counts big from now on so hustle while while you wait.

In addition to the vote list and special winners next Sunday's AMERICAN will contain an announcement by the Contest Editor of vital interest to every candidate in the contest. So watch for this announcement, but, as you hope to win $10,000 or some one of the other big prizes, get in your possession every possible subscription before next Sunday.

J. C. Buckley of No. 208 Grove street, Brookton, a District 2 candidate for the $10,000 prize, says: "There isn't a city in New England that can compare with Brookton when it comes to supporting one of its own people for any office. I am a candidate for the high office of social prize winner in the $40,000 contest, and you can take my word for it when I say that Brookton will stand by me to the finish. As for my chances of election. When the finish comes Brookton and Buckley will be there."

Mr. Buckley is in the provision business in Brookton, and is waging an active campaign for the $10,000 cash prize.

WAGNER MUSIC BY SYMPHONY

By FREDERICK JOHNS.

The fame of Dr. Muck, and the opportunity for the general public to see him in action, drew an enormous audience to Symphony Hall last night, and called to mind the brilliancy of the Pandita Farini concerts when Muck first came to Boston six years ago.

The program was all Wagner. Wagner loses less by an orchestral performance than any other composer of opera, and there are few opera orchestras that could perform his works even creditably.

Dr. Muck is the greatest exponent of Wagner of the present time and the Boston Symphony Orchestra, under the circumstances a marvelous concert was to be expected and expectation was justified.

The program included the overtures to "Rienzi" and "The Flying Dutchman," and the introduction and first scene (Hackmann) act, of "Tannhauser." This is usually played abroad instead of the formal "Tannhauser" overture.

There were the overtures to "Lohengrin," "Tristan" and "Isolde" and "Master singers," and "Parsifal," and the funeral march from "Dusk of the Gods."

It was a veritable banquet of Wagner music, and all the more had to be enjoyed because we so seldom hear Wagner at our opera.

The playing of the interlude from "Tannhauser" by Dr. Muck and his orchestra was simply perfection in its brilliancy, its wildness, its riotousness. Never before did I ever hear the meaning of this music so plainly revealed. It made us wonder if it were proper on a Sunday evening.

One could go through the whole program extolling the performance, but space forbids. It was an evening in a thousand, and let us hope Dr. Muck will play a Wagner program soon again.

HUNT HEIRS TO $100,000 ESTATE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—One hundred thousand dollars awaits the heirs of Henri D. Winters, who died in the West, June 1, 1911, if Joseph Hunt, of New York lawyer, can find them. Winters died intestate, and unless relatives claim his property, it will revert to the State.

GEN. FARRINGTON OF ANCIENTS DEAD

MANCHESTER, Nov. 18.—General Henry Farrington of the Boston Ancients and Honorable Artillery Company, head of the cloth department of the Amoskeag mills, is dead at his home, 251 Hanover street, after a ten days' illness.

END LIVER TROUBLE WITHOUT CALOMEL

Untrustworthy Drug, Thought to Loosen the Teeth, Now Made Absolutely Unnecessary

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—are the safest, best and surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost immediate. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination and search for a vegetable compound to produce all the good and none of the bad effects of calomel. They bring a healthful flow of bile into the bowels and move the waste matter out of the system. They do their work gently but surely. No griping pains. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "sluggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c a box.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

The Toast with the Taste

Kellogg's

TOASTED WHEAT

Biscuit

12c a Box at Your Grocer's

A.F.L. TAKES UP 129 RESOLVES

By PHILIP J. HALVOSA.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The American Federation of Labor convention reconvened here today after a two-day recess. With 129 resolutions to be reported from committee hearings, the delegates immediately buckled down to business in an endeavor to leave for home this week.

The theory acted by the Socialist group in electing as president of the American Federation of Labor railroad department A. on Wharton of the Machinists' Union today is being commented on freely by those closely following the larger convention proceedings.

This is by many taken as an indication that the conservatives will be hard pressed in their effort to side-track the Socialist demand that the federation abandon trade unionism for a purely industrial form of organization. The Conservatives themselves, however, made up of all the old line trade unionists, are equally positive that no such radical change in policy will be countenanced. They will not even admit the possibility of defeat.

This question of industrial unionism vs. trade unionism policy is the paramount effort before the convention.

Next in importance is the proposition to elect in the future all officers of the federation by a referendum vote of the 2,000,000 members. Both measures are favored by the Socialists.

President Samuel Gompers, at Convention Hall, referring to his arrest with John Mitchell and Frank Morrison at Washington, said:

"I deny to any judge or any set of judges the right to say my mouth. If a judge by injunction can stifle the mind and prevent free expression, then the very essence of our liberty has been stolen. Free speech and free press have ever been regarded as inherent and natural rights. If daring to express the convictions in my heart involves a term of imprisonment, the sooner we know it the better.

For the first time since the convention opened, one week ago, an active canvass of the delegates was commenced today by those wishing to secure next year's convention.

Seattle, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Washington and Richmond all are out to capture this honor, with several other cities ready to break into the fight if a favorable opportunity offers. The Seattle rooters, so far, seem to have the best chance of winning. That the federation convention will go to San Francisco in 1915, those opposing Seattle say, now is practically settled, although no formal vote to that effect yet has obtained. This being the case, they say, to hold next year's convention on the Pacific Coast would be manifestly unfair to the other sections of the country.

JAMAICA STILL IN HURRICANE'S GRIP

KINGSTON, Jam., Nov. 18.—The storm which struck sections of Jamaica Friday night continued today with no signs of abatement. The meagre reports received so far indicate great damage. Heavy rain is still falling and indications are that the downpour will continue several days.

Seven in Hub Challenge Miss Hubbard's Venus Title

"LET HER COME HERE FOR 'PERFECT WOMAN' COMPARISON" BOSTON WOMEN DEMAND.

SOME BOSTON VENUSES AT THE POSSE GYMNASIUM

By SIBYL WARNE.

Seven athletic, perfect young women of Boston, members of the Posse Gymnasium, No. 8 St. Botolph street, are about to issue a challenge to Miss Miriam Hubbard, daughter of Elbert Hubbard of East Aurora, N. Y. It is claimed by the physical director of the University of Michigan, where Miss Hubbard has been training, that she is the most perfect woman in the country, physically speaking.

Ever since this announcement these Boston Venuses are anxious to meet Miss Hubbard. They have trained so well in the Posse Gymnasium that they are considered eligible for the class of perfect figures our girls. There are many of them, but any one of this particular seven, I am quite sure, would compare well with her, and might, in many respects, excel her in points.

"You know that it is quite a sweeping thing to say that Miss Hubbard is the most perfect girl in the United States. We, there are seven young women here who are decidedly more perfect in many ways. We have many others who will soon gain the same rating. If Miss Hubbard of now only come here we could have a vacation. That is all that we want. Yi would be surprised to see how many perfect girls Boston has in training."

Miss Van Tassell, when asked the secret of her splend physique, said:

"Walking is my best exercise. But you must do it regarly. I think nothing of walking ten miles a day without feelin any fatigue.

"Thou I believe in baseball. It is good exercise to know how to throw a ba Some women imagine that they get muscle strength by scrubbing the floors. Ya must try to get into play all your muscle Get them all working in your behalf. The I like to run. Running must be done taken when you are quite young, but kee it up daily."

Miss Minerva Pray, another of the attractive young women, who would just fit in to say a word to Miss Hubbard and tell her about what some girls can do wel belong to her set, remarked:

Boston Women Perfect.

"Oh, I do wish that Miss Hubbard would come on here. We can show her some perfect women. Why, we're all pe fect here, or nearly so. Never a da passes but what some of us feel lik

Let Miss Hubbard Come Here

"Very few women in the country can give as good a showing as this. Miss Hubbard should come here and compete with Baroness Rose Posse is much interested in the young women.

"These young women are much exercised over the claims made for Miss Hubbard," said the Baroness. "They excel her and they are willing to stand by the decision of the most competent judge in the country.

"We have one young woman, who certainly can compare well with her, and her uniform measurements are excellent. This is Miss Gretchen Van Tassell of Woburn. This is her record: Eighteen years; height, five feet nine inches; weight, 140 pounds; neck, thirteen inches; bust, 36 1-2 inches; waist, twenty-six inches; hips, twenty-seven inches; arm, eleven inches; lung capacity, 302; lung expansion, 4½.

Atlas of old, who could carry the world on his back.

"Plenty of sleep, plenty of good, wholesome exercise, with plenty of fresh air, will flam the door on the doctor's nose, as Longfellow says about temperance, you know."

"Don't take medicine to cure a headache," maintains Miss Katherine Brown of Franklin, Ind., who is the amateur tennis champion of her State. "Just take a run around the block. Know how to breathe. I do not know of any exercise that keeps me well so long as tennis. I, too, would like to see Miss Hubbard."

Mary C. Pyne of Fitchburg, another of the perfect women in attendance at this gymnasium, advocated jumping. She remarked:

"Always keep your muscles in good order, then you'll never get tired; never stay indoors doing embroidery work and bending over all your work. Just give a spring for the door, a jump and then take a good run. Why, it's the best thing in the world for you.

"We girls here never get tired. Why, you only get tired when you do not know how to exercise.'

Fresh Air Necessary.

Frances Dempsey of Lincoln explained her strength and endurance by taking exercise in the country.

"The country girl is more outdoors than the city girl," said she. "It is getting out in the fresh air daily and doing some work. Even walking is good. But get some work that will develop the whole body. So many women do not know how to walk and so many women do not sit erect. No wonder they complain of pains in the back.

"Regular exercise and plenty of good sleep will make any one strong."

Miss Anna L. Johnson of South Sudbury, another of the Posse girls who is anxious to see Miss Hubbard and compete with her, is very fond of baseball.

"Baseball is my exercise. It's just fun and it's what every girl needs, I think," exclaimed Miss Johnson.

"If Miss Hubbard will come on here and bring her baseball fans with her also, why we'll just play her a game, and she will go home to the woolly west with some idea that there are other girls in the United States who have physical strength to be proud of.

Nothing Like Swimming.

"Swimming is one of the best exercises. Women are gradually getting stronger than men. We're never ill here. Our health makes us happy, as our cheeks are rosy. We have no need of cosmetics. Take a brisk run and get color into your cheeks."

These young women are fine specimens of the feminine athlete. When Miss Hubbard does finally come on to Boston she will be surprised to meet the seven perfect women.

Miss Hubbard is five feet, six and one-half inches tall and weighs 131.5 pounds. Miss Van Tassell has greater lung capacity than Miss Hubbard, whose capacity only measures 218, while Miss Van Tassell's is 302.

CANADIAN CLUB TO DINE ON WEDNESDAY

The Canadian Club will hold its annual banquet Wednesday evening at Young's Hotel. Mayor Fitzgerald, George P. Graham, minister of railways under the late Laurier government, and George D. Hale industrial commissioner for western Canada, will speak.

AMERICA'S BIGGEST STANDPIPE FALLS

BRUNSWICK, Me., Nov. 18.—A defect in the falsework below is believed to blame for the collapse of the top of the biggest reinforced concrete standpipe in America, which is being built here for the Brunswick and Topsham water districts. Damages amount in to $5,000 resulted.

DR. CONRAD HITS DEATH PENALTY

Dr. A. Z. Conrad, pastor of the Park Street Congregational Church, declares that capital punishment is directly against the teachings of Christianity and that there is always a chance of an innocent man paying the death penalty. He told his congregation his reasons after classifying with murderers mothers who neglect their children, husbands who slight their wives, and business men who conduct unhealthful shops or overwork their employes. Dr. Conrad said:

It is a question how far capital punishment is a deterrent of crimes of blood, which have increased, to a terrible extent, in spite of capital punishment.

It is always possible the innocent may be put to death for the crimes of others, as has often happened.

The whole spirit of the religion of Jesus is reclamatory or redemptive and not retributive. The appeal of Jesus to man is not for justice, but mercy.

The taking of life by judicial pro cesure suggest's to morbid minds the taking of other lives.

I have no right to ask any man to do any service I would not do myself. The whole power of this nation is not capable of making me take the life of a fellow-man. Because the execution is execrated by all mankind. I would myself undergo execution rather than press the electric button that would deprive a man of life.

Ever Take An Internal Bath?

It Is the New and Scientific Nature Cure for Many Ills.

A most interesting method of Internal Bathing is now being shown and explained by the Riker-Jaynes Drug Stores. It is called the "J. B. L. Cascade," and is different from anything else ever used for the purpose.

You have undoubtedly noticed that constipation and biliousness, besides bringing on much more serious ills, make us feel nervous, yellow, blue—unfit to think or work—in fact, about 50% efficient.

Accumulated waste in the large intestine always causes these troubles, and the old methods of ridding ourselves of it are only partially effective. They force Nature, too, instead of assisting her.

This Internal Bath, however, is taken perfectly naturally—you just use the appliance and warm water—it assists Nature instead of forcing her, yet rids the system of the poisonous matter much more thoroughly than any drug—it keeps one regular, too.

Inasmuch as many thousands are using and praising the "J. B. L. Cascade," and the most enlightened physicians are prescribing it, it would seem worth every one's while to see the Cascade at all Riker-Jaynes Drug Stores in New England and let the principles and operation of the system be thoroughly explained—this, of course, involves no obligation whatever.

Ask for booklet "Why Man of Today Is Only 50% Efficient."

If your child has

Croup, Whooping Cough, Measles Cough

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will save possible serious illness.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

Safe. Sure. Reliable. 25c.

"I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, with splendid results."—Mrs. Annie Burns, 35 S. 2nd St., Garret City, Ind.

Send for FREE SAMPLE to F. C. Meyer & Co., Baltimore, Md.

COMMERCE BODY PICKS DIRECTORS AT POLLS TOMORROW

The polls will open at 11 a. m., tomorrow for the annual election of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and close at 4 p. m. At the annual meeting, at 3:30, five-minute addresses will be given by well-known members on such topics as harbor development, transportation facilities, relief of street traffic congestion, chambers of commerce of the United States of America, and the Retail Trade Board.

Louis A. Coolidge is the only member to run for director on an independent nomination. The ballot contains these names:

For three years (eight to be elected)—Francis R. Bangs, Louis A. Coolidge, John Mason Little, Walter M. Lowney, George F. Mead, Charles Stewart, Reuton Whidden, Alexander Whitcomb.

For two years (three to be elected)—Albert Greene Duncan, official ticket, independent nomination; Henry L. Hagan, official ticket, independent nomination; James J. Phelan, official ticket, independent nomination.

For one year, William H. Bais, official ticket, independent nomination.

CLUTCHES $380 IN DEATH LEAP

Mrs. Elizabeth Fee, sixty-seven, of No. 1612 Cambridge street, Cambridge, died at the Cambridge Hospital after she had leaped from her window to the pavement in a frenzy of insanity. A nurse and two neighbors had been attempting to quiet the woman. She knocked over a lamp and the three women had to fight the flames that started. Mrs. Fee seized her opportunity and leaped to her death.

When her body was picked up, she was clutching in each hand, gold pieces and paper money amounting to $380 that she had been counting in her savings. She had clung to the money even when fatally injured.

Mrs. Fee, who was the widow of Thomas Fee, had been in failing mental health for some time. A week ago her physician ordered a nurse, Miss Margaret H. Brown. The patient got beyond the control of Miss Brown, and she summoned Mrs. Annie Nixon and her daughter Bessie from the suite below. The three women found themselves unable to cope with Mrs. Fee, and two police officers were called in to assist in quieting her and inducing her to lie down.

Fearing a further outbreak, Miss Brown asked the two women to remain on watch with her during the night. In an hour a second attack seized the patient. The lamp was knocked off a small side table in the struggle.

The three women turned their attention to the fire. In their excitement they forgot Mrs. Fee. Leaping from the bed, she rushed to the window and buried herself out.

Miss Brown rushed to her patient's side, while the other two women beat out the flames.

PEACE AT PRINCETON WITH WILSON'S WIN

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 18.—President John G. Hibben of Princeton has just made public a note from Governor Wilson that would indicate the dissipation of all controversial disputes that have swept Princeton University. Governor Wilson's note expressed the hope that Princeton need never be ashamed of her sons.

Business Notice.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

The tread that makes the brake effective.

It takes more than a brake to stop a car. No matter how efficient your brakes may be, the behavior of your tires determines where you stop.

Your real emergency brake is in the treads of your tires—not on the axle. If your tires are equal to the emergency they will grip the road and stop the skid.

"All the 'brakes' are with you" if your car is equipped with

Goodrich SAFETY TREAD Tires

"Best in the Short Stop"

The Safety Tread does team work with the brakes. When the brakes say stop, the Safety Tread puts the order into effect. It works on the principle of no cause, no skid—no skid, no dread. The first bar to touch the street, wipes a spot clean, under the tire, for the other bars to grip and hold. No chance for ooze to work back under this tire—the way is barred in all directions. This new Safety Tread tire is both safe and sound. Safe because it stops the skid by removing the cause. Sound because it is a Goodrich Tire thru and thru. It has Goodrich Quality, Goodrich Unit Construction, Goodrich Tough Tread—only more of it. It delivers mileage in Goodrich heaping measure.

100 branches and service stations and innumerable dealers, everywhere, can now supply you with this new Safety Tread in any size and to fit any rim.

The B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, O. Largest in the World

BOSTON BRANCH - - - - - - - 851-857 Boylston St.

Filene's Automatic Bargain Basement

NOTE: The following announcement will be of interest to the many women who have asked when we were to have Furs at Automatic Bargain Basement prices.

—and now the first lot of Furs this season, under the Automatic plan

At the same savings that characterize all other merchandise sold under this system. They, too, will be Automatically Reduced if not sold quickly. BUT AT THESE PRICES quick selling is forecasted.

Raccoon Sets

The most popular fur of the season

$32.50 grades $25

Two-skin natural scarfs, pillow muff

Jap Mink Coats

$150 grade $99.50

Brocade lining, full furred skins, shawl collar and cuffs.

Other Fur Bargains Include

Blue Wolf Scarfs $4.95 to $9.75
Blue Wolf Muffs, $5.95 to $12.50
Black Wolf Muffs, $4.95 to $9.75
Black Wolf Scarfs, $3.95 to $9.75
Caracul Coats; 52 inch, $22.50 to $37.50
Black Russian Pony Coats, plain and trimmed, $32.50 to $69.50
Near Seal Coats, $45.00 to $85.00
Natural Pony Coats..... $49.50
Natural Muskrat Coats. $49.50
Hudson Seal Coats, $99.50 and $115.00
Brown Marmot Coats, Raccoon collar and cuffs..... $59.50
Sable Squirrel Coats, $89.50 to $95.00

Hundreds of Other Bargain Lots

LYNN POLICE HUNT SNIPPER

The Lynn police were on the watch today as the children went to school for a "Jack the Snipper," who already has clipped the braids from the heads of three children, eleven-year-old Theresa Waitt, of No. 90 Oxford street, ten-year-old Lizzie Stone of Cliftondale, and fourteen-year-old Carrie Colby of Ridgeway street.

Theresa Waitt was the first victim. Her locks were clipped as she came out of a store with her mother, Mrs. Harry Waitt. So deft was the snipper that she did not notice her locks had been shorn until an hour later someone called her mother's attention to it.

The snipper caught Lizzie Stone as she was entering a store on Union street. Here, too, he managed to escape detection and made away with six inches of her braids.

Carrie Colby was standing in the entrance of a Union street store when a stranger stepped up in front of her. She moved to one side and he turned and snipped eight inches of her tresses. A policeman was standing only a short distance away, but the Colby girl was so frightened that she was unable to cry for help.

The only description of the man that the victims are able to give is that he "resembles a dark-skinned foreigner."

WILSON'S COUSIN DISCUSSES ASTOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Dr. Samuel Woodrow, pastor of the First Congregational Church and cousin of President-elect Wilson, preached on the "Social Unrest," in which he said: "A young man in New York inherited $65,000,000 for which he toiled not. His father had not either. This young man, if placed on his own resources, could not make five dollars a week. Such sights cause more anarchists than all the radical street speeches ever made. Statistics show 70 per cent. of all the wealth of the country in hands of 5 per cent. of the people.

$25,000 FIRE AT ESSEX JUNCTION, VT.

ESSEX JUNCTION, Vt., Nov. 18—Johnson's Hotel, owned by Walter B. Johnson, was destroyed by fire and the Central Vermont passenger station, across a narrow roadway, saved only by the prompt response of the automobile fire truck from Burlington. The loss was $25,000.

Husband Flies In A Rage—Drink!

But Cobles'ill Woman Now Knows How to Make Him Quit Liquor

Where there's a will there's a way! Usually the woman with a husband who drinks just meekly submits and hopes. It's no longer necessary to sit idly by and take his' abuse—as this Cobles'ill woman found out. She heard of Renova and did what any woman can do—gave it to him secretly. Read what she writes: "He does not seem to drink nearly as much and is not under the influence of it half as much. His nerves and disposition are much better—also his appetite."

Every day brings new testimony, and the gratitude of rescued men and happy women knows no bounds.

Get a package of Renova at Riker-Jaynes, and after you have used it faithfully and it doesn't do the good we say it does, get your money back.

If you'd like to try it—free—before you buy a whole package, write in confidence to the Renova Co., 294 Broadway, New York, for a sample and proofs of what Renova does for victims of intemperance.

Calve May Never Sing Again

Throat Specialists Worried

Heavy Cold Caught in Chicago Blamed for Serious Congestion of the Larynx.

Boston music lovers discussed with regret today the report from St. Louis that Mme. Emma Calve may never thrill another audience with her marvelous voice.

The prima donna, who has won fame in three continents, is today confined to her room at the Hotel Jefferson in St. Louis under the care of two throat specialists. Congestion of the larynx following a cold prevents her from speaking above a whisper. It is possible she may never recover the full use of her voice.

Not more than six weeks ago Calve sang in Boston. At that time she told the newspapermen she expected to start a school of voice culture if she ever lost in her fight against emboupoint. She spoke half jestingly, never thinking but that her voice would serve her for years to come.

Preston Walsh, Calve's manager, blames Chicago atmospheric conditions for her throat malady. This grew worse when she drove to Valley Park after arriving in St. Louis. The evening spent in the open aggravated the severe cold Mme. Calve caught in Chicago. When she arose she found she could not speak.

Dr. Greenfield Sluder and Dr. Oliver H. Campbell exhausted every means to bring back the diva's voice. After four hours of throat spraying her condition was worse than it had been at the start.

"I hope Mme. Calve will recover," said Dr. Campbell. "It will be some time before she can sing again. There is always an element of doubt and uncertainty."

MME. EMMA CALVE

'Strads' Without a Union Label Make Discord in Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Just because Cremona, Stradivarius and other master violin makers didn't belong to a local of the Instrument Makers' Union back in the olden days, there is discord in the Chicago Federation of Labor. It has been found violinists in the Musicians' Union were playing old "Cremona" violins instead of violins with union labels in them.

"I move that the communication be laid on the table," said R. C. Dillon, a violinist of the Musicians' Union. "I play an instrument that cost me $750. It is a 'Strad,' and I wouldn't change it for 10,000 union labels. I wouldn't give it for a carload of union-labeled instruments."

"The position of the delegate is untenable," replied Delegate Schiletz of the Piano Makers' Union.

"I suppose you think you are an artist?" he concluded, addressing himself to Dillon.

"I have been playing since I was nine years old. I have played before the crowned heads of Europe," said Dillon.

"And the bald head of America," answered Schiletz. "This artist talk is not business. I wish to see non-union instruments discarded."

"Don't let's hear any more about artists," said Delegate Ward of the Band Instrument Makers' Union. "This artistic talk makes us tired. Music from a tin pan would sound sweet to a true union man if the union label were on the tin pan."

Then a conference committee was chosen.

TRY DORR AT END OF ETTOR TRIAL

William A. Dorr, indicted for the murder of George E. Marsh in Lynn April 11, will be placed on trial in Salem soon after the close of the Caruso, Ettor and Giovannitti trial, it is believed.

ABOUT PEOPLE

The condition of the Very Reverend Walter T. Sumner, dean of the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul, Chicago, is reported as slightly improved at the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital. He is believed to be suffering from appendicitis.

WEST UNION, O., Nov. 18.—Miss Mary Bayless, formerly of West Union, has been chosen to fill the important social position of private secretary to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President-elect of the United States.

VENICE, Nov. 18.—William Marconi made his first public appearance since his accident at a luncheon given in his honor by Princess Marie Bertie, the widow of Count Carlos of Bourbon. Mr. Marconi, who suffered the loss of his right eye in an automobile accident Sept. 25, near Borghetto, surprised everybody by the naturalness of his appearance. He wears an artificial eye.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 18.—Miss Esther Cleveland, who is was reported had become engaged to Randolph D. West, son of Andrew D. West of Princeton, will make her debut this evening at Westlands, the Cleveland home in the city.

Miss Cleveland is the second, though eldest living child of the late ex-President. She is about 20 years of age, winsome of person and charming of manner.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Judge Kenesaw M. Landis of the United States District Court told George Primrose and Lew Dockstader that 30 years ago he was an usher in a theatre at Logansport, Ind.

"If you will usher again we will guarantee to play there next week," said Dockstader.

"Would you? If other duties did not press I believe I'd take you," replied the judge.

DENVER, Nov. 18. — Announcement made of the approaching marriage of Miss Blanche Bates, the actress, and Police Commissioner George Creel of Denver, which will take place on Thanksgiving day at the country home of Miss Bates near Ossining, N. Y.

The bride will be attended by Mrs. Robert Hughes, wife of the author and playwright, and Judge Ben B. Lindsay of Denver will be best man.

Frank E. Seagrave of Providence has been appointed by Professor Pickering of the Harvard Observatory to take charge of the big telescope through which all important observations at the station are made. He succeeds Professor Oliver C. Wendell, who died Nov. 5, and will assume his duties within two weeks.

BOB FISHER GENTLE CLERK

Robert Thomas Fisher, Harvard '12—Big Bob of gridiron fame—is at work in a downtown department store. Just now he is selling silk. Later he may be found behind another counter. He is there to thoroughly learn the business from the ground floor up.

For young Mr. Fisher, like many other discerning college men, is finding out that there are fine openings in the department store business for the best brain and brawn that ever shone on a football or other athletic field.

The husky all-American guard is right at home behind a counter at C. F. Hovey & Co.'s store.

But the captain of last year's Crimson has prospects and they are bright. It is supposed that he will eventually become a member of the firm. It is no secret that he is studying all phases of the modern department store game and he admitted that it had football strategy, even the struggles with the Yale giants, eclipsed for complex problems.

Seats Number Signals.

"But I like it!" confided Robert with a burst of enthusiasm. "It's immense! Fascinating! Something new every hour. Talk about number signals! Say the seven, forty-six-thirty' and similar combinations of the secret code are not in it. It's a maze of figures and fractions.

"Ah say now, be easy," almost gasped Captain "Bob" when someone asked him how he liked the work. "You see, I haven't been here long enough to be of any value as to ideas. Only came in October. What do I like least of most about it? Couldn't say. I like it all. It's interesting work, but let me tell you there's a whole lot to learn. I feel like an infant even if I don't happen to resemble one. Yes, I'm slipping from department to department, getting direct experience.

"Here's some important stuff. Some chaps can tell values by feeling it. My hands are a little too rough yet. No, I haven't seen Maggie Pepper. I understand it deals with a department store. What does Maggie think? Believes the up-to-date department store should furnish its patrons with motion picture and vaudeville, pink teas and free shaves, does she?

Maggie Pepper's Right.

"Well, Maggie certainly is looking ahead. But there's logic in that idea. The patrons like attractive surroundings. I haven't formulated any plans or innovations yet. Why should I? I'm only a clerk. But there is one phase that I think affords big possibilities.

"I refer to the male prejudice. I know what it is. I feel that way myself and so have my friends, but I don't any longer. Marriage cures some chaps in that line when they have to match dress goods and change things for their wives.

"I've noticed men since I've been here. Some of them look sheepish as can be. They mope along without lifting their eyes as if it were a penance. But I think men are getting over their false pride gradually. I think the modern department store should be made as attractive for the men as the women."

LLOYD'S EYEGLASSES AND SPECTACLES

OUR GLASSES ARE ACCURATE

Because we have a great plenty and largest variety of material; our work is neither skimped nor stretched; tests are rigid; experienced and trustworthy opticians; perfect adjusting.

5 STORES, USE THE MOST CONVENIENT
315 Washington St. 310 Boylston St. 75 Summer St.
BOSTON
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE,
230 Essex St., SALEM.
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

CALL MAGRATH IN GIBSON TRIAL

GOSHEN, N. Y., Nov. 18.—At the trial of Attorney Barton W. Gibson, which opens here today, when he is charged with murdering Mrs. Rosa Mendelik Szabo, who was his client, by strangling her while in the waters of Greenwood Lake on July 19, last, Dr. George B. Magrath, medical examiner of Suffolk County, Mass., will be called as an expert witness for the defence.

The State will seek to prove that Gibson killed the woman in order to gain possession of her estate, amounting to about $10,000. Gibson has contended that the woman was accidentally drowned when a rowboat in which they were seated overturned.

One of the State's chief witnesses will be Dr. Otto H. Schultze, a coroner's physician in New York, who at Gibson's preliminary hearing testified: "The cause of death was strangulation by compression of the upper part of the neck and floor of the mouth from without." Dr. Magrath will be called to refute this claim.

On one hand the prosecution alleges that Gibson is a latter day rival of Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde." The State accuses him of being a silk stocking slayer, of having spun a legal web about the fortune of the Countess and of having then lured her to death.

The prosecution further alleges that Gibson knew her affairs so well that he was able to gain complete possession of her fortune by introducing a woman, alleged to have been her mother, who forged a waiver of citation.

The defence maintains that the lawyer was the victim of circumstantial evidence. Gibson has stated that evidence would be adduced to show that the Countess Szabo, whose resistive set afoot the investigation that landed him behind the bars, was unknown to him. The law alleged that the woman who was drowned in Greenwood Lake was a Mrs. Ritter, and he will hold to this contention.

Gibson has been before the public on a number of other occasions during his legal career. In four instances his name has been mentioned in death inquiries.

BROMFIELD CHURCH SOLD FOR $400,000

The Bromfield Street Methodist Episcopal Church on Bromfield street brought $400,000 under the terms of an agreement to which final papers will be passed this week. The site, which cost $8,000, 106 years ago, will be used for an eight-story office building. It is expected the congregation will worship in a new edifice, with other congregations, in the Fenway.

It is expected services at the old church will end within a few Sundays, and that it will worship at the Fremont Street Methodist Church until some definite plan has been formulated for the future of the church societies.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

Start Today!

Solve 6 Pictures AND WIN $50.00

IN THE AMERICAN'S WEEKLY

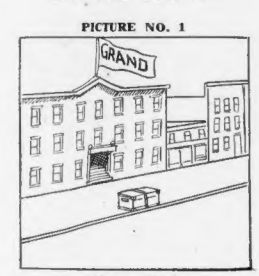
Puzzle Contest

New Series Starts Today

$100 CASH PRIZES EACH WEEK

TRY IT NOW!

PICTURE NO. 1



What Is This?

Answer.....

.....

Name.....

Address.....

The Weekly Prizes

FIRST PRIZE, $50.00
2nd Prize, $5.00 | 6th Prize, $5.00
3rd Prize, $5.00 | 7th Prize, $1.00
4th Prize, $5.00 | 8th to 31st
5th Prize, $5.00 | Prizes, $1.00 each

Read These Contest Rules Carefully

The Boston AMERICAN "Puzzle" Contest is a competition for children and grown-ups, too. Weekly prizes to the amount of $100.00 cash will be given to the winners, Everyone, irrespective of age or residence, is eligible to compete.

Each person may send in ten sets of answers, but no person is entitled to more than one prize. A set consists of six pictures (Nos. 1 to 6), with answers attached. Only complete sets will be considered, viz., if a person wishes to send more than one answer to any picture, he or she must send a complete set (Nos. 1 to 6) for each extra answer submitted.

All sets must be enclosed and sent under ONE cover. Do not send separately. Answers sent in before Picture 6 appears will not be considered.

Answers to the puzzle pictures may be in writing, or longhand, either with pencil or pen; they may be written on the typewriter or they may be printed in any manner to suit the fancy of the contestant. Participation in any contest now being run or which may be run by the AMERICAN will not bar anyone from competing. Each member of a family may be allowed to submit ten sets. All employes of the AMERICAN and their families are barred from competing.

The Prizes will be awarded to the persons sending the nearest correct set of solutions. Each set will be considered separately. If two or more persons send the same number of correct solutions in one set, neatness and exact accuracy will be considered and the prizes awarded accordingly. But if the tie cannot be decided in that way, the tied contestants will each receive similar prizes. Do not send your answers until the complete set of 6 pictures has been published. Keep them from day to day, and after the 6th picture appears each week, arrange them in numerical order and then send them in all at one time as directed. All answers must be mailed and addressed to Puzzle Contest Editor at the main office of the Boston AMERICAN, 86 Summer street, Boston.

Do not register your letter.

There will be six pictures in each series in the Evening AMERICAN, but only in the following editions: Special Extra Edition, Extra City Edition, Second Edition, Home Edition and Fifth Edition.

The solutions to these pictures must be sent in on the coupons clipped from the daily AMERICAN, with pictures attached. The AMERICAN reserves the right to make any change in or addition to these conditions that may be deemed necessary and the decision of the Puzzle Editor is to be absolutely final.

Answers to each of the 6 solutions must be attached to the 6 puzzle pictures and must be mailed in time to reach the Boston AMERICAN office before midnight on Monday, Nov. 25th.

Picture No. 2 will appear in the Special Extra, Extra City, Second, Home and Fifth Editions of TOMORROW'S AMERICAN

When In Doubt Buy Of OSGOOD
New England's Greatest Furniture Store
244-256 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON
Just a Few Steps From the Boylston and Essex Tunnel Stations

A Tuesday Bargain That Is Sure to Attract Attention

This Quar. Oak Table 12.50

This Quar. Oak Table 12.50

Dining Tables Exactly like illustration. Genuine quartered oak, 6 foot extension, round top, pedestal base, with claw feet. Regularly $18.00. Our price this week 12.50

YOUR CREDIT IS ALWAYS GOOD HERE

You Save Money
Here's Proof

The U. S. Government Laboratory Test shows "Ceresota" flour to be worth from 14 cents to 79 cents per barrel more than are other well known and extensively advertised flours.

Why not buy the best and get your money's worth?

Ceresota Flour
The prize bread flour of the world

The Northwestern Consolidated Milling Company, Minneapolis, Minn.

BOSTON MAY NOT GET THE A. A. U. AMATEUR BOXING TOURNEY

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTING NEWS

DEAN ACADEMY IS ANXIOUS TO FIGHT FOR SCHOOL TITLE

Silk Hat Harry's Divorce Suit

Exit the Suffragette-Judge

Copyright, 1913, by the National News Association

By Tad

YOUTWO MEN ARE ACCUSED OF BREAKING UP A MEETING OF SUFFRAGETTES
WHATS ON THAT STRING SIR?
SH-H-H
WHATS ON ME STRING HARRY?
HAND IT UP HERE SIR.
YES'M IT'S THE BRICKLAYERS HONOR
I'LL JUST SEE FOR MYSELF AND IF ITS —
?
CURIOSITY KILLED A CAT
QUEER.
HELP!!
HER HONOR WHAT ABOUT ME, THE YOUNG MAN WHO BUSTED UP THAT SUFFRAGETTE MEETING DISCHARGED!!
Tad

BOSTON MAY NOT GET BIG BOUTS

By JACK CONWAY.

The leaders of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States will meet in New York today and it is expected that several important rulings will be made affecting the amateur athletes of the country. Some changes are expected to be made in the rules governing water polo and boxing.

The A. A. U. moguls will also decide where the national boxing championships will be held. James E. Sullivan, secretary and treasurer of the A. A. U., yesterday declared that New Orleans is anxious to hold the title bouts for the "simon pure" athletes and that the big Southern city would probably be awarded this great annual classic.

Boston Best Sporting City.

If New Orleans gets the national championships, it will be a sad blow to Boston and all New England. For the past few years the national championships have been staged in Mechanics building and have proved a tremendous success.

The bouts have always drawn thousands of people and as a result the coffers of the A. A. U. were filled to overflowing. New England boxing lovers have never failed to support these amateur tourneys and I should think that the powers that rule amateur athletics in this country would remember this when they decide where the bouting championships will be held.

There was a movement underway last year to hold the championship bouts in New York but Augustus T. Kiroy, James E. Sullivan and the other leaders in the A. A. U., finally decided that Boston was the only city in the country where the bouts could be held and at the same time be sure of being a financial success.

New Orleans has developed some sterling amateur mit wielders during the past few years. This is no reason, however, why the bustling city on the other side of the Mason and Dixon line should be given preference over th greatest sporting centre in the world—a city, th people of which have always supported amateur athletics better than any other group of sport lovers in the land.

Few Professional Bouts.

There are few professional bouts of importance this week. An open amateur bowling tournament will be held at the Forest Hills A. A. tonight, and there are sure to be some spirited contests.

The Boston Athletic Association will hold another one of its popular amateur shows on December 14. Bouts will be held in five classes, namely, 110, 125, 140, 158 and heavyweight classes. Battles close with George V. Brown on December 7.

SCHOONER WESTWARD SOLD TO GERMANS

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—The American racing schooner Westward of New York, which won such a sensational series of triumphs in European waters in 1911, has been bought by a syndicate of Hamburg yachtsmen.

DEAN OUT FOR SCHOOL TITLE

FRANKLIN BOYS READY FOR OAK PARK AND LAFAYETTE

MALDEN HIGH SURE WINNER

THE time is drawing near when post-season games will be the feature of the local schoolboy gridiron and we may expect to see many good battles.

As a general rule, numerous challenges are exchanged between the different teams annually, but a large majority of them count for naught, as when the time comes around for the game the teams cannot agree upon terms satisfactory to both.

MANY CHALLENGES FOR LOCAL TEAMS.

It is customary each year for schoolboy teams from all over the country to hurl their challenges at local schools, as the teams developed in Massachusetts are generally good ones. Through some mistake, however, the outside elevens get the wrong impression as to the best team and incidentally challenge the wrong team. This was the case last season. The St. John's Prep School of Danvers was selected as the best schoolboy eleven to uphold the honor of the local schools.

St. John's had made an excellent record and justly deserved the honor, but there were other teams even better. One of these was Dean Academy.

May Play Dean Academy.

The Lafayette High School of Buffalo and the Oak Park High School of Chicago, which are considered two of the best school teams in the country, may play Dean after the season has finished. Lafayette is now negotiating for a game with the Franklin boys were on November 30, and it is likely that Coach Sullivan will accept.

The Lafayette team has cleaned up everything in New York State and their eight games have piled up 259 points.

Coach Sullivan has also issued a challenge to the Oak Park High School, to which he states that he will play them either at Chicago or Franklin.

If Oak Park High accepts the challenge it will probably play with Lafayette at Buffalo on one Saturday and at Franklin the following Saturday, as the Buffalo school has also challenged them. The Buffalo Chamber of Commerce has agreed to pay the expenses of the Oak Park eleven to Buffalo.

There has been such a mixup among the suburban school teams that it is possible that Oak Park will accept Dean's challenge and recognize the Franklin boys as the most worthy New England representatives.

Malden Is Sure Winner.

As things look now in the Suburban League, Malden will win the title with ease, as it has defeated both Everett and Somerville, its strongest competitors, and Melrose High, another member of the league. It plays Medford on Thanksgiving Day and barring accidents should win easily.

This would go to show that Malden is the most worthy team to play Oak Park High, for the unbiased school followers throughout the State consider Everett High a much better eleven.

"WORK OF YALE TEAM WAS NOT OF BEST,"—M'DEVITT

By ELMER McDEVITT.

Former Yale guard and now coaching Eli team.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 18.—The results of Saturday's games were very interesting. Most of the games played were of great importance from the big game point of view to the teams playing. Some were also of very great importance to the football public.

Notable among those were the Yale-Princeton, the Harvard-Dartmouth, Pennsylvania-Carlisle and Michigan-Cornell games. In the Middle West, the Minnesota-Wisconsin game settled in the "conference" championship in favor of Wisconsin.

Princeton's showing was a surprise to many, and Yale's a disappointment. Princeton's team was a fine one. The team had more aggressiveness and determined confidence than it had shown any time before this season.

The team play was almost perfect in its smooth lines and finish. The unity between line and backfield was all that could be desired. The lane had improved wonderfully over its earlier showing. It had got strength and plenty of drive and speed.

Men in Perfect Condition.

Its physical condition seemed perfect. It played the slightly heavier line of the Blue to a standstill.

The Princeton tackles and ends were especially effective, they stopping most of the Yale plays. The ends of these men had improved greatly especially that of the ends, who from ordinary ends earlier in the season had developed into fine ends against Yale.

The Princeton backfield, good all season, was at its best. The line plunging of DeWitt was of the highest type.

The other backs were very strong on defence, too. They grew stronger with the game and toward the end were very effective.

"Hobey" Baker's work was fine on offense and especially so on running in kicks, where his work was spectacular.

S. Baker's running of the team was very good. He had lots of snap and fire and his generalship was perfect.

Princeton's whole plan of attack was well conceived and carried through.

Blue Team Outplayed.

Yale played better than at any time this season, and yet, on the teal play was outplayed slightly.

The game showed that Yale has much to do this week if the team is to win from Harvard. The Blue must have its finished form Saturday. Yale men are wondering if it can do it.

Harvard showed its great power by winning from the strong Dartmouth team. Dartmouth has a powerful team. The Princeton won handily from the Green in an early season game. Dartmouth at that time was in the formative stage. Since then, hard work and a great amount of good coaching has been put on the Green, with the result that it was a great machine when it met Harvard.

Wendell Back in Form.

The Crimson had its best team on the field. Captain Wendell was in and showed his form. That Harvard has a great team is beyond doubt. Its work finished off its early season promises. Brickley was effective again. He is a great kicker.

The Pennsylvania-Carlisle game furnished the big surprise of the day. The Pennsylvania team again showed great fighting spirit and pulled out a hard and well earned victory.

Cornell went out to Ann Arbor and met defeat from Michigan. Cornell has improved greatly and is now showing good football.

ONE MORE FOR ATHLETICS.

HAVANA, Nov. 18.—The Philadelphia American League team defeated the Almendares 6 to 5 yesterday.

Havard Men to Get Yale Tickets Before Tomorrow Afternoon

Harvard men applying for seats in the Yale bleachers will get them before tomorrow afternoon according to an announcement made by William Garcelon, graduate treasurer of the Harvard Athletic Association. Every eligible Harvard man who applied on time will get his pasteboards.

At Yale field the Crimson rooters have been assigned the west stands and have been given Section 30, the centre section, as a cheering stand. Section 31 and 32, on the forty and thirty-yard lines, are to be filled with the holders of the tickets of the members of the Harvard team, ex-players, freshmen squads, and so on. Section 33 is composed of varsity club members, ex-players, and some seniors who, with two tickets, have secured seats on the twenty-yard line.

The sections on the other side of the cheering stand will be filled with graduates applying for one seat. Eleven hundred such applications were died, while 7,100 graduates applied for two seats each. From sections 21 to 26 and from 34 to 38 these graduates will be located.

From other applications the sections of the field of play and on the straight-away were filled, sections 88, 39 and 40 being filled with Harvard men. The corner stands, numbers 22, 23, 37 and 38, are also in Harvard hands.

Special detectives and great efforts are being used to detect speculation. Where this is found to have occurred, the tickets will not be considered valid, and those who applied for them will be blacklisted.

Ad Wolgast Is Ready to Meet Lightweights

By W. W. NAUGHTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Lightweight Champion Ad Wolgast is in town looking as chipper and confident as ever. Whatever doubts the wise heads of sportdom may entertain in regard to Wolgast's ruggedness do not affect the champion. The little pugilist does not seem to be troubled with suspicions that he is not as good as ever.

He says that he made one mistake and that was when he agreed to risk his championship in a match with Joe Rivers too soon after being operated on for appendicitis.

It turned out all right, however, and during the time Wolgast was laid up he treated himself thoroughly. He believes now that he has fully recovered from the effects of his operation and that there is little fear of any one relieving him of his crown for some time to come. That the lightweight king really feels the way he speaks is made evident by the plans he has formed.

He says he will box Joe Mandot and any other challenger that may crop up after the Thanksgiving Day go with Willie Ritchie. Then he will make a grand tour of the world, carrying his championship to the very doors of the foreign lightweights and daring them to take it away from him.

BIG TICKET DEMAND BY YALE ROOTERS

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Nov. 18.—Owing to the unprecedented demand for seats at the Yale-Harvard football game here Saturday many Yale alumni will be unable to witness the game. Edward Thompson, manager of the Yale ticket department, today returned to the mails 1,000 applications from Yale alumni.

THANKSGIVING HELPS

POULTRY SHEARS, $2.50 to $4
Help in carving. Easily separate the joints of poultry and game.

RODGERS' KNIFE SHARPENERS
$1.00 to $3.00
No skill required to keep your carver sharp.

CHOICE LINE OF ENGLISH CARVING AND TABLE KNIVES.
Everything in Good Cutlery
Cutlery of All Kinds Sharpened and Repaired.
DAME, STODDARD CO.
976 Washington St. Opp. Bromfield

SIDELIGHTS ON SPORTS

By A. H. C. MITCHELL

JOE WOOD, the Red Sox pitcher, won thirty-four games and lost five in the last season. We all knew this some weeks ago, but the official averages have recently been published showing that Joe led all the other twirlers and not the best mark ever made by an American League pitcher. Since the official figures were published various writers throughout the country have been trying to prove there are several pitchers that have it on Joseph. First, they picked on Walter Johnson and showed that he was Wood's superior in all departments. Then they took Eddie Plank, who finished third in the official records, and proved that he did infinitely better work than our young man. After that they picked out Ed Walsh and clearly demonstrated that the Chicago Iron Man was so far ahead of Wood that there was no comparison. Next thing they will have the Red Sox management asking writers on Joseph will a view of sending him to the minors.

Let 'em rave.

When Joe joined the Red Sox he wasn't old enough to sign his own contracts. His father had to do it for him. He dribbled along for a couple of seasons showing marvelous speed but nothing else as an asset. He was as careless of his habits as he was in keeping the base runners hugging first base. Anybody who could reach first could steal second. Opponents quickly grew wise to this fact. The various Red Sox managers tried to cure Joe of his bad habits, on and off the field, but Joe was a young fellow, good looking and popular and he was a hard man to handle. Finally he became of age and at the close of the season he was invited to visit the office of President John I. Taylor. Mr. Taylor asked him casually if he had formed any idea as to the salary he would get for the following season.

Yes, Joe had formed an idea and he nonchalantly mentioned it.

Mr. Taylor then made the youngster straighten up by announcing that not only would he not get what he wanted, but that he would suffer a cut in salary. Joseph arose in some heat and made for the door.

"Wait a minute; don't be in a hurry," remarked Mr. Taylor. "I just want to tell you a few things and get them off my mind." Thereupon he gently placed young Mr. Wood on the green rug that embellished his private office and ripped him up the back, officially speaking. The club president spoke with a vehemence that rapidly withered up everything in the immediate vicinity and wound up something like this:

"You ought to be the best pitcher in the world, bar none. Instead of that what are you? I'm ashamed to tell you. The idea of a young fellow with your ability taking baseball as a joke. You want more money? Get out in the box and earn it as you should."

Joseph sneaked out the back door and took the first train to his home in Pennsylvania. He peered over that dressing down all Winter, but when the contract came along in the Spring he signed it without a whisper, although Mr. Taylor made good his threat of reduced salary.

That was the turning point in Wood's career. Next season he attended strictly to business and earnestly tried to overcome his faults. We all know what success attended his efforts. In spite of what some writers try to prove Wood is the best pitcher in the American League, and as he is still young he will doubtless continue to be a pitching wonder for many years to come.

MILLER HUGGINS, the cute little manager of the St. Louis Nationals, went to Milwaukee last week to attend the annual meeting of the minor leagues and with a view of pulling off a trade which might strengthen his club. But when he arrived he found he had neglected to bring Mrs. Helen Britton's consent with him, hence all propositions came to naught. One of the first deals that was put up to him involved Hauser, the St. Louis shortstop. The Chicago club wanted Hauser to fill the vacancy that will arise when Tinker goes to Cincinnati as manager of the Reds. The idea was to let Tinker go to Cincinnati in exchange for Mitchell, Grant and Phelan. This deal computed, the Cubs would turn to St. Louis and try a swap which would give them Hauser. Huggins was willing, it is said, but he had to hurry back to St. Louis to consult Mrs. Britton, who owns the club.

GREAT FIGHT ON IN CITY LEAGUE

With one quarter of the City League bowling season finished, the "dopesters" are beginning to form their opinions and pick their favorites. The first quarter proved to be a good one, and will stand out conspicuously during the existence of the organization. One league record was broken and another was in danger all the time.

The new mark was established by the Chauncy team at the Casino alleys on October 23, when Bill Beatty's quintet drove home a new team total of 1624, rolling against the Casino team. It is not likely that this mark will stand, however, as the work of the other teams is improving at every meeting, and they promise of bettering it.

Many Favor Chauncy.

Many "fans" are willing to concede the City League championship to Chauncy right away. With such a quintet as Poehler, Holmes, Griffin, Beatty and Paige, they consider it unbeatable.

There are other teams to be considered, however. At least four others—possibly five—are still in the running, and will give Chauncy a good fight for the remainder of the season.

Figures show Casino to be the best team, but figures do not always count. Undoubtedly Casino is a good team, a team which will finish one, two or three, but luck seems to be against it.

Chauncy is a team which shines at the right time. If it is matched against an easy opponent it does not work hard because it would be nonsense to do so. But if Chauncy is put against a good team it shows its real worth, and generally finishes in front.

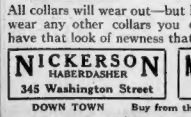
Briefs on Bowling.

They're all going tomorrow evening, and Fred Hartford is just wondering where he will put them. Of course you know that Billy Gregg and "Bo" Hartford meet in the first ten strings of their match at the Arch street alleys tomorrow.

* * *

A large list of entries have been received from the B. A. A. Five-Men House Bowling tournament, which will be held soon.

NO WEAK POINTS



A collar is no stronger than its weakest part.

There are no weak parts in a Frisbie Collar. They are the best made of any collar at the price—and this making is reflected in their ability to resist wear.

All collars will wear out—but Frisbie collars will outwear any other collars you can get. They always have that look of newness that men admire.

NICKERSON HABERDASHER
345 Washington Street
DOWN TOWN

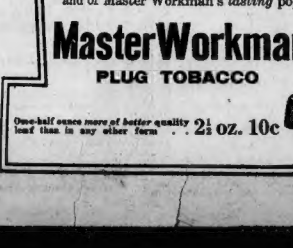
MELZAR SMITH CO
78 Boylston Street
UP TOWN

Buy from the Nearer

Best on Earth at 15 Cents
2 for a Quarter

Frisbie Collars
Hand-Made

Here's a Smoke Secret Worth Knowing



Your hot, dry mouth and burning tongue comes from smoking dry, fast burning, granulated tobacco. The only way to take all the bite out of tobacco is to keep all the natural moisture and flavor in the tobacco.

The only way to keep moisture in the tobacco is to compress it into plug form and further protect it from the drying air with a natural leaf wrapper.

If you have been smoking dry, granulated or shredded tobaccos for convenience, you've been smoking tobacco with a flavor as far from the real tobacco flavor as winter hay is from fresh grass.

Buy a plug of Master Workman tobacco today — whittle off a fresh pipeful. You'll discover the secret of a perfect smoke and of Master Workman's lasting popularity.

MasterWorkman
PLUG TOBACCO

One-half ounce more of better quality leaf than in any other form . . 2½ oz. 10c

KEENE FITZPATRICK WRITES OF TIGERS AND YALE TEAMS.

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTING NEWS

BRICKLEY AND FELTON HARVARD'S MAINSTAYS FOR GREAT BATTLE

YALE WAS LUCKY TO TIE TIGERS —Fitzpatrick

By KEENE FITZPATRICK.
Coach and Trainer of the Princeton Football team.

No student, no graduate and no lookeron can appreciate what the difference of three points meant to the players on the Princeton team when Pumpelly of Yale kicked that field goal in the last minute and ten seconds of play. Only a man who has worked with them all season knows the disappointment which an unexpected stroke of fortune means to an eleven which had already counted the game won.

Pumpelly deserved all credit. It was a wonderful boot, one of the finest ever seen. The odds against him were at least 100 to 1. If the game had been won by his kick it would have gone down in history as one of the most dramatic things in sport. Yale did not win the game, but that last drop kick robbed Princeton of as hard won a victory as ever was played on Osborn Field.

one of the most dramatic things in sport. Yale did not win the game but that last drop kick robbed Princeton of as hard won a victory as ever was played on Osborn field.

Princeton Deserved to Win.

Six to six is the score. On the record books no one will be able to go back on the figures.

Holding an official connection with the Princeton team, I don't like to go back of the score, but, looking at the game from a fair and square point of view, I think that Princeton deserved a victory by a score of at least a touchdown better than the Yale figures.

The most hopeful of the coaches of the Princeton team were surprised at the fine work of the eleven Saturday. I said two weeks ago that the Princeton line would be a hundred per cent. stronger against Yale than it was against Harvard. It was at least twice again as fast as against the Crimson.

Man for man and position for position, Princeton outplayed Yale in the line. The work of Captain Pendleton's forwards was the finest part of the afternoon. The Princeton backfield worked smoothly. Not a screw was loose in the offensive machine.

Baker and Bomeisler Stars.

Two head lines stand out individually today—"Hobey" Baker for Princeton and "Dug" Bomeisler for Yale. The Princeton back and the Yale end were a show all in themselves. "Hobey" Baker's all around work and generalship in open field running have never been surpassed on a football field.

For weeks the Yale team had been especially prepared to stop Baker. His style of running, his way of dodging were carefully observed by Yale coaches, who watched the Princeton attack against Dartmouth and Harvard. When Yale starts in to prepare for an individual, the New Haven system generally develops a plan which puts a stop on ground gaining by the particular person to be watched.

In every play Yale had at least two men watching Baker. When he was receiving kicks there were always a couple of Yale players upon him as he was catching the ball. In spite of this, and in spite of the softness of the field, which was another thing against him, Baker time after time reeled off substantial gains with Yale tacklers falling helpless on every side of him.

Bomeisler a Mighty End.

Bomeisler is one of football's greatest ends. The combination of weight and speed, headiness and aggressiveness, which he showed has been equalled by few players of wing positions. Handicapped by a bad shoulder and an old injury to his thigh, Bomeisler was in every play. He was one man who rarely missed "Hobey" Baker. Once Baker passed him for a substantial gain, while Bomeisler clutched at the empty air. For the rest of the game Bomeisler showed a sureness in tackling which caused Baker to give him a wide berth as often as possible.

The duel between Bluethenthal, of Princeton, and Ketcham, of Yale, to the centre of the two opposing lines was one of the gamest struggles I have seen in championship football. Both men are absolutely in the first class of snap backs, but looking at their work from a fair standpoint, I must again give the preference to Princeton.

HARVARD DEPENDS UPON KICKERS TO WIN GAME FROM YALE

CHARLEY BRICKLEY AND SAM FELTON HOPE OF CRIMSON IN BIG BATTLE SATURDAY

FELTON AND BRICKLEY, TWO MIGHTY KICKERS UPON WHOM HARVARD DEPENDS FOR WIN IN GREAT CLASH WITH OLD ELI.

TEAM THAT DOES BEST KICKING WILL PROBABLY WIN AT NEW HAVEN.

By RILEY.

FOOTBALL is football—F-O-O-T ball!

That is what Harvard and Yale have proved after six weeks of trying out the minor leagues, leading up to their final work-outs in 1912 against the good old Princeton Tiger. Reluctantly, but gradually and surely, the greatest football coaches who have ever trod the turf of the toaster-field are coming to the popular point of view—that FOOTBALL IS FOOTBALL.

* * *

THEY fought hard and died hard. Being chock full of crimson blood, whereof a few gallons might be spilled with no loss of vitality, they clung to the old battling notion that football was fist, leg and muscle fighting, guided by keen mental direction of fist, leg and muscle. Inch by inch that notion was torn away from them. Along in the wake of seven-years' wars and forty-round fights has gone old-fashioned football.

* * *

SO take this tip. The team that does the best footwork will win next Saturday's encounter in New Haven. The old days of individual star dashes at critical moments are gone.

* * *

THE chances of flukes or fumbles are few. The men are trained and coached too well in the fundamentals. There may be a Snodgrass or a Merkle lurking within the Crimson camp or the Blue squadron. But he has yet to show his face. If there be such, he has studiously concealed his identity.

* * *

IN the important games this year there have been few touchdowns. There have been no runs of more than forty yards. Of scattered dashes, counting from twenty to thirty yards, there have been several. Since they did not occur consecutively they failed to count.

* * *

THE forward pass has yielded more loss than gain. In that play, many elevens that have not much at stake have succeeded once in awhile. But it is a desperate play, ineffectual against the stalwart, well-schooled defence of the "big leaguers," although frequently successful in the preparatory and high school organizations. It is a resort of desperation in the generalship of the strongest teams.

* * *

YALE and Harvard have not yet applied the forward pass successfully in any serious emergency. Yale tried it Saturday, but with no result in the score. Harvard has learned to intercept it more successfully than to deliver it. So the Harvard scheme of offence does not appear to include the play except as a last resort.

* * *

BY skillful football, Harvard has won its success this year. Kicking produced the only scores in the Yale-Princeton and Harvard-Dartmouth games. Little new has been taught to the linesmen or the tackling backs. The "big leaguers" are practically at a deadlock in that respect. The forward pass is erratic and only to be used in dire emergency. So Kicking will decide the game next Saturday—barring accident.

* * *

PUMPELLY, of the Yale substitute halfback, isolated a field goal from midfield Saturday, tying the Princeton game. DeWitt and Pendleton outkicked Flynn of Yale, and Princeton's attack and offence otherwise than in kicking were both stronger than the Yale attack and defence. In this case Yale tied up the game through sheer good luck and inspiration. But kicking did it.

* * *

THIS same good luck and inspiration may deaden the spirit in precision and machine-like play of Harvard next Saturday, as it often has before. But the chance this year is less than ever before. Felton, punting, and Brickley, kicking goals from field, are too methodically correct to let Yale go onto the field first choice in the game. Punt for punt, Felton should outkick any man or men Yale can produce. Unless shaken in nerve, Brickley should keep on kicking until he puts over a field goal—which, based on averages, should be about once in every three or four attempts. In other words, Brickley bats from .250 to .333 with his toe.

* * *

AT Yale they still rely upon the old headline idea and Yale still wins football games that way. But in the past four years, Harvard, for the first time, has forced Yale into a deadlock and sooner or later, if this style is persisted in, Harvard will turn the balance in its own direction. Because the longer persistence persists, the less inspiration will inspire.

* * *

YOU can safely figure that Haughton will not waste his men's strength upon ceaseless line-battering. He will have Felton kicking at the beginning, knowing that Felton can out-punt his opponent and that his own men will at least be as sure as his opponents in receiving punts. He will throw all of his battering energy into just about three successive rushes down the field. If one of these three rushes nets a touchdown, well and good. Otherwise he will rely upon sheer kicking and stalwart defence.

EDWARDS THINKS YALE WILL LOSE

By BILL EDWARDS.
Written for the Boston American by the ex-Princeton star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Seldom have I seen a Princeton team play a better game. Heralded throughout the country as a light team, unable to cope against a heavy one such as Yale's, Princeton made a great presentation of clean, straight forward football Saturday. Princeton out-generaled and out-played Yale and kicked as well. It was really a Princeton victory, and Yale may well be proud to have tied the score.

I don't recall a greater halfback at Princeton or on any other team than "Hobey" Baker. He was the life of the game. His runs were marvelous. He seemed to lose his footing easily in this game, which prevented his making more than he did. His handling of punts was remarkable and showed great improvement over his handling of them against Harvard. If ever there was a man in football history entitled to honor it was "Hobey" Baker in Saturday's game.

But it was not to go down in the records that Baker was to share the honors alone. Pumpelly, big strong and husky, rose to the occasion in such a way that he will be entitled to a conspicuous place in the annals of football as one who snatched victory from defeat in the eleventh hour. Few long hays have ever been made in championship games, such a long goal from the field as was made by Pumpelly Saturday.

Says DeWitt Outkicked Flynn.

Again, I cannot help referring to Baker, whose "artful dodging" was most spectacular and whose ground gaining ability made many first downs. His open field running was the big feature of the game. I cannot give too much praise to DeWitt, whose kicking in Saturday's game stands out as well, if not better, than Flynn's. He placed his kicks much better than Flynn. DeWitt also showed wonderful line backing ability.

Princeton's line men played a mighty fine game and Yale found it very difficult to gain the first down against them. The Yale team was up against a defence which seemed bound to defeat them and in the last part of the game Yale played an entirely open game, taking all chances in order to score.

The Princeton team played eleven men in every play. There was a great deal of drive to their plays. They showed the best offence that I have seen in years. The coaches are entitled to great credit for the way they handled the team. While not a big, heavy team, it is the gamest Princeton team I have ever seen. And the tackling of the team was better Saturday than it has been in two years.

As for Yale, the team is not in shape today to beat Harvard. Only by hard work will they be able to beat Harvard.

Football a Kicking Game Now.

The game Saturday shows for one thing conclusively that the game of football is still football—that it is a game of ball in which the ball is propelled by the feet.

While Princeton showed more head work than at any time during the year, if in the Harvard game, she had kicked as frequently as they did Saturday when they were in their own territory, the story of the Harvard-Princeton game might have been different. Coaches cannot fail to realize the advantage which can be gained by playing a kicking game. This was clearly demonstrated Saturday.

The score does not tell the whole story of the game, because Yale gained very few downs compared with the number of first downs gained by Princeton.

Princeton Players Stand by Waller

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 18.—Princeton is plunged in gloom today as a result of the tie game with Yale and the ensuing blast to Princeton's slightest claim to championship honors. The Tigers had held a glimmer of hope for a three-cornered tie with Yale and Harvard.

Princeton players who participated in the game with Yale objected strenuously today to the disqualification of Earle Waller, the Tiger half-back, for rough playing in the second period of the game. It is the consensus of opinion among the Tigers that Waller was thoroughly innocent of any wrong intention in either the Yale or Dartmouth games.

South End Patrons
Find it handy to drop into
JOHN T. DUNN & CO.
Cor. Dover St. and Shawmut Ave.
For a glass of Harvard BEER
"It's Always Delicious"

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
If your purpose has Vanadium strength—and you go into the automobile question without prejudice and with a determination to make your dollars serve you to the best possible advantage—you'll come out with a Vanadium-built Ford.
Every third car a Ford—and every Ford user a Ford "booster". New prices—runabout $525—touring car $600—delivery car $625—town car $800—with all equipment, f. o. b. Detriot. Get particulars from Ford Motor Company, 650 Beacon St., Boston, or direct from Detroit factory.

Talbot's BI-WEEKLY Bargains
Tuesday and Wednesday Only No. 17
Men's Guaranteed All Wool, Gray and Tan Flannel Shirts 1.70
Actual $3.00 Value
Made with French Cuff, Military Pocket, Smoke Pearl Buttons.
395-403 Washington Street

LOOK AS FAR AS YOU LIKE
You Can't Beat
NAVIN & KELLY FOR CLOTHES
NO MONEY DOWN—ONE DOLLAR A WEEK
Men's Clothing
We have received a new Fall stock of men's clothing such as you seldom see. Suits and Overcoats of the swellest patterns, from the best designers in this country and made by one of Fifth Avenue's highest priced tailors. All colors, designs and sizes to suit the most fastidious, and at prices to suit any pocket book, $12 to $25.
NO MONEY DOWN
ONE DOLLAR A WEEK
THE FAMOUS "KIRSHBAUM" LONDON OVERCOAT
$10 to $17.50. New split sleeve, soft roll front. Hand tailored from all wool fabrics. In latest color combinations. With or without belt. Same easy terms.
Ladies' Clothing
Never have we had such a complete line as this season, and never were we paid so much attention to this department. We have a big line in short coats, in latest styles, including chinchilla and Johnny coats. (The talk of New York.) Come in and see for yourself. $10 to $25.
REMEMBER
NO MONEY DOWN
ONE DOLLAR A WEEK
Open a Charge Account With Us Today
OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 9. SATURDAYS 11
NAVIN & KELLY CO.
757-759 Washington St.. BETWEEN ELIOT and HOLLIS STS.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S DAILY DOUBLE

Married Life---Third Year

By MABEL HERBERT URNER

No. 61—The Dawsons Invite Them for Dinner, but Are Not at Home When They Come.

"OH, I'm so sorry, but we can't—we're dining out tonight."

* * * "Isn't it too bad? I should love to go;" * * * "I don't know," doubtfully, "hold the phone—I'll ask him."

Warren was putting his pearl studs in a dress shirt when Helen ran in excitedly.

"Oh, dear, the Stevens have a box for the theatre for tonight! They want us to come—even if we can't get there until late. Could we?" eagerly.

"Certainly not," frowning at a finger mark on his shirt front. "Nice time to invite us."

"But the box was just given them this evening—they couldn't ask us sooner."

"Well, if we dine with the Dawsons, we'll spend the evening there. Don't think I'm going to rush off right after dinner, do you?"

"No, I suppose not," murmured Helen reluctantly, as she went back to the phone to tell Mrs. Stevens they could not go.

But Mrs. Stevens insisted that she would leave a couple of seats at the box office in case they could come.

"Now hurry up there," called Warren, as Helen went back to her dressing room. "Dawson said seven—we don't want to be late."

Mr. Dawson was a new business friend of Warren's, and while Helen and Mrs. Dawson had exchanged calls, this was their first dinner.

"You're not going to wear a hat?" demanded Warren, as a few moments later Helen came out drawing on her long gloves.

"Why, yes, dear; it's only a dinner. We needn't go so formally, need we?"

"Well, this is one of the places we're going to right. Take off that hat. I've ordered a taxi."

"A taxi! Oh, couldn't we have gone on a car?"

But Warren did not deign to answer this. Helen went back, took off her hat and threw a light scarf over her hair. She also changed her shoes for a pair of evening slippers, which she had thought too dressy for the subway. But since they were going in a cab, she might as well wear them. It was evident Warren wanted her to look as well as she could.

A moment later the taxicab was announced.

"It's too bad that everything should come in one night," murmured Helen, as they drove off. "That was the play I was so anxious to see and this is the last week."

More Important

"Well, it's a darn sight more important to dine with Dawson than go to any play. He's pulled off some mighty big deals lately, and if I can interest him in our company it'll mean a whole lot. While I think of it, he's got a fine collection of old pants—that's his hobby. He'll probably show them, so for Heaven's sake try to seem interested. Don't act like you did the other night when Wilson showed us those coins. By George, you looked bored to death."

"Why dear, I didn't!" indignantly. "Only I don't know anything about coins, and I thought it better to keep still than to make stupid comments."

"Don't know anything either," admitted Warren, "but I faked it, and you can too, if you want to."

This did not add to Helen's prospect of a pleasant evening. It was hard enough for her to dine with comparative strangers, but to feel that she must try to talk and pretend a knowledge of something about which she knew nothing, always terrified her.

The cab drew up before the imposing entrance of the apartment house. A uniformed hallman opened the door.

"Mr. and Mrs. Curtis to see Mr. Dawson." Warren announced briefly to the boy at the switchboard.

"Mr. Dawson is not in, sir," the boy informed them a moment later.

"Announce us to Mrs. Dawson, then," said Warren, curtly.

Another moment's wait and then the boy said, stolidly:

"Mr. and Mrs. Dawson have both gone out."

"Gone out!" murmured Helen, in amazement.

"Of course not," scoffed Warren. "That's a mistake. Now, you get this thing right," severely, to the boy. "I want you to announce Mr. and Mrs. Curtis to Mr. Dawson's apartment."

"Well, I had their maid on the wire," sullenly. "She says they're gone out to dinner. I'll ring her back; you can talk to her yourself.

Warren turned to a desk phone nearby and the boy connected him.

"Hello! Is this Mr. Dawson's apartment? Will you say that Mr. and Mrs. Curtis are here? What's that?" sharply. "What message did they leave?"

Helen was standing by, listening breathlessly. The maid's shrill voice carried beyond the phone, but she could not make out the words.

With a muttered exclamation Warren slammed up the receiver and strode toward the door. Helen followed, her heart in her throat. What could it mean?

Outside Warren stalked along, his face crimson with rage. Helen had almost to run to keep up beside him. A dozen breathless questions were whirling through her mind, but she dared not ask them. She was afraid to question him when he was in a mood like this.

They had gone almost two blocks before he spoke. Then he snarled savagely:

"Dawson will pay for this all right! I'll get square—just wait and see."

"But what did the maid say, dear?" breathed Helen.

"Say? What could she say, but that they'd gone out."

"And hadn't left any message?"

"Not a word."

"But maybe some one was ill and sent for them," suggested Helen soothingly, "an accident or something."

"Then why didn't they leave a message? No, nothing can excuse this."

"But, dear, where are we going?" Helen was hobbling along painfully in her thin high-heeled slippers.

"We're not going home—nothing to eat there. Where are we now?" for in his rage he had walked blindly on, not noticing where they went. "We'll take a taxi and go to some restaurant."

Another taxicab! But Helen did not dare protest. And when finally they were seated in an expensive restaurant, she could only look on silently, while Warren ordered an extravagant dinner. It seemed as though he was trying to soothe his wounded vanity by reckless expenditure. The obsequious attention a waiter always gives to a lavish order seemed also soothing.

The Dawsons There

Helen saw his savage frown gradually relax under the pacifying effects of the food and wine. At length she ventured timidly.

"Dear, couldn't we go to the theatre, after all? Mrs. Stevens said she'd leave the tickets at the box office in case we could come."

Warren glanced at his watch. "Suppose we might as well go there as anywhere."

The tickets, marked with their name, were at the box office. The curtain was up and the usher led them through the back of the darkened house to a box at the right of the stage.

As they entered Mr. and Mrs. Stevens rose with whispered greetings. Then to Helen's horror she realized that the two other people in the box were Mr. and Mrs. Dawson! Fortunately the theatre was so dark that her bewildered start and the expression of Warren's face was not noticed.

"So—so, we'll all back here," whispered Helen, intending to let Mrs. Stevens place their chairs in the front of the box.

Happily it was a long scene, and Helen had time to regain her poise.

"Act as though nothing had happened," she whispered pleadingly to Warren behind her program.

But he only growled a curt "Hush!"

At last the act was ended and the lights flared up.

"I'm so glad you could come," smiled Mrs. Dawson, turning cordially to Helen. "We hadn't hoped to see you before tomorrow evening!"

"Tomorrow evening!" gasped Helen.

Not Her Fault

"Why, yes; you haven't forgotten you're to dine with us?"

"Oh, no," broke in Warren heartily. "We're looking forward to that. And, by the way, Dawson, we drove by your place this evening. We were on our way uptown to a Bohemian club dinner and thought you and Mrs. Dawson might like to join us."

Helen bit her lips and bent lower over her program.

Warren had always said he stuck to the truth when he could—as it was not such a tax on the memory, but that when it was necessary he could "lie magnificently." And this was a sample of his art.

Whose mistake had it been—his or Mr. Dawson's? Helen knew if it had been Warren's he would probably not admit it. But, at least, the fault was not here, for Mr. Dawson had phoned the invitation to Warren himself. For once something had happened for which she could not be blamed!

American Women Have More Temperament, but Better Manners, Than Spanish, Says Mlle. Bori

Mlle. Lucrezia Bori, the young and beautiful soprano, who thinks thirty the ideal age for women.

By MARGARET HUBBARD AYER.

"DON'T say that I am twenty-three, make it twenty-four, and oh, how I wish I were thirty!" exclaimed that brilliant Spanish songbird, Mlle. Lucrezia Bori, and in dead earnest, too. .

Since saying this Mlle. Bori has made her debut at the Metropolitan, in New York, been seen, and conquered her audience, and the world knows that behind the vocal gifts which have brought her to the head of her profession in four years, she has real beauty and real youth.

"Why do you want to be thirty?" I inquired, still doubting my ears.

"Oh, I'm tired of stuvays being called too young," she replied, in quick, jerky French, with waving, humming-bird gestures of the hands, her animated brown eyes, which are set a little slating in her face, flashing with good humor and intelligence, and full of the quality called temperament.

The Ideal Age

"There are so many things I want to do and sing, and I am always being told, 'You are still too young,'" as if one had too much of leisure!" said the singer, Lucrezia Bori, and in dead earnest, too. .

Since saying this Mlle. Bori has made her debut at the Metropolitan, in New York, been seen, and conquered her audience, and the world knows that behind the vocal gifts which have brought her to the head of her profession in four years, she has real beauty and real youth.

"Why do you want to be thirty?" I inquired, still doubting my ears.

"Oh, I'm tired of stuvays being called too young," she replied, in quick, jerky French, with waving, humming-bird gestures of the hands, her animated brown eyes, which are set a little slating in her face, flashing with good humor and intelligence, and full of the quality called temperament.

The Ideal Age

"There are so many things I want to do and sing, and I am always being told, 'You are still too young,'" as if one had to wait for the years to learn things which one knows by instinct,"

MAGAZINE, COMIC AND FICTION PAGE

Us Boys

Skinny Is Still a Tough Guy

Registered United States Patent Office

By Tom McNamara

NOW IS YOU GOT THE IDEA AKO ?
YES SIR.
WELL WHAT IS IT ?
I GOES AND FINDS SKINNY SHAUER. AND I KEEPS HIM CHEWIN DE MOP SO'S YOU CAN SNEAK UP BEHIND HIM AND SURPRISE HIM THEN I DUCKS ME FREIGHT
THAT'S THE STUFF YOU KNOW WHAT TO DO. NOW GET ON THE JOB AND BE AS SLY FOX
YES SIR.
HEY WHAT'S THIS HERE STUFF I HEAR ABOUT YOU BEIN' A TOUGH MUG ?
THAT'S ME KID I'M SO TOUGH I DON'T LIKE MYSELF
GEE AKO'S DOIN GREAT!
SKINNY SHAVER STILL ON THE WAR PATH LOOKING FOR SHRIMP FLYNN
HE IS GETTING SO TOUGH THAT HE FORGOT HIMSELF LAST NIGHT AND WALKED INTO HIS HOUSE WITH HIS COAT COLLAR TURNED UP AND HIS HANDS IN HIS POCKETS AND CAME PRETTY NEAR NOT CRYING WHEN HIS MOTHER BOXED HIS EARS
I HEAR YOU IS LOOKIN FOR SHRIMP FLYNN I WANT CHA GOIN TO DO WITH HIM WHEN YA GRAB HIM
JUST LEMME SEE HIM FOR A MINUTE OR TWO AND I'LL SHOW YOU WHAT I'LL DO AT HIM!
GUESS I'LL KNOCK HIS LID OFF
HAR! HAR! HAR.
WHO DONE THAT ?
NOW AS SOON AS HE TURNS AROUND I'LL LET FLY RIGHT AT HIS NOSE GEE HE'LL BE SURPRISED!
I KNOW WHAT YOU'RE TRYIN' TO DO-YOU'RE TRYIN' TO KID ME AIN'T CHA ? WAIT TILL I GET HOLD OF YOU !
GOSH HANG IT. HE DIDN'T TURN!
THERE'S NO USE WALLOPIN' HIM IF HE SEES ME FIRST I WANT TO SURPRISE HIM-GUESS I'LL HADE TO WAIT TILL TOMORROW
SHRIMP FLYNN AFTER A FEW DAYS RETIREMENT HAS BEEN SEEN AROUND THE NEIGHBORHOOD AGAIN. ALTHOUH HE HAS HEARD OF SKINNYS THREATS AGAINST HIM HE SHOWS NO SIGNS OF IERIOUSNESS
SEE TOMORROWS PAPER
TOM McNAMARA

Troubles of a Bride-Elect

"FOR mercy's sake!" cried the girl in the new Fall suit, "when did you get the clothes? I never saw the last ship get in from Paris! Where did you get the clothes? I never saw anything so gorgeous in all my life! Your hat is a dream, and that veil is another. You are a marvel! What for, especially?"

The other young woman smiled complacently. "Do I strike you that way?" she inquired, in gratified tones. "Then I must be all right, for that is precisely the effect I intended to produce. If it had been a shade less I should have considered my toilet a failure! I wanted to make it impossible for any one to think of me as anything but the most fashionable thing on earth!"

"Well, you've done it!" declared the girl in the new Fall suit. "Why?"

"You know," explained the gorgeously apparelled one, "that Harry's family had never met me before we were engaged. They lived miles away across town. After we were engaged Harry said they were all coming to call on me. Naturally I was anxious to make a good impression."

"Well, that was easy," said her friend. "It never is what one would call hard work to look at you!"

"Wait!" said the fashionable one in hollow tones. "For two weeks I went around from breakfast time till the lights were out at night, so dressed up that nobody dreamed of asking me to dust the living room, as usual, or do anything but ornament the place. Then a bushel of tomatoes came the day mother had to go to luncheon. 'Go on,' I told her, heroically, 'I will make the chili sauce and the catsup!'

"We never leave such things to the cook. In fact, to get rid of the cook I told her to take an afternoon off, so that I would have a clear field in the kitchen. I suppose there are wonderful individuals who can work up a bushel of tomatoes while attired in a neat blue serge with white collar and cuffs, like the angelic creature we see in the pictures, and emerge unruffled.

"But when I tackle anything like tomatoes, I get into it up to my elbows. There was a tomato on the wall, and tomatoes spattered in my hair and over my face and my apron was a sight.

"Everything on the stove started boiling at once and I was hot and flustered when the bell rang.

"'Let it ring!' said I to myself. It rang again. You know there is something inhumanly human and personal about a doorbell that you aren't answering. It seems so accusing and reproachful. Just as I said for the fourth time 'Let it ring,' I dropped a preserving pan spoon splash into the catsup and rushed madly to the door.

"I had remembered that the dressmaker was to send home my dress that afternoon for the dance that night. I wrenched open the front door to catch the figure descending the steps.

"Oh, yes, it was Harry's mother, dear. It couldn't have been anyone else on earth, you know. There she stood gazing at her daughter-in-law-elect, who resembled at that moment a cross between an inebriated cook and a squashed tomato. Harry's mother is one of those neat, perfect women, to whom a hair out of place is a perfectly unexplainable phenomenon. I know she burst into tears at son's fate the instant she withdrew from my presence. And the tomato catsup all burned up while I was sitting in the best parlor chair smearing it with tomatoes and acting as though I was quite happy.

"The men came to clean out the furnace the other day, and mother and I took the same time to clean the storeroom. You know what a storeroom does to you—it puts cobwebs in your hair and grimes you with dust, and you get soot on your nose and wear the gown that is worse than your worst one. When the bell rang this time—it being the maid's day out—mother said, 'Oh, bother! That must be Mrs. Phipps for the sewing society stuff! Do run up and hand her the bundle I left in the front hall!'

"I ran, incidentally tumbling over the furnace man's litter and putting my hands into a basket of soot and ashes, which I dusted off my apron as I went. Yes, it was Harry's married sister, who takes two hours every day to dress and hyphenates her name.

"I will say nothing of the day Harry introduced me to a cousin of his whom we met by chance, and when it had been raining and I had no umbrella. You know what my hair looks like when it gets damp—exactly like straggly shoe laces!

"Now will I mention the time I met Harry's younger sister. It was in a beauty parlor, where I had my hair pulled back from my countenance and cold cream all over my face. Are you able to imagine me smiling in a self-possessed way and saying, 'So glad to meet you, at last'?

"Well—I am now waiting for the taxi which is to bear me in all my present splendor to make a round of calls on mother, married sister, younger sister and cousin. Do you blame me?"

"Mercy, no!" said her friend: "But I am sure the taxi will go to smash and hurl you into a mud puddle in front of Harry's mother's house."

Up-to-Date Jokes

"Who was that seedy individual I saw you give half a dollar to?"

"An old literary friend of mine; author of 'Ten Thousand Ways of Making Money.'"

* * *

Wigwag—I never know such a fellow as Blokes. He is always looking for trouble.

Henpecke—Then why doesn't he get married?

* * *

The Tenant—That collar I rented off you is full of rats.

Landlord—Great goodness, man! What do you expect for $5 a week—white mice?

* * *

A banker, having a bald head, was in the habit of wearing his hat during business hours. Every week a negro workman on the railway presented a check for his wages, and one day as he put his money away in a greasy wallet the banker said to him:

"Look here, Moses, why don't you let some of that money stay in bank and earn interest for you?"

"Oh, no, boss," replied the darkey, with a glance at the banker's pate. "I'je jes afeard. You look like you was always ready to start off somewhere!"

* * *

Fuddle—You know Stocks, don't you?

Docto —Yes, indeed. He is now a patient of mine.

Fuddle—Pretty widewake man, isn't he?

Doctor—I should say so. I'm treating him for insomnia.

* * *

"Isn't your son rather young to join the army?" said a recruiting sergeant to an old lady, who brought a boy of fourteen to him to enlist.

"Why, no," she replied. "You see, I want him to join the infantry."

Recovered From Severe Lung Trouble

While we all know that plenty of fresh air and good food are necessary to nurse suffering from lung trouble, something more is needed to bring about full health. Eckman's Alterative is a medicine for throat and lung troubles, and so many reports have been received showing that it brought about good results in a number of cases which were declared hopeless, that all sufferers who are not benefiting otherwise should at least investigate what it has done for others. It may be the means of restoring you health. Investigate this case:

Madison Lake, Minn.

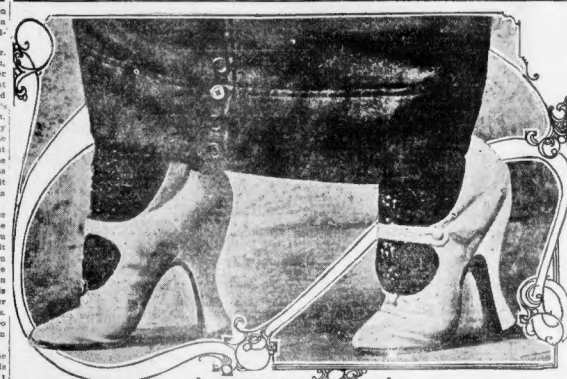
"Gentlemen:—In December, 1908, and March, 1909, I was taken with severe coughs of the lungs which confined me to severe attacks, each time to my bed. These left me very weak and I coughed at night and could not sleep. My appetite also failed me. My doctor advised me to go West. So, in September, 1909, I planned to go, but I had four more hemorrhages, which put me in bed for three weeks.

"In October I started for Denver, Colo. After my arrival I met Michael Brody, who, upon learning of my condition, urged me to take Eckman's Alterative. In about two months I began to feel better. I kept on taking the medicine and improved fast. In March, 1910, I returned home. I think I am entirely well, have a good appetite and sleep well. When I left Denver my weight was 150 pounds. I now weigh 185, my normal weight. I thank God and Eckman's Alterative for my health. If you can help any other person suffering from Tuberculosis, I will gladly do so."

(Sworn Affidavit) PAUL L. FABNACHT.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all Riker-Jaynes stores, Houghton & Dutton Drug Dept., and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

Would You Wear Shoes Like These?



Fashions in feminine gait and modes of progression change with the styles of clothes. The illustration shows a woman walking in shoes with a heel six inches high. If such a shoe were worn the wearer would have to walk on her toes.

BROADWAY JONES

'A Thrilling Story of "The Great White Way," based on George M. Cohan's play now running in New York

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

(Copyright, 1912, by George M. Cohan.)

By BERTRAND BABCOCK

PART IV.

Broadway Encounters the Mystery of Woman

THERE was a light in every window of the old "Jones Manor" at the topmost elevation of "the hill," and within the rooms, which had not been opened since the going abroad of Broadway's uncle, reflected young and lively life. For, three weeks after the refusal of Broadway to go to the trust, he was getting his first dinner party. His guests were the Judge and his wife, Clara and Bob, of course, and Sammy and—Josie.

The affair had been entirely the result of a sudden thought on the part of Broadway. The Grand Hotel had reduced him to a loathing of food instead of an appetite, and he had felt that he could no longer impose upon the hospitality of Mrs. Spotswood, freely as it had been offered.

He had been with Josie upon a walk late that afternoon and the idea had suddenly occurred to him, as most of his ideas did. It would be a lark, the rather sedate girl had exclaimed, though she and Broadway both knew in their inner souls that it would be something more.

For Broadway had spent every moment of that three weeks that he decently could, without neglecting his newly found business ambitions, with Josie. In this he had been favored by a chance meeting on the outskirts of the village. Broadway had not been backward in suggesting at the beginning of the three weeks' period that Josie and he go on walks or other innocent village amusements, but the girl had excused herself as standby with a multitude of small pretexts. She had to go to a "class meeting," or the Girls' Vacation Club was meeting, or there was to be a gathering of the wives and children of some of the employes. Broadway, it is true, did promptly agree to escort her, but he was made to see, in the kindliest manner possible, that the girls or the mothers, as the case might be, would not feel at their ease if they knew their employer was near.

Her Distant Attitude

But fortune favored Broadway, as has been said, and one day in "the suburbs of Jonesville," as he termed the few outlying parts of the village, he had met Josie with a basket on her arm.

"Well, well, well," he had exclaimed, "you shall not escape me this time. What have you in this basket?"

Josie smiled in that distant and yet friendly fashion that had come to her since Broadway had settled the future of the town by declining to be absorbed by the trust.

As Broadway noted that smile he forgot about his inquiry.

"Oh, I say, Miss Richards," he exclaimed, "I don't like that smile. It isn't half as becoming as the other—that one—where you seemed to be—er—willing to admit that a fellow's on earth. Perhaps he hasn't any right to be—but you know—"

And her perfectly blank look, which was her only answer, real pain came into the face of Jackson.

"Well, I suppose I don't amount to anything," he said slowly, "and that the meanest boy in the plant is really producing more than I am. He's more of a factor of production than I am."

"Production," repeated Josie. "Where did you get those terms?"

"Oh," said Broadway, ingenuously, "I've been reading up on political economy." He saw almost disdain on the girl's mobile face. "Really, I have. It came to me that a man in charge of a big business, no matter how much of a fool he was, was really only a sort of agent of the people who work in it and an agent of the world in general. He's their 'boss,' but he's also their deity. And I mean to make good both as a boss and a deity. But I'm such a fool—I'm sort of walking along in the dark."

Broadway Progresses

Broadway turned and looked out over the landscape, a curious mist before his eyes. Then a wonderful thing happened. He distinctly felt a touch upon his arm, almost a caress of an intangible spirit—a tenderness that hovered in the air a moment over him and then disappeared—and that manifested itself by a pressure upon his arm and then was gone. Had she touched his arm? Or was he dreaming?

But her hands seemingly had not left their place upon her basket. Her eyes were friendly and there was a friendly smile upon her lips—not the old smile—nor yet the distant one—but one that might promise a future of some sort. No, she had not given that slight stroke, but her cheeks were pink.

"You asked what was in my basket," the girl said. "Look."

She smiled again that friendly smile and laid back the bit of shawl that had covered the basket. Nestling in a bed of straw he saw—several dozen—eggs! They were plainly country eggs and barely from the nests of their origin. At any other time Broadway Jones would have laughed long and loud at this termination to the romance when the angel of tenderness seemed very near to him. But this Broadway did not.

An Inherited Memory

The eggs affected him curiously. An inherited memory from his long line of countrymen ancestors awoke in him. Those eggs, freshly clean, aroused to him the spirit of the wholesome countryside. They seemed to arouse in him an appreciation of the beauty and calm of lives where morn and noon were themselves—were as they seemed; where there was devotion, good faith, and that quality of personality that considers nothing of human interest a matter of indifference.

Broadway sighed.

"If I were even a hen, I'd be doing something for my country," he said with a mingling of simplicity and the complex that designed the call.

"I buy them from Mrs. Andrews," she said, "because it helps her. Her husband is ill and her little boy was killed in the plant last year."

Broadway stood struck dumb. In the new mood in which he found himself, the awakening of responsibility and of the deeper forces of character that had lain dormant in him for so long, he found that he could say nothing to this girl. Here was she, a slenderly paid employe, taking upon herself the obligations that he himself should have met. One of his employes was actually buying eggs that there might be less suffering in the world. But why should he call her way inadequate? She was doing more, at least, than he.

"I'll buy the eggs after this," he said, onging' to tell her that Mrs. Andrews should have anything she wanted and needed from him hereafter.

Josie's Invitation

Josie smiled happily down upon her eggs.

"I sell them to several good customers," she said simply.

"You sell them!" exclaimed Jackson.

"That has been one of my problems," she said, "not to do anything to hurt their self-respect or pauperize them and yet I wanted them to have them."

"And what do you do with the five cents?" he asked.

"Oh, it goes into the library fund of the Girls' Club," she said.

With her basket covered again the girl turned to go. Then, seeing the dejection in the face of Jackson and his hesitation, too, she said:

"You may walk with me if you care to."

Her manner was that of a queen—one of those rare queens whose memoirs show a simplicity of feeling and a friendliness out of all proportion to the understanding of the snob.

A thoughtful Jackson Jones fell into step with Josie and carried her eggs down to the country lane. Broadway did not even think of the contrast between the present Broadway Jones and the Broadway of but a little while ago. If the meticulous Mrs. Pressbey had seen him she would have commented:

"He carries a jag down Broadway and now see him on that country road carrying eggs."

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

Suspicions

A plumber went to the house of a wealthy stockbroker to make repairs. He was taken by the butler into the dining room, and was beginning his work when the lady of the house entered. "John," said she, with a suspicious glance toward the plumber, "remove the silver from the sideboard at once and lock it up." But the man of lead was in no wise disconcerted. "Tom," he said to his assistant, "take my watch and chain to my missus at once."

Household Hints

Mothers and nurses will find this an excellent drink for the nursery. Besides being a refreshing beverage, prune water possesses aperient properties. Cut open about a quarter of a pound of prunes and remove the stones. Put the fruit into a saucepan with three breakfast cupfuls of water and the thin rind of half a lemon. Cover and boil gently for thirty minutes. Now add the juice of the lemon and sugar sufficient to sweeten. Strain, and when cold it is ready for use.

To keep flatirons clean and smooth is somewhat of a worry to busy housewives. A simple method is, at the finish of washing day, before emptying the water, to put in irons for some minutes, then take them out, scrub with a little soap, rinse and polish with soft dry cloth, when they will be found a pleasure to use. Done in this way each week will keep them beautifully in order.

When a pipe from a lavatory basin or bath becomes clogged with soap, mix a handful of soda and a handful of common salt together and force it down into the pipe. Leave this for half an hour, then pour down a large kettleful of boiling water, afterward rinsing the pipe thoroughly with warm water.

When a saucepan smells after cooking fish, onions or cabbage in it, and you cannot get it free from the disagreeable odor, wrap a lot of newspaper in the fire and turn the saucepan over this. The fumes from the burning paper will cleanse the saucepan in a few seconds.

Your Daughter's Wedding Outfit

can include a superb chest of glittering silverware. Dozens of rich, heavy, life-lasting knives, forks, spoons—everything for setting the table in the latest fashion. Each piece guaranteed 25 years.

Get Rogers Silver with Your

Send us the center panels cut from the wrappers around your cakes of Welcome Soap — they bring you famous Rogers silverware. Guaranteed 25 years. Standard AA silver plate. Made in our beautiful, exclusive Welcome design.

You always like Welcome Soap. It makes the bath so easy on wash day.

It keeps the skin soft, smooth and white.

It washes the clothes sweet and clean.

This magic teaspoon will show you the purity and quality of Welcome Silverware. Each piece stamped Rogers. For this handsome Welcome teaspoon, send 6 center panels cut from your Welcome Soap wrappers, and 11 cents in stamps. We will forward the spoon at once together with our full premium list.

Address "Welcome" Lever Brothers Co. Cambridge, Mass. (37)

This is an unnatural condition — a little rest each day and Scott's Emulsion after every meal gives nature the material to restore strength.

Scott's Emulsion is a strength-building, curative food and tonic to overcome weakness and fatigue—contains no alcohol or drug.

It doesn't stupefy the nerves, it feeds them.

Expectant and nursing mothers always need Scott's Emulsion.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 12-78

MELLEN DENIES "DEAL" IS OFF

Continued from First Page.

posed traffic agreement as affecting rail-road rates in New England. This evidence will be placed in the hands of the Department of Justice at Washington.

Chairman Fred J. Macleod and George W. Bishop of the Massachusetts Railroad Commission are in Washington today with Governor Pothier of Rhode Island and members of the Public Utilities Board of that State, to confer with President Taft about the relations between the New Haven and Grand Trunk railroads when the President arrives from New York.

The federal investigation officially starts today. United States Attorney-General Wikersham having ordered all of the United States district attorneys in New England, except Maine, to co-operate under the direction of A. Bruce Bullaski, the head chief of the Department of Justice.

Providence to Appeal.

At Providence an investigation of the Grand Trunk deal by the municipal government of that city, and a proposed appeal by the Commonwealth for investigation by the Fuju Money Trust Committee of Congress are pending.

President Mellen of the New Haven declared that federal investigation into the agreement between his road and the Grand Trunk would not have the slightest effect on the relations between the two railroads. The declaration was made in denial of a story printed in the Providence Journal. Mr. Mellen said:

"I have been made acquainted with a new series of stories relating to an alleged directors' meeting said to have been held in New York last Friday, at which it is alleged, it was decided to break off completely all relations and negotiations between the Grand Trunk and New Haven road.

Unmitigated Falsehoods.

"Let me say now once and for all that such stories are unmitigated falsehoods.

"Negotiations have been opened between the New Haven and the Grand Trunk looking to better traffic agreements. There is every prospect of their being brought to a successful conclusion.

GOVERNMENT INQUIRY INTO NEW HAVEN WRECKS

Continued from First Page.

terday at Green's Farms, tore out spikes by hand from rails that had remained in place.

That this is no new condition of things on the stretch of roadbed that has been the scene of three wrecks recently, is a matter of record. After the Westport wreck, George E. Everett, a former employe of the line, for the benefit of the investigators at the scene of the wreck, pulled out spikes by hand. Then, to show that the spikes he had pulled were not a few that had been selected for his demonstration, he took an axe and split a tie, showing the rail-support a shell of decayed wood.

To Hold Mass Meeting.

The many wrecks on the road have provoked a storm of protest throughout Connecticut which culminated at Norwalk when the ministers of the city, backed by the Board of Trade, scathingly denounced the management of the railroad from the pulpits at services, and announced a mass meeting to be held in the State Armory Wednesday evening. Addresses of protest will be made and resolutions presented asking reformation in the management of the road. The resolutions will be submitted to the road, to the Utilities Commission and to Governor Baldwin.

The Rev. James Benton Warner, in speaking in Grace Episcopal Church, said he had been to the scene of the wreck of the Limited, and was convinced that a faulty roadbed caused it. He declared it was only the kindness of God that at least one-half the passengers on the train were not killed. He said that had the engine gone off the bridge as it had at Westport on October 3, it would have taken the train with it and the loss of life would have been appalling.

Coroner Phelan at Wreck.

Among those who visited the wreck soon after it occurred Saturday night was Coroner John Phelan of Bridgeport. In the week of October 3 he found the engineer who was killed was to blame, and the road also, the latter for its having permitted the roadbed to get into a deplorable condition.

Arriving at the wreck, he was told that no one had been killed, but he examined the condition of the road. Lengths of rails had been torn from the ties. The spikes had been torn out and the ties undisturbed.

The sightseers, while the coroner was there, pulled out spikes from the ties. The condition of the ties may be understood when it is explained that in order to pull a spike from a good, sound tie, it is necessary to have a patented spike removed that clutches the bond and gives a leverage that would tear a door from its hinges.

This condition of affairs will be brought to the attention of the assistant secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission when he arrives at Green's Farms today. He will meet Chairman Richard T. Higgins of th Connecticut Public Utilities Commission this morning.

L. C. C. Starts Probe.

Commissioner Higgins received the following telegram from Interstate Commerce Commissioner McChord:

Respecting the accident on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, to-Merchants' Limited at Green's Farms, it is impossible for me to leave Washington at this time. I am sending as my personal representative, Assistant Secretary Meredith, who will confer with a representative of your commission.

Also, the commission's inspectors, Howard, Swasey and Hawley are en route to Green's Farms.

Respecting accident on the same road at Putnam, Commissioner Clements, Brownlow, Duffy and Lyon are now en route to that point.

The New Haven issued this statement as to the cause of the derailment of the Merchants' Limited:

New Haven Statement.

The accident was caused by something giving way under the train and dropping it into a switch and derailing the train. The tracks were cleaned early today. All of the injured, with the exception of W. H. Barber of New York, have left the Bridgeport Hospital, where they were taken after the wreck. His condition is not serious.

That some of the officials of the road may be proceeded against legally in connection with the wreck was the impression of a representative of the Associated Press, and opinions of Prosecuting Attorney Judson and County Coroner John J. Phelan, State's Attorney Judson said:

I am going to prosecute the proper officials of the railroad upon Coroner Phelan's findings. The first steps will be taken by Grand Juror Harry W. Sherwood of Westport. He and I will confer next week and the preliminary action will be taken immediately.

The third wreck in two days, the freight wreck at Putnam, resulted in one death. Two freight trains came together in a rear end collision. George Gallagher, a signalman, is blamed for this wreck. He has disappeared, and the police are looking for him, while the wreckers are on the lookout for his body, on the chance that he was killed in the crash.

The man killed was Harry E. Brooks, head brakeman. The damage to rolling stock was about $125,000.

Twenty-One on Death List.

To date in the so-called "Death District," near Bridgeport, where the list of dead and injured has reached the figure of twenty-one dead and more than eighty-three injured in the four disasters since July 11, 1911. This does not include the wreck at South Boston on August 8, last, in which five were killed and many others terribly injured, nor does it include the fatal Putnam wreck, nor many other disasters throughout New England.

Out of numerous wrecks on the New Haven, a report has been made in but one instance—that of October 3. This report was returned by Coroner John J. Phelan of Bridgeport, just twenty-four hours before the two disasters of Saturday afternoon and evening.

These plain facts have proved appalling to thousands of people throughout New England today—in fact, to the entire travelling public. The question being asked on all sides today was: "What is going to be done about it?"

No Reports Yet.

The reports on other wrecks, including the South Boston disaster of more than three months ago, are yet to be made. This fact, led to the voicing of protests today in which was emphasized the need of action by public officials to see that the wreck dangers are immediately lessened or eliminated entirely.

It was rectified by business men and railroad experts that during the Federal inquiry into the Fairfield wreck, several, the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company had been practically cured of having failed to comply with a recommendation by the Interstate Commerce Commission after the Bridgeport wreck of July 11, 1911.

The 1911 wreck cost fourteen lives.

The wreck of October 3 cost seven lives.

It was claimed that had the New Haven carried out the recommendation made more than a year ago, the second wreck would not have occurred.

Both disasters were due to cross-overs. The Interstate Commerce Commission urged a year ago that when such short cross-overs were to be taken, stop signals should be set again the oncoming train, and that the train should come to a standstill before the latter-day switch should be opened.

In two of the two wrecks Saturday, especially that of the splendid Merchants' Limited, known as one of the best trains in the country, the statements made by New Haven officials during the Federal investigation were recalled with added interest today. Henry Horn, vice-president of the New Haven road, who lives near that of President Mellen in the South Station, was asked by Commissioner McChord of the Interstate Commerce Commission why he had not complied with the commission's recommendation for safety at Bridgeport and all over the New Haven lines.

What Horn Said.

"We discussed it," Mr. Horn replied, "but decided that we would merely be substituting one kind of accident for another. It seems to us it is better to put all dependence on signals."

"When are you going to quit thinking and talking and do something?" Mr. Wetherd A. ed. "Your road has killed 50 or 25 people and injured a hundred in the last over accidents almost identical. When are you going to do something except conferr?"

"Our best thought is being given the subject," Mr. Horn replied, "if we but know which method is best."

"If you had followed our suggestion of a year ago this wreck would not have occurred, would it?" Commissioner McChord asked.

"No, but another accident might have happened," Mr. Horn replied, "and we have struck the work train on the straight track."

"But if the engineer had gone down a straight track he would have met a flagman and torpedoes, would he not?"

"If he ran past one signal he would have run past another."

Charles H. Morrison, signal engineer, also admitted under insistent questioning that the recent wreck would have been avoided had the road adopted the suggestion made by the commission after Bridgeport wreck.

"I believe that some day we must have automatic stops," said Morrison, "but there are no efficient ones to be had today. Besides, an automatic stop would have prevented the Westport wreck."

Railroad experts today declared that so long as such conditions continued, the risk of disaster always would be great. Additional safeguards demanded for the thousands making up New England's great travelling public. Several of the disasters have been similar, and in each has passed it has been recalled in a tragic manner the incidents of the wreck that preceded it.

BOSTON & EASTERN OFFICIAL DENIES RAILWAY IS BLOCKED

Representatives of the Boston & Eastern Electric Railway today denied a statement that the New Haven had succeeded in blocking the supply of power which is to build the new high speed electric line between Boston and Danvers.

"There is absolutely nothing in the report," said John H. Lloyd of the chief engineer of the Boston & Eastern. "Neither the New Haven nor anything else in the world, can stop us from building the road now.

"I don't know whether or not the New Haven interests have carried the fight against us to the extreme of trying to stop us from getting the money we need, but I know this, that we have the money and we are going to build.

"Further, lest anybody should think that there is any connection between the Grand Trunk and the Boston & Eastern, I want to state that there is absolutely no connection. The Boston & Eastern is being built by entirely different interests, and if the Grand Trunk is short on money to continue the work, we are not. No financial stringency affects us.

"Actual construction of the road will start within three months. The city will by outlay and the right of way, including the tunnel under Boston harbor and the construction of the underground terminus at Postoffice square will be completed within three years."

Whatever the Grand Trunk may do or not do about building in New England cannot affect to even remedy. I do not know whether there is truth in the reports that the New Haven carried its fight against the Grand Trunk to the extreme of stopping it from getting money for construction work, but I do not believe it has tried to do such a thing with us. I would not have known it, I feel sure. As my rule, it is certain that we will go on with the work.

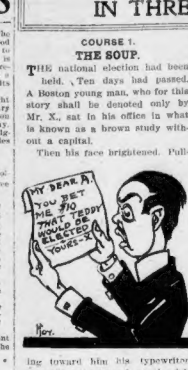
"We have made our right of way, and we have a clear road now."

AN ELECTION BET DINNER IN THREE COURSES

COURSE I.
THE SOUP.

THE national election had been held. Ten days had passed. A Boston young man, who for this story shall be denoted only by Mr. X, sat in his office in what is known as a brown study without a capital.

Then his face brightened. Pulling toward him his typewriter (machine) he tapped off the following note:



My Dear A——:

I see a memo in my notebook that you bet me $10 that Roosevelt would be elected. Well, old fellow, the returns appear to be in. Savez, ze we say in Boston?

Cordially yours,
X.

The young man took the letter from the typewriter and looked it over thoughtfully.

"I think that will answer," he soliloquized. "Now, I imagine that I shall have to send out just about twenty of those—that means at least forty cents for postage. However, it is worth it."

Then young Mr. X. proceeded to prepare twenty letters like the one quoted, with the exception that the amounts were not the same—some of the wagers were as small as $5 and others as large as $20.

The letters were stamped and mailed.

COURSE II.
THE ROAST.

YOUNG Mr. A—— sat at his breakfast trying to negotiate a trackage agreement with his appetite by means of a yellowish colored liquid in a thin-stemmed glass at the bottom of which reposed an olive.

Quite casually and carelessly he looked over his mail.

He read missive after missive and threw them aside. Suddenly he straightened up, after a sip of the drink, set the glass down, reread a letter in his hand and then rubbed his forehead in such a manner as he thought would cajole recollection.

"Um—m—m," he reflected. "So I bet on Roosevelt with X. Queer I don't recall it. Must have done it, though. He's a good fellow. Goe whizz, after this I'm going to make a memo of bets I make. Nothing to do but send him a check with apologies. Say, waiter, gimme a little more of this varnish and put a red olive in it."

At about the same hour another Boston young man was also looking over his mail. For the sake of this story—because a solemn promise has been made not to divulge real names—he shall be known as Mr. B——. He was chuckling.

"This is a good joke on X——," he murmured, enjoying it, "a bully joke. Says I bet him $5 on Roosevelt. He's got mixed. I was for Wilson. But I didn't bet on him. I'll phone X—— about this."

COURSE III.
THE CHEESE.

IT was near midnight and the sound of revelry properly subdued was heard in one of the Hub's best dining rooms. Music throbbed. Well dressed diners hummed the air of the melody played. Glasses clinked. Waiters glanced at the clock.

One table especially was marked by its jollity. The party consisted of ten young men. They had come to the cannonbort and coffee. One of them was our old friend, Mr. X. He was puffing a cigar, and alternately sipping from a glass that bubbled. One of the young men rose carefully to his feet.

"And now, gentlemen," he said, "I propose the health of our generous friend, Mr. X. Only for his sagacity—and for his segacity—and segacity we would not be here partaking of his liberal hush—liberal hospi—I should say liberal hospitality. (Good work old boy!)

"'Twas his mash—master mind that enabled him to pick the winner in the late Nash—the late National election, and thus separate from us individually a large amount of coin of the realm. Many happy returns of the cats!"

"Great applause.)

"Speech! Speech!" (This addressed to X. He rose gravely.)

"I thank you cordially, my friends. I have had a good time. It was a splendid dinner. But you are mistaken about my betting on the election. I never made an election bet in my life."

"What! Why—I—paid—you—

THE END (unquestedo)

(This from all of X.'s guests in a chorus.)

"Yes, I know you did," replied X. "You paid me just $90 and with the tip that I gave for this dinner. You—all—you boys ought to make a memo of your bets! I notice that the waiters are extinguishing the lights, gentlemen."

THE FINISH, BUT PROBABLY NOT THE END.

CARDINAL ACTS AT DEDICATION OF ST. AIDAN'S CHURCH

With Cardinal O'Connell officiating, the new St. Aidan's Church at Pleasant and Freeman streets, Brookline, was dedicated in the presence of nearly a thousand parishioners and their friends.

The Cardinal was attended by the Right Rev. Mgr. Edward J. Mackey, P. R., of St. Thomas' Church, Jamaica Plain, and the Right Rev. Mgr. P. J. Supple, D. D., pastor of St. John's Church, Roxbury, as chaplains, and William Dooley as gentleman of honor. Daniel Prendergast headed the procession with the thurifer, altar boys and acolytes.

Town officials who occupied pews were Public Printer Parker, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and Selectmen James F. Quinn, Walter J. Cusick, Payson Dana and Dr. Everett M. Booker, Town Treasurer George H. Worthley, Town Clerk Edward E. Baker, Superintendent of Forestry Daniel J. Lacy, and Assessors Daniel J. Dooley, Charles H. Stearns and C. S. Bowditch.

FLOATING HOSPITAL FIREMAN IS MISSING

The police have been asked to search for Alfred K. Preisler, a fireman on the Boston Floating Hospital, missing since last Friday. Chief Engineer Jesse B. Upton of the Floating Hospital has made a search to locate Preisler.

DR. JOHNSON SEES ASPECTS OF PAGAN CITIES IN BOSTON

"Some conditions in Boston remind me of those which history says prevailed in pagan cities," the Rev. Dr. Herbert S. Johnson declared at the Warren Avenue Baptist Church. "The disposition of the latest hotel tragedy to mutilate/prove to many citizens of Boston, that attention is called emphatically to the fact that we are supporting so-called 'second class' hotels in Boston which are doing ruining the moral character of young men and young women.

"I note Boston and recognize the unique position our city occupies in the country and the world, but truth compels me to tell of conditions here."

CASTLE SQUARE HOTEL
Tremont, Chandler and Berkeley Sts.
Special dinner, 75 cents, served daily 12 noon to 2 P.M. Tea or Iced Coffee in Cup, ½-dozen Cotuit or Blue Point Oysters, or Consomme, Little Neck Clams. Choice: Roast Young Spring Chicken, Grilled Saucer Steak, Sirloin or Prime Ribs of Corn-Fed Beef, Dish Gravy, Fried Onions, Mushrooms Sauce, Fried Hominy with Vermont Maple Syrup, Boiled, Mashed or Sweet Potatoes, Green Peas, Stewed Tomatoes, Lettuce Salad, Vanilla Ice Cream with Chocolate Sauce, Pie or Tea or Coffee or a Bottle of Mills Milk. Including a Bottle Seattle Sherry, Port, Claret, Sauterne, Budweiser.

Theatres.

COLONIAL THEATRE
Chas. Frohman & Wm. Harris, Lessees & Mgrs.
Nights at 8. Mats. Wed. & Sat., at 2
EXTRA MATINEE THANKSGIVING DAY
Secure Seats Early
ONLY 2 WEEKS MORE
Jos. M. Gaites Presents
KITTY GORDON IN THE ENCHANTRESS
Victor Herbert's Greatest Opera
N. Y. World

AT LAST! N.Y. WINTER GARDEN TONIGHT
THE PASSING SHOW of 1912
FIRST NIGHTERS! ASTONISHING REALISM
AT THE SHUBERT
Curtain at 8 Sharp

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE
Tonight at 8. Mats. Wed. and Sat. at 2
Extra Matinee Thanksgiving Day
CHARLES FROHMAN Presents
CHARLES CHERRY
In That Big Humor and Happiness Play
"PASSERS-BY"
By C. Haddon Chambers

ST. JAMES THEATRE
Broadway and Huntington Aves. Tel. B. B. 987
Mats. Daily. Reserved Seats, 25c, 50c, $1.
CHARLES COX, Mgr.
THE GREAT DIVIDE
Next Week—Father and the Boys

PARK HOUSE
Mats. Daily, 2:15. Nights, 8:15.
ROSE STAHL
IN KLEIN'S COMEDY DRAMA MAGGIE PEPPER

PLYMOUTH THEATRE
Tel. Oxford 2057
Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Thurs. & Sat. 2:15
MR. GEORGE ARLISS in the Comedy Success
ARLISS "Disraeli"

Castle Sq. Daily at 2:10 and 8:15
Tel. Tremont 353
Mr. John Craig Announces
Second and Last Week of MAGGIE X
Prices 25c, 50c, 75c
Down Seats Twenty Cents Higher
Next Week—Sweethearts

LOEW'S ORPHEUM
CONTINUOUS VAUDEVILLE
2:30 P.M. to 11:00 P.M.
WORLD'S GREATEST FEATURES
prices—10c, 15c, 25c.

GLOBE 10 A.M. to 11 P.M. Prices 5, 10-15c
10 ALL-STAR FEATURES VAUDEVILLE
Tomorrow Night—AMATEURS
Wed. and Fri.—COUNTRY STORE

NATIONAL NATIONAL to-day & Boston
BERNHARDT
In "THE JOAN OF ARC"
"THE HOME BREAKER."
The Most Sensational Picture Ever Made.
Matinee, 10, 25c. Eve., 10, 15, 25, 35c.

TREMONT TEMPLE Daily 2:30 & 7:45
Phone Tre. 1741
DURBAR | 25c & 50c
10 Wonderful Kinemacolor Pictures

GRAND OPERA HOUSE Original Burlesques. Ladies' daily matinee and seat to-day.
WALDRON'S CASINO Hanover Street Near Tremont Row
BEAUTY, YOUTH & FOLLY BURLESQUERS

Theatres.

HOWARD LID
AT THE OLD
When the Lights Are Low
Sung by Al Jolson in "The Whirl of Society"
Published by Ted Snyder Co., 112 W. 38th St., New York City
Professional Copies Free to Performers
Orchestrations, 10c
Band Parts, 10c
Vocal Copies, 10c
Postage Extra
Ted Snyder Co.
Zallah, Mgr.
ZALLAH'S BURLESQUE
Zallah

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE
SINGLE TICKET SALE NOW OPEN
Mgt. Chas. Frohman & Wm. Harris
Direction Hammerstein's Manhattan Opera Co.
Tonight at 8:15—Last Time
Verdi's Masterpiece
AIDA
Tomorrow Night—Last Time
Puccini's Masterpiece
MADAME BUTTERFLY
Wednesday Night—Last Time
Verdi's Masterpiece
RIGOLETTO
Thursday Night—Last Time
Verdi's Masterpiece
LA TRAVIATA
Friday Night—Last Time
Verdi's Masterpiece
IL TROVATORE
Saturday Night—Last Time
Verdi's Masterpiece
AIDA
Sunday Night—Last Time
Verdi's Masterpiece
RIGOLETTO
Prices—Evenings, $2.50 to $1.00
Matinees, $2.00 to $1.00
Seats Now Selling for Entire Engagement
Direction Hammerstein's Manhattan Opera Co.

MAJESTIC
Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15
Evgs. 8:15
Mat. Prices, 50c to $1.50
Evgs. 25c to $1.00
Last Week
THE MERRY WIDOW
THE FAMOUS MAXIM SUCCESS
"MERRY WIDOW" ORCHESTRA
NEXT WEEK—SEATS THURS.
THE MAID OF THE MOUSE
The Tremont Theatre Company
Direct from 6 Months in N.Y.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
The Comic Pantomimist of the College
DON, The Talking Dog
He Actually Speaks Like a Human Being
Joseph Hart's "An Opening Night" The Great Fitz Family
2 Other Big Features
—BIG VAUDEVILLE FEATURES—
Matinees 2 and 7:45

BOSTON THEATRE
Evenings 8:15
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Clifton Crawford
In a New Musical Play MY BEST GIRL
Seats for Thanksgiving Day

TREMONT THEATRE
Tonight at 8:15. Mat. Wednesday
HENRY MILLER
And His Superb New York Company in
THE RAINBOW

GAIETY BURLESQUE
Week St. Next Bowdoin
The BOWERY BURLESQUERS

Amusements.

NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT
SOUSA
Mechanics Building
Seat Sale at Klein's Drug Store
Washington and Essex Sts.
Tel. Oxford 2242
4000 RESERVED SEATS AT $1.00

Tours and Travels.

NEW YORK 240
VIA RAIL AND BOAT
BAY STATE LINE
OUTSIDE STATEROOMS, $2.00
Steel Steamships
GEORGES and NANTUCKET
Daily, including Sunday—improved service.
Telephone, Main 3744
Home Office 214 Washington st., Boston.

To New York $2.50
Via Rail and Boat. Daily and Sunday.
COLONIAL LINE 260 Washington St.

Before the Theatre Dine With Me
DuPont Of Paris
RESTAURATEUR
40 West, Cor. Tremont St.
A La Carte or Table d'Hote, With Music 5:30 to 7
THE MOST BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED AND BEST SERVICED RESTAURANT IN BOSTON
LUNCHEON, 11-3 AFTERNOON TEA 3-5

Winners
OF THE
$1,545.00
Extra Cash Prizes
AND THE FIRST
Vote Standing
IN THE AMERICAN'S
$40,000 Contest
WILL BE PRINTED IN NEXT SUNDAY'S AMERICAN

NOTICE: Watch for a special announcement by the Contest Editor of vital interest to every candidate in Next Sunday's American.

RHEUMATISM RELIEVED.
Results reported from Elixir of Almond's Anti-Rheumatic Remedy are very satisfactory. Bulletin gratis. 25 St.

15 M'NAMARA CASE WITNESSES TO AID BOMB PROSECUTION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 18.—Fifteen Californians who have had dealings with James J. McNamara and who were to have testified at his trial, had he not pleaded guilty, were in court here today to testify for the government in the dynamite conspiracy trial involving forty-five labor leaders.

The witnesses were subpoened in connection with the government's charges that Olaf T. Tveitmoe and Eugene Clancy, San Francisco labor leaders, knew of McNamara's purpose in going to the Pacific coast.

Arthur L. Veitch, deputy district attorney of Los Angeles County, who assisted in the county prosecution and Oscar Lawler, assistant to the attorney-general, who had charge of the cases which resulted in the bringing of federal indictments in California, are to testify.

Orie McKinzie will be recalled to the stand later and tell more of the dynamiters' secrets.

DEATHS

Rates for Death Notices in this column 50 cents for each insertion. Lease notice at AMERICAN CENTRAL OFFICE, 5 Winthrop square, or call 53 Tudor, 5180 Main.

ANDREW—In Brookline, Nov. 16, at his late residence, 1888 Beacon st., Arthur R. Andrews.

Funeral services at the chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Interment private.

BAINBRIDGE—In Carnegie, Pa., by accident, Nov. 14, Lieut. Commander Chandler Hazlehurst Bainbridge, U. S. N.

Interment at Walnut Hill Cemetery, Brookline.

BAKER—At Allston, Nov. 17, Ada Lillian, wife of Frank Baker, aged 47 years.

Funeral services at her late residence, on Cambridge st., Allston, Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 2 p. m. Sharonville, P. E. I., papers please copy.

BEALE—Suddenly, at Hotel Touraine, Nov. 16, widow of Bryan V. Beale, formerly of West Quincy.

Funeral from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Ida Kelleher, 15 Dana st., Somerville, Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 9:45 a. m. Requiem high mass at St. Joseph's R. C. Church, West Somerville, at 10. Burial in Holy Cross Cemetery. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to be present.

BENNETT—In Roxbury, Nov. 17, Gertrude Louise, daughter of George W. and the late Mary A. Bennett, aged 19 yrs. 9 mos.

Funeral from her late residence, 3 Derby place, Tuesday, at 8:30 a. m. Requiem mass at St. Philip's Church, Harrison avenue, at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

CLARK—In West Somerville, Nov. 16, Florence Ryan, daughter of Charles E. and Addie Ryan Clark, aged 1 yr. 2 mos. 16 ds.

Funeral service at parents' residence, 11 Chestnut road, Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 10 a. m. Burial at Amherst, Mass.

COOK—In this city, Nov. 15, Helen L., wife of the late James Cook.

CUSHING—In Brookline, Nov. 17, David W. Cushing, aged 71 yrs. 9 mos.

Funeral from his late residence, 54 Abbotsford road, Thursday, Nov. 19, at 2 p. m. Kindly omit flowers.

DANIELS—In Dorchester, Nov. 17, John T. Daniels.

Funeral from No. 3 Aspinwall road, Wednesday, at 2:30 p. m.

DRISCOLL—In this city, Nov. 17, Daniel, beloved husband of Ellen T. Driscoll (nee Lacy).

Notice of funeral from the residence, 20 East Dedham street, on Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 8:30 a. m., thence to the church of the Immaculate Conception, Washington square, at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

EATON—At South Boston, Nov. 16, Ilona Eaton, formerly of Somerville, aged 19 yrs. Services at Funeral Parlors, 1400 Dorchester ave., Boston, Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 2 p. m. Interment private.

FAIR—In Hingham, Mass., aged 25 yrs., daughter of William W. and Margaret A. Fair (nee Dunn).

Services Tuesday, at 10 a. m., from St. Paul's Church.

GARTY—Nov. 16, Margaret, the beloved wife of the late Thomas H. Garty, aged 70 yrs.

Funeral from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John Sullivan, 30 Elmwood street, North Cambridge, Monday, Nov. 18, at 7:30. Solemn requiem high mass at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Malden, at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends are invited to attend. Malden papers please copy.

GODMAN—In this city, Nov. 16, Bertha Corbin, wife of Fred L. Godman.

Funeral from her late residence, No. 63 Charles street, Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 2 p. m. Private funeral services at Second Unitarian Church, Allen street, Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment private.

LITTLE—In Boston, Augustus H. B. Little, aged 75 yrs., husband of Nicholas and Elizabeth Howe Little.

Funeral notice later.

MASKELL—In Newton, Nov. 17, Stephen Jay, husband of Sarah Maria Maskell (nee Bell). Late member of Ninth Regiment, Veteran Association.

Funeral from his late residence, 20 East Adams street, Wednesday morning, at 9:30. Solemn High Mass at the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Roxbury, at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Kindly omit flowers.

MATHEWS—At Newton Centre, Nov. 16, Jonathan Bennett Mathews, aged 78 yrs.

Funeral services at the home of his son-in-law, Henry C. Wood, 1 Hawthorn street, Newton Centre, on Monday, Nov. 18, at 2 p. m. Portsmouth, N. H., papers please copy.

MCAL—Y—In Boston, Nov. 15, Abigail T. Mcal—y, late widow of Malachy Mcal—y, Marlboro, and formerly of 159 Norfolk avenue, for many years an employe at the Lenox street stables of the Boston Elevated Railway.

Funeral from J. J. Good's undertaking parlors, 500 Dudley street, on Tuesday, at 8:30 a. m., thence to high mass at St. Patrick's Church at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited.

ORCUTT—In Brookline, Nov. 16, Laura Wells Orcutt.

Funeral from late residence, 60 Aspinwall road, Monday, Nov. 18, at 11 a. m. Interment in Newton.

OWEN—In Roxbury, Nov. 16, Anne, widow of Charles O. Owen, formerly of Dade County, Fla.

Funeral from her late residence, 179 St. Alphonsus street, Monday at 9:15 a. m., thence to high mass of requiem at the Mission Church at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Interment private.

PARKS—In Newton, Nov. 17, Thomas Conway Parks, son of the late Thomas Conway Parks and Ellen Conway Parks, aged 69 yrs.

Funeral from his late residence, 10 Benjamin street, Newton, on Monday, Nov. 18, at 8:30 a. m., thence to St. Bernard's Church, Newton, at 9 o'clock. Interment at Reading, Mass.

PUTCH—In Boston, Nov. 15, Abigail T. Richard Putch, aged 70 yrs.

Funeral services at the residence of her son-in-law, George E. Bowen, 1 Hawthorn street, Nov. 18, at 2 p. m. Interment at Reading, Mass.

TARBEY—In Florence, Italy, Nov. 16, Frank-lin Tarbey, in his 83d year.

UNCALLED FOR ANSWERS TO WANT ADS.

FOR WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, NOV. 16.

AT 80 SUMMER ST.

A—302, 364
B—220
C—193, 241
D—241
E—240
F—220
G—223, 241, 216
H—263, 269, 250
I—290, 277
J—241
K—240, 241
L—330
M—240, 241
N—215
O—300
P—302, 303, 309, 320
R—306
S—302, 306
T—302, 303
W—269, 254, 223.

264 WASHINGTON ST.

A—22, 79.
B—12.
C—16.
D—16, 21, 23, 42, 65.
E—16, 27, 31, 32, 33, 40, 46, 53, 65.
F—41, 44.
G—24.

Lost and Found.

15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

LOST—A gold chain, with pearls, gold pencil with sapphire slide. Liberal reward if returned to MRS. A. SHARING, 106 Mason terr., Brookline.

LOST—Saturday evening, between Adams st. and Blue Hill sy., a sable scarfe dog. Notify 93 Madison st., Somerville, or call 2845 Somerville.

FOUND—Some money, near So. Station. G 230 Boston American.

Male Help Wanted.

10c a line of 7 words. 20c display.

BRUSH BORERS.

WANTED—A brush borer; to a first-class workman we can offer the best job in New England. APPLY E. BURTON & SON, 1122 Harvard st., Cambridgeport.

BLACKSMITH—Foreman, wanted, one who has held executive positions in automobile work and is familiar with time system and cost system and a practical mechanic; excellent salary to the right man. Address AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVE COMPANY, Providence, R. I.

BRUSH MAKERS—Wanted, 100 experienced brush makers, all kinds in lines. Apply at MURPHY, LEAVENS & CO., 147 Washington st., Boston.

CANDY MAKER—Hard candy cutter. Apply to J. O. CHASE & CO., 33 Medford st., city.

ENGRAVING BOYS—Wanted; two bright American boys about 15 years old, for steady, $4.50 per week. Apply fourth floor, BOSTON AMERICAN.

FOREMAN—Wanted, foreman in bedspring room, one experienced in M-Key, standard screw and pegged work. Apply S 207, Boston American.

HELPERS—Experienced ornamental iron workers, helpers. GERSTAL IRON WORKS, 59 Pulaski st., Camb.

LASTERS—Wanted for hand work on slippers. Apply 83 High st., Boston.

MOURNING GOODS—Wanted, man to operate Fitz-Henry scouring and setting machine; steady work and good pay to right man. Apply to W. H. COUPE CO., LTD., South Attleboro, Mass.

STITCHER—Wanted, a first-class stitcher on gun's cases. Apply to FIELD, HOLLIS CO., Firth st., Chelsea.

TAILOR—Wanted, Apply to PARISIAN CLEANING & TAILORING CO., 238 Washington st., Brighton.

TAILORS—Wanted on narrow looms, also girls for winding; steady; wanting NEW HAMPSHIRE WORSTED MILLS, Somersworth, N. H.

YOUNG MAN—Wanted in hardware store, no Sunday work; references required. J. CURRIER, 504 Broadway, Chelsea.

Male Help—Miscellaneous.

15c a line of 7 words. 25c display.

Learn Automobile Driving
AND REPAIRING at the only practical and most successful school in Boston; REPAIR COURSE FREE to all during summer season or send stamp for particulars before going elsewhere.

BONNEY GREIG,
222 COLUMBUS AV.

200 Men Wanted This Week
TO LEARN to drive and repair automobiles in the shortest time and cheapest way. Call or send stamp for booklet. NEW ENGLAND AUTO SCHOOL, 24 Church Green, Boston.

Learn to Drive an Automobile
IN 6 lessons. MR. REID, 274 W. Newton st. The Modern Automobile School. Tel. 1700 Y. M. C. A. Auto School.

LIBERAL INDUCEMENTS FOR YOU—All Winter chance to work into automobiling, garaging, machine trade or metal manufacturing; wages, room, board, railroad ticket furnished to "21 Co-operative Engineering Society" Building, 1735 Washington st., Boston. 1000 OPEN JOBS.

MADE $50,000 in 2 years with a small mail order business; 1912 CATALOGUE, 5063 Lockport, N. Y.

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN and helpers are needed; 8 weeks' session vacuity, $80 to $100 monthly, then $150 to $200; instructions by mail; firing, promotion to engineer, conductor; railroad engineering instructors in charge for assistance to employment; state age; send stamp for application. RAILWAY ASSOCIATION, Dept. 5, 1 Beacon st., Boston, or 5 Monroe st., Brooklyn, N. Y.

LEARN moving picture operating; positions assured; good salary. MOORE AMUSEMENT CO., 178A Tremont st., Opp. Keith's Theatre.

MEN, WOMEN—Get government jobs, $20.00 week; examinations everywhere soon. Write for free list. FRANKLIN INSTITUTE, Dept. 145W, Rochester, N. Y.

MOVING PICTURE operators, no experience necessary; we teach you; SALARY $25 AGREED. Write Boston Theatre Supply Co., 8 Boylston st.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS WANTED—$800.00 month; long vacations; examinations soon; write for free list. FRANKLIN INSTITUTE, Dept. 145W, Rochester, N. Y.

RELIABLE married man operating

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN BOSTON NOVEMBER 18, 1912

BOSTON AMERICAN

50 AND 52 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, NOVEMBER 18, 1912.

Largest Circulation in New England, DAILY and SUNDAY.

Chamberlin? Ninety Chamberlins Could Not Hold Boston Back!

Boston Lost the Grand Trunk Extensions in New England When the Titanic Carried Down One of the Greatest Railroad Builders of His Time—Boston?—Boston Is Marching Straight On to Commercial and Industrial Supremacy, Because Boston Has the Men, the Means, the Position, EVERY ADVANTAGE, and Because Her Young Business Men Are Vigorous and United.

We now know that practically all hope of securing a new transcontinental railroad for Boston at this time passed out on the night of the fourteenth of April, last, at latitude 41.46, longitude 50.14, in the North Atlantic.

The great steamship Titanic carried many brave and noble Americans to their deaths in the ice-cold waters of the sea.

It carried down none braver and none nobler than CHARLES MELVILLE HAYS, PRESIDENT OF THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

And it carried down no man whose life promised more to the people and the industries of our New England, held tight in the grip of Morgan's Mellen monopoly of New England transportation on land and water.

Charles Melville Hays—native of Illinois—meant WELL by New England, as he meant WELL by Canada.

And just as we are certain that, in the long run, lying is unprofitable, deceit unprofitable, trickery unprofitable, and thimble-rigging unprofitable, in MAN OR CORPORATION, so we are certain that Canada has YET TO REALIZE—as New England has realized this week—how GREAT was her loss when C. M. HAYS was taken from her by the greatest marine disaster in history.

WE believed in Charles Melville Hays, just as YOU believed in him.

And we believed in VICE-PRESIDENT EARL HOPKINS FITZHUGH—native of Missouri—as THE LEGISLATORS OF TWO STATES BELIEVED IN HIM. A lifetime of honesty and honor was the proud and convincing pledge of Fitzhugh when scoffers questioned the integrity of his proposition.

But the blow of the Grand Trunk-New Haven "arrangement" is a blow merely to the RECENT HOPE of New England.

New England has "lost" SOMETHING THAT IT DID NOT HAVE.

The PEOPLE of New England are UNSCARRED.

If the disaster has left ANY scars, look for them on the REPUTATIONS OF TWO RAILROADS.

Boston prostrate!

Providence dead!

New England without hope!

NOT TO THE MAN WHO KNOWS NEW ENGLAND!

The ONE CERTAIN RESULT of this disappointment to Massachusetts and Rhode Island ought to be a firmer control by the States of ONE OF THE MOST HOGGISH TRANSPORTATION MONOPOLIES IN THE WORLD.

The sensational abandonment of the Southern New England Railroad project must be PROBED TO THE BOTTOM. The States will be SATISFIED WITH NOTHING LESS.

And IF iniquity shows its ugly head in this business, the national government and the people of New England will demand that the thimble-rigger be given his JUST DESERTS.

The fight against the transportation monster of New England is JUST BEGUN.

The power of the Massachusetts Railroad Commissioners has been RECOMMENDATORY long enough. The commission MUST have MANDATORY POWER. And the Legislature should AGAIN consider—and CONSIDER SERIOUSLY—the RAILROAD PENALTY ACT.

A WISE Governor knew—much better than those who smiled while he warned them—that the GREAT issue in Massachusetts is still the NEW HAVEN RAILROAD.

That wise and great Governor has been RETURNED TO BEACON HILL. He will again urge upon the Massachusetts Legislature the creation of a PUBLIC UTILITIES BOARD, to represent the Commonwealth—WITH POWER—in all its dealings with public service corporations.

THIS TIME an aroused public sentiment—an insulted Commonwealth—will be BEHIND THE GOVERNOR.

And IF monopoly can bulldoze or buy off competition, or IF we must be left to monopoly because of the money market—or "the weather"—we can at least REGULATE THAT MONOPOLY AS MONOPOLY HAS NOT HITHERTO BEEN REGULATED BY ANY OF THE EASTERN STATES OF THIS UNION.

An Ample Navy and a Merchant Marine

The appropriation for only one battleship by the Congress which adjourned in August last left the United States as low or lower than the fourth rank among the nations.

It will require at least three new dreadnoughts by the next Congress to return our country to its original place among the nations in naval strength.

There is every reason why Congress should view this great question in a larger and more patriotic light than it has heretofore.

The National Convention of the Democratic party has expressed a strong demand for an ample navy.

The President-elect has expressed himself strongly for an ample navy. The Republican minority is on voting record in favor of a greater navy.

And the AMERICAN has prosecuted a vigorous, insistent and untiring campaign for a naval equality, which has merited the thanks of the navy's friends everywhere, and which has had a powerful effect upon public opinion.

Why a Public Utilities Commission Is Needed Here

The Nearlyweds

By GEORGE M'MANUS

Copyright, 1912, by the National News Association

I WISH YOUR FATHER LIKED ME - JOSIE!
HE'S IN A GOOD HUMOR NOW - WHY DON'T YOU GO IN AND TALK TO HIM
NICE DAY TODAY ALL DAY!
WELL WHAT OF IT?
I'M LOOKING FORWARD TO THE DAY WHEN I WILL CALL YOUR DAUGHTER "WIFE"
CAN THAT CHATTER
!
?
GEE - HE HAS A NASTY DISPOSITION

VOTES OF COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS

Editor Boston AMERICAN:

Dear Sir—How many of our lawmakers ever give thought to the commercial travelers who were unable to vote for President at the recent election? I venture to say that I have thought if these commercial travelers could get a certificate from the proper official of their respective cities, stating they were residents of such cities, they could, through these certificates, be allowed to vote for President in whatever town they are in on election day.

Would it not be good policy to have a general law passed authorizing such commercial travellers the privilege of voting on Presidential elections on the terms as stated above, or in some other way, and so allow these votes to be counted?

Earners Have No Time to Be Lonesome

ONE HUNDRED WAYS TO EARN MONEY AT HOME, a 50-page booklet by Mabel Barclay Ury, will be sent postpaid to any address upon receipt of ten cents in stamps to cover cost of mailing and handling. Address Boston American Promotion Department, No. 5 Winthrop square, Boston.

By Mabel Barclay Ury

In this department has accomplished no other good, I shall never forget the tribute to the joy of standing on one's own feet and helping do, in whatever small way, the work of the world, contained in this letter from Mrs. A. H. Jackson of No. 176 Cambridge street, Boston. The occupation it tells of is not so unusual, perhaps, but the change it brought about in point of view (and I feel proud to think that Mrs. Jackson credits this change to the work I am doing here) contains a thought for every woman who is content to idle away her time while her husband carries the entire burden.

"A young woman I know," says Mrs. Jackson, "has helped to increase the family income in this way. As her husband is a traveling man, she is left alone most of the time, and used to spend quite a sum of money tasting in the matinees to pass her time away. But since your letters in the AMERICAN have appeared she has not only saved money but has forgotten how to be lonesome.

"Before marriage she did work coloring post cards. Now she has written to a firm, sending samples of her work, which resulted in their engaging her for $9 per week, which enables her to dress her two children and herself much better and also lay by a little for a rainy day."

Sofa Pillows and Head Rests.

The work which I have taken up is making sofa pillows and head rests and selling them to stores. I have some work from a firm in this city that makes medicated pillows. I have changed their plans until I think I have one that is more profitable and better suited to women who wish to make some money at home.

My smallest head rest sells to dry goods and drug stores at from 10 cents to 12 cents each, and costs me for complete pillow only 4 cents; the largest size, 18x18, costs me 12 cents and sells for 40 cents. Even the smallest ones can be sold at a profit to the 10-cent stores. In this way one can make quite a little.

MISS ELIZ. S. McGUERTY.
No. 10 Loring avenue, Winchester, Mass.

One dollar will be paid for every letter contributed by Boston AMERICAN readers, and used in the AMERICAN, containing ideas helpful to those WOMEN WHO WISH TO EARN MONEY AT HOME. This department is organized to help women help themselves. Please write on one side of the paper only and address MABEL BARCLAY URY, Boston AMERICAN.

Surgeons Can Now Reconstruct Human Body in Marvellous Way, Even Using Nails

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THERE was once a lunatic in an asylum for the insane who gravely assured his visitors that he was wearing the head of King Charles I. of England. He didn't like the king's head, and begged everybody to help him find his own again. Pathetically he described how, after the beheading of the king, somebody seized his (the madman's) head, gave it a twirl, twisted it off the top of the vertebral column, and then spun Charles's head on, like a nut, in its place.

One cannot help thinking of this lunatic's daydream while reading in the Cosmopolitan for December a most encouragegraied account of the marvels that modern surgery is performing with the human body. If the men who are now doing these things in their operating rooms had lived a few hundred years ago and had done them then they would probably have been drawn and quartered or burned at the stake as emissaries of Satan or practitioners of the black art.

The surgeons grow bolder every day and success seems to justify their apparent recklessness. Of course there is nothing really reckless about them. Their proceedings are guided by the finest results of the most profound science. They have found out that the body of a man is a machine that can to a great extent be taken apart and put together again as safely as one can remove, replace and substitute the various parts of an automobile. All that is needed is a perfect knowledge of its structure and a hand that can be trusted to cut within a thousandth of an inch. They can come within that distance of a man's life and leave it untouched and intact!

Sometimes their proceedings look to the layman as rough and ready as those of a carpenter. Think of having your broken bones fastened together with a sixteen-penny nail or with a number of ordinary wire nails driven in with a hammer! This feat has been performed again and again. Usually the nails are taken out after the bones have grown together, but occasionally a nail is left in place without harm.

The bones of a lower jaw have been removed and a jaw of silver put in their place, which works as well as if nature had made it. There are photographs to prove this if you doubt it.

If the surgeon cannot take off your head and put a better one in its place, he can practically make your skull with it. He can even repair the brain itself to a certain extent.

Many persons who were regarded by their acquaintances as "moral degenerates," or who suffered from paralysis or insanity, have had their skulls opened and obstructions removed with the result of making them sane, clear-headed and healthy. Like professional tamers who know how to deal with a vicious horse, modern surgeons have less and less fear of the brain and the heart the more they handle them. The life-principle will not kick up its heels and run away if it feels the hand of a master aiding it to throw off the incubus that has interfered with its proper functions. On the contrary, like the lion with a festering thorn in its paw, it will lick the hand that boldly, unhesitatingly relieves it.

Thousands of "stupid," backward children have been rendered as bright and active as their more fortunate fellows by surgical operations, for surgery has discovered that there are many stones in the stream of intelligence which obstruct the flow if they are not removed. When the bed is cleared the river runs straight. If your child seems weak-minded don't assume that it is really the mind that is at fault. Let a good surgeon look over its body in search of the actual defects.

Among the most wonderful of the recent achievements of surgery are the many cases of transplantation or "grafting." A student here has been able to see by cutting out the imperfect human cornea and putting that of a rabbit in its place. Grafting surfaces of skin to cover the ravages of disease or fire has become almost a common operation. Perhaps the time is not far distant, even, when new legs and arms may be obtained by grafting, for the thing has already been done with a dog. Dr. Lexer recently transplanted the entire hind leg of one dog to another dog with complete success.

In the article to which I refer you will find many strange suggestions based upon accomplished facts as to what may ultimately be done even with the bodies of the dead.

One thing almost ovation in its suggestiveness is the stimulating effect upon the mental powers produced by the transplantation of a piece of thyroid gland from the back of a young woman to the body of another who was mentally defective. The intelligence of the latter immediately took a leap upward! Apparently the surgeons are touching upon secrets that nature is not unwilling to have [illegible]